FOREWORD

In 1989 a reprint of the two volumes of Hara Prasād Śāstri's Catalogue of Palm-Leaf & Selected Paper MSS. Belonging to the Durbar Library, Nepal appeared as No. 1 of the Publications of the Nepal-German Manuscript Preservation Project. It also contained A Concordance of H. P. Śāstri's Catalogue of the Durbar Library and the Microfilms of the Nepal-German Manuscript Preservation Project, compiled by Dr. Reinhold Grünendahl. The reprint is hence directly connected with the NGMPP which was taken up in 1970 on the basis of an agreement between His Majesty's Government of Nepal and the German Oriental Society. The first volume of H. P. Śāstri's work includes a Historical Introduction specifically written for the Catalogue itself by Cecil Bendall, i.e. The HISTORY OF NEPAL and surrounding Kingdoms (1000–1600 A.D.) compiled chiefly from MSS. lately discovered. This is, as stated by Bendall himself, an improvement upon his "previous attempts to adjust Nepalese chronology by means of MS.-colophons". One of these attempts I should like to mention is his Catalogue of the Buddhist Sanskrit Manuscripts in the University Library, Cambridge, published at Cambridge itself in 1883, for it is this Catalogue that is now being reprinted and published as No. 2 of the Publications of the Nepal-German Manuscript Preservation Project. The reason for making it available again lies firstly in the fact that the information contained in the colophons of the MSS. belonging to this collection, viz. the Daniel Wright Collection, still retains the importance it had for the historian and philologist it had when it first appeared – something one can not easily say of Bendall's Historical Introduction or the introductory chapters of his Cambridge Catalogue; secondly, what justifies the reprint of the latter is simply that descriptions – of the high standard of Bendall's – of manuscripts of Nepalese origin, and in particular of old and important manuscripts like those of the collection at Cambridge, are now attracting more and more attention, and a major reason for this is the very activity of the NGMPP, it being but natural that scholars who are already using material microfilmed by the NGMPP, or plan to do so in future, should like to consult all the important catalogues of Nepalese MSS., even of collections in the possession of academic institutions outside Nepal. But it should also be mentioned that these older catalogues, and among them Bendall's too, will prove especially useful research tools for those who will be entrusted with the task of compiling a descriptive catalogue of all the MSS. and historical documents microfilmed by the NGMPP. For after completing its activity in Nepal itself this project will, in accordance with its original idea, publish only a Preliminary List of Titles of Manuscripts and Documents Microfilmed by the NGMPP (this is presently being compiled with the help of a PC), and it will be left to a second and new project to continue the work of the NGMPP by compiling a description of the individual MSS., etc. more or less detailed as the case may demand; and this work will of course again have to be carried out in close cooperation with Nepalese scholars and institutions.¹

I am particularly grateful to the authorities of the Cambridge University Press for their permission to reprint Bendall's Catalogue, to the Franz Steiner Verlag Stuttgart for having readily accepted my proposal, to Dr. H.-O. Feistel of the Oriental Department, Staatsbibliothek zu Berlin – Preußischer Kulturbesitz, for having kindly agreed to include the reprint in the series of supplementary volumes to the Verzeichnis der Orientalischen Handschriften in Deutschland and, last but not least, to Mr. G. Hoppen for his constant help and understanding.

¹ It is a real pity that Prof. Dr. K. L. Janert, one of the leading manuscriptologists among German Indologists, did not get in touch with me before writing the Nachwort he thought he could not help adding to his Indische Handschriften. Teil III. Generalregister B für II, 7–9, (VOHD II 11), Stuttgart 1991. For otherwise he could have saved himself the trouble of expressing his worries about the destiny of the "masses" of MSS. on microfilm "piling up in the stackroom in the basement in Berlin".

PREFACE.

THE present Catalogue describes the chief and most characteristic portion of a large number of MSS. collected by Dr Daniel Wright, now of St Andrew's, Fife, and formerly surgeon to the British Residency at Kathmandu, Nepal. They were received at Cambridge from time to time, as they were procured, from February 1873 to May 1876.

The first discovery of a large unexplored literature in Nepal was due to Mr Brian Houghton Hodgson, whose untiring zeal and well-used opportunities have enabled him to supply a greater quantity of material for the study of the literature and natural history of India and Tibet than any person before or since. After such achievements*, immortalized by the great work of Burnouf, it was but natural to hope that further material for research might still be forthcoming in the same country. Accordingly on the suggestion of Professor Cowell, Dr Wright was requested by Professor W. Wright to procure specimens of such copies as could be made to order from works still extant in Nepal. These specimens were sent, and form Add. 1042 (see below pp. 26, 27) in our collection.

Dr Wright however soon found that originals† were procurable, and the result of his energetic and persevering negotiation and the well-timed liberality of the University* has been the acquisition of a series of works which, apart from their literary interest, will be seen from the following pages to be from a merely antiquarian and palæographical point of view, the most important collection of Indian MSS. that has come into the hands of scholars.

† Mr Hodgson had obtained a few originals. Specimens of the more interesting are figured in the plates accompanying Cowell and Eggeling's Catalogue (R. A. S. Journ. New Ser. viii. 50).

Soon after the arrival of the MSS. Professor Cowell commenced descriptive work on a number of the earliest and most interesting of them, chiefly on the lines of the Catalogue prepared by himself and Dr Eggeling for the Royal Asiatic Society, but also adding some references to the bibliography of the subject. Professor Cowell's various engagements and studies unfortunately prevented him from giving the work any continuous attention. When therefore he suggested that I should endeavour to complete it, I commenced at first on the MSS. that he had left untouched, availing myself however of the material that he kindly made over to me.

As to the plan of my own work, it may be regarded in some sense as an amplification of that adopted by Professor Cowell, yet without aspiring to the elaborate scale of a work like Professor Aufrecht's Bodleian Catalogue, affording a detailed analysis of unpublished literature. Such a work indeed has been to a great extent rendered unnecessary for Sanskrit Buddhist literature by the appearance of Dr Rājendralāla Mitra's long promised work on the Nepalese MSS. of the Bengal Asiatic Society.

I have however added references, which I believe will be found fairly complete, to the printed literature of the subject, including in the latter part of the text two very important works, which reached me only after the greater portion of it had been printed off; I mean Bābū Rājendralāla's work just referred to, and Mr Bunyiu Nanjio's Catalogue of the Japanese Buddhist Tripiṭaka. This may be found to explain or to compensate for any undue brevity, not to say bareness, in some of the descriptions of subject-matter. Indeed, my main object has been to provide material for identification for students at a distance, and for such as come to consult the MSS. general clues and assistance, rather than by detailed narratives to obviate the necessity for studying the originals. Thus, to take an instance from one branch of literature, folk-lore; I have usually given the names of the chief personages in jātakas or avadānas of which no account has been published, without as a rule entering into the details of the plot.

* At one period of the negotiations the Library was under great obligations to the liberality of individuals, who took upon themselves the cost, at a time when it was impracticable to call a meeting of the Library authorities. Among these may be named especially the present Bishop of Durham.

A special feature of the present work, and one on which my studies have necessarily been almost unaided, is the part relating to palæography. To some readers, perhaps, the discussions on this subject may seem barren and tedious; others again may find them ill-proportioned or incomplete. To such strictures my reply must be, that the unexampled antiquity claimed for these MSS. seemed to require as full an examination as it was in my power to supply, and that if, after the publication of so many catalogues of Sanskrit MSS., this be the first which attempts systematically to discuss the age of the documents described, some imperfection of treatment is naturally to be expected.

Palæography, and especially the history of alphabets so extensive as those of India, will always be a study involving laborious detail, but it is of course only on detailed monographs, accompanied by a due amount of accurate illustration, that safe generalisations in so wide a subject as Indian Palæography can be founded. How much more material is ready to hand for work of this kind for scholars who are privileged to have access to it, may be seen from the Reports on Sanskrit MSS. in Western India by Dr Bühler and Dr Kielhorn, as well as from some of the later numbers of Dr Rājendralāla Mitra's "Notices."

From such study, joined with accurate work on inscriptions, we may look for some treatise which shall do for the wider field of North India what the late Dr Burnell's great work* has done for the alphabets of the South.

My essay on the historical and chronological points brought out by the colophons of these MSS. has of course a bearing on the palæography, which may serve as a justification of that part of the work (if any be needed), independently of the considerations urged on page iv.

With regard to the scope of the work, the present volume deals, as I have said, with the most characteristic portion of the collection. This includes Buddhist literature in the widest sense, so as to take in on the one hand mystical or religious works of the tantric kind, where debased Buddhism is hardly distinguishable from Çivaism; and on the other, works of no special religious tendency, but merely the supposed products of Buddhistic civilization, e.g. the Amarakoça (though some suppose its author to have been a Jain), as well as the local Nepalese literature, some of which bears more on Hindu mythology than on the Buddhist system. Some few of the MSS. falling under this latter head are written in the vernacular. Of such I have nothing by way of description to offer but names and titles of chapters. These are however the latest and least important part of our collection.

None of the palm-leaf MSS. are in the vernacular, but some of them have vernacular colophons, and in almost all of them the Sanskrit notes etc. written by the scribes are more or less faulty. In cases of the most glaring blunders I have added "sic"; but on almost every page of this work will be found violations of strict Sanskrit phonetics, familiar to all who are conversant with MSS. from Nepal. On this subject the valuable observations of M. Senart in the Introduction to his edition of the Mahāvastu (pp. xii—xvii) should be consulted.

With reference to the compilation of a full catalogue of the Wright collection, the task to which I was originally invited by the Library Syndicate, and for which I have prepared a considerable amount of material, I can only say that I hope to complete it before very long, according as time and opportunities may allow. Such work is of course carried on at some disadvantage by a non-resident; and the wisdom of recent reformers has clearly tended practically to discourage the prolonged residence in our University of those of its members whose special literary pursuits cannot at once be utilised for the conduct of the ordinary round of its more obvious studies.

It now only remains for me to make acknowledgement of the kind assistance I have received from various friends. Amongst the foremost comes Professor William Wright, who has communicated to me many valuable particulars as to the history of these MSS., derived from his brother Dr Daniel Wright, and has materially contributed to the usefulness of the work, by many suggestions and corrections made on the proof-sheets of this book, which he has most kindly and promptly revised throughout. Similar help has also been given by several Cambridge Sanskritists, especially by Mr R. A. Neil, and Mr W. F. Webster. Occasional assistance from several scholars is acknowledged in various passages of the Text and Introduction. Help from science, as represented by Professor Adams, has also been afforded in several points, of which the chief will be found on page 183. On all matters wherein the experience and insight of the scholarly librarian are of avail, I have been able to invoke the counsel of Mr Bradshaw, University Librarian, whose sympathies seem to embrace the wants of all students of the works under his charge from the Buddhism of Tibet to the Christianity of medieval Ireland.

Lastly, my thanks and those of all interested in this collection are due to Professor Cowell, who first suggested the acquisition of these MSS., and, as has been said, really made a beginning of the present catalogue. In view of his unfailing helpfulness, I may, perhaps, fitly (as a pupil) and significantly conclude this preface with the familiar concluding words of the Buddhist scribes :

HISTORICAL INTRODUCTION.

ONE of the most interesting sides of the careful study of Oriental MSS. is the insight we occasionally gain into events that were happening at the time of writing. It would be, of course, from the nature of the case, unreasonable to expect that anything like a detailed or coherent history could be gathered from fragmentary and scattered notices in the colophons of MSS.; yet by the very garrulity or effusiveness which prompts the ordinary Indian scribes to repeat certain traditional lines of self-commiseration*, or, if Buddhists, to append the profession of faith so familiar to us from inscription†, we often gain fresh and valuable pieces of contemporary testimony to current events.

That no excuse is needed for detailed study of this kind is sufficiently proved by cases of discoveries like that of Professor W. Wright in his Catalogue of Syriac MSS. in the British Museum (p. 65, col. 2), where a short note on the cover of a MS. gives the earliest known and probably contemporary account of the capture of Damascus by the Arabs. Notes of this kind are of course rare; but Nepalese MSS. are, like Nepalese inscriptions (see the "Indian Antiquary," Vol. ix.), particularly rich in royal genealogies. The main historical importance of the present collection consists in the names of kings given, in so many cases, along with the carefully and minutely expressed dates of writing. To draw out more or less in detail and to tabulate the chronological information thus derived, formed the chief scope of my contribution to the International Congress of Orientalists at Berlin, 1881. Much of what follows will therefore necessarily be a repetition of remarks made on that occasion.

Keeping in view the double local origin of our collection, the subject of History, like that of Palæography, falls into two main divisions, relating respectively to Bengal and Nepal. In this place it will be best to treat first of the MSS. written in Bengal, as the subject is shorter, simpler, and perhaps of more general interest, than the history of Nepal itself.

The five earliest of our Bengal MSS. belong to the Pāla dynasty, on which see General Cunningham's "Archæological Survey," III. 134; some criticisms, etc., by Dr Rājendralāla Mitra in the Bengal Asiatic Society's Journal, XLVII. 385, and the rejoinder by General Cunningham in the "Survey," XI. 177.

These MSS., like the inscriptions of the same place and time, but unlike our MSS. written in Nepal itself, are dated not by years of any era, but by the year of the reigning monarch*.

By a somewhat fortunate accident, four of these five MSS. fall in the two reigns of which we possess dated inscriptions, cited of course by the authors above named. We arrange them as follows.

Add. 1464, circa A.D. 1020.

The MS. is dated in the 5th year of Mahīpāla, whom we find from the Sārnāth inscription reigning A.D. 1026.

Cunningham places his accession c. 1015 ("Survey," II. cc.).

* It was the difference of usage in this respect between the two divisions of our collection,—divisions which were not recognized by any of those who first examined these MSS.,—that gave rise to some erroneously early dates in the first rough printed list ("History of Nepal," p. 321, ll. 5—8, etc.).

Add. 1688, c. 1054.

14th year of Nayapāla. If, as seems likely, the Daddākā of this MS. is the same person as Lādākā of the last, we have some confirmation of the Dinajpur genealogical inscription which makes Nayapāla to be Mahipāla's immediate successor.

Add. 1699, Nos. I, II and III, A.D. 1198—1200.

These three MSS. are dated in the 37th, 38th, and 39th years respectively of Govindapāla, whose accession (A.D. 1161) is known from the inscription in Cunningham's Survey, III. 125*.

A very curious and historically interesting point occurs in the colophon of the second of the last group, which runs as follows: parameṣvaretyādi rājāvali pūrvavat śrīmadgovindapāladevānām vinashṭarājye aṣṭatrimṣatsamvatsare 'bhiḥlikhyamāno. The first clause probably represents the scribe as declining to recite as before (pūrvavat) the long list of royal titles beginning—as they do, in fact, in the first three MSS. noticed—with the title parameṣvara. The great interest, however, of the colophon lies in the phrase vinashṭarājye, instead of the usual pravardhamānavijayarājye. I take this to be an acknowledgment that the star of the Buddhist dynasty had set and that their empire was in A.D. 1199 "vinashṭa," "ruined"; a view which well accords with the fact that Govindapāla was the last Buddhist sovereign of whom we have authentic record, and that the Mohammedan conquest of all Bengal took place in the very first years of the XIIIth cent. A.D. Hence it would also appear that, unless Gen. Cunningham has some better authority than tradition ("Arch. Surv." III. 135) for his last Pāla monarch Indradymna, the reign of such a king in Magadha must be rejected. At all events, he can hardly have come to the throne in 1180 or 1185, as supposed. No other names of sovereigns are to be gained from our later MSS. written in Bengal, but the colophon of one of them, Add. 1364, a Buddhist tantra, written by a Kāyastha of Jhera in Magadha in A.D. 1446, is interesting as showing how long Buddhism survived even among the educated classes of Eastern India.

* The Hodgson collection has also a MS. of this reign (No. 1, dated in its 4th year); but the inscription escaped the notice of Professors Cowell and Eggeling ("Journal R. A. S.", Oct. 1875, pp. 2 and 51), as well as of Dr D. Wright ("History of Nepal," p. 317).

Passing now to the second and far larger part of our collection,—the MSS. written in Nepal itself,—we may notice that they are dated not by regnal years, like those originally coming from Bengal, but always by the year of some era, the name of the reigning king being generally added.

The absence of an historical literature in Sanskrit has often been commented on. It has been reserved for the dwellers on the very outskirts of the Aryan territory in India, such as Kashmir or Nepal, to chronicle their somewhat uneventful national life. Judging however from the amount of energy and acumen already bestowed on the elucidation of Kashmirian chronology, it would seem that all contributions to an accurate system of Indian dates are valued by scholars. The practical literary value of such researches is attested by our experience in the present collection, where the date of the composition of an interesting work is known through this very Kashmirian chronology. Especially, then, as we possess several groups of documents on Nepalese chronology and history, besides some recently acquired dated inscriptions, no apology is needed for investigating the relations between these and the dated colophons of MSS. The results of my investigations are tabulated and summarized in the Appendices to the present Introduction.

The era by which our strictly Nepalese MSS. are almost invariably dated is the Samvat still used in Nepal. This commences from A.D. 880, a year which is attested as well by modern usage as by the astronomical and calendric data furnished by many of our oldest MSS.

The two eras most commonly used in India generally—the Çaka and the Vikrama Samvat—were also known in Nepal. Several of our MSS., especially the non-Buddhistic ones, are dated by the former. On another era—that of Çriharsha—see the account of Add. MS. 1049 in the special excursus appended to the Palæographical Introduction.

We now pass to chronological details as supplied to us by MSS., and as checked by inscriptions and the somewhat wavering or conflicting testimony of the various histories. It may be noted that our historical authorities are divided in the Chronological Appendix No. 1 into two main groups. (1) The Vam-çāvali (Add. 1952), translated in Dr D. Wright's "History of Nepal," and its Gorkha redaction (Add. 1160, see p. 31): (2) The group tabulated in the next column, which do not aspire to the rank even of historical sketches, but are mere chronological lists of kings, with notes of a few important events and changes interspersed. As regards Add. MS. 866 (dated A.D. 1008), hitherto* regarded as the oldest of all extant Sanskrit MSS., I give elsewhere reasons for my views on the character of the writing, differing from those put forward by the learned compilers of the account of the MS. cited in my description on p. 2 of the present work. It will also be seen that the reading of the colophon of the MS., given as fully as the state of the leaves allows on pp. 3—4, and reproduced in Plate I., places the history connected with the MS. in a new light. In the early account of the colophon, only the name of Rudradeva was deciphered, but my recognition of the name of Nirbhaya,—apparently the chief of the co-regents,—brings the colophon into connection with our second group of historical authorities†.

Our next dated MS. (Add. 1643, A.D. 1015) speaks of three kings; the one, Bhojadeva, governing apparently one half of the kingdom, and the other two, Rudradeva and Lakshmikāmadeva, being co-regents of the remaining half. The metrical colophon of Add. 1664 bears interesting testimony to this system of co-regency as being a constitutional usage, at all events in later times (see below, p. ix.).

* See now the excursus just cited.

† See Chronological Appendix I, Column 4 (Reign acc. to Kirkpatrick, etc.).

The next MS. (Add. 1683, dated A.D. 1065) speaks of Lakshmikāmadeva alone as king. As to the king next on our list of whom we have a dated MS., I formerly read his name Padmyamrakāmadeva, and this form certainly agrees best with the form Padmadeva found in Wright's "History of Nepal" as well as in Mr Hodgson's lists. But the other reading proposed, Pradyumnakāmadeva, has the advantage, as I now think, not only on palæographic grounds, but also as giving a name of far more intelligible and probable form. Moreover the form Padyumna found in our MS. shows how the contraction to Padma might have arisen. Kirkpatrick has a more than usually barbarous form, 'Puddiem.' The date of this MS. (A.D. 1065) very nearly accords with the chronology of Kirkpatrick, who makes Mānadeva—whom we find from a curious and interesting note in Add. 1643 to be on the throne in 1139—not to be reigning till 85 years after Pradyumna's death, while the dates of these MSS. are only 74 years apart. This difficulty may be just got over, if we can disregard the 12 years given by Kirkpatrick to Indradeva (Māna's predecessor), whom the Vamçāvalī does not mention. With the reigns assigned to the monarchs immediately preceding, this date does not accord so well; but a change of dynasty and some other unsettling influences occurred in the country just before this time, which may account for some discrepancy in the historical sketches as well as in the chronology.

After 1140 the dates proceed with great regularity, and are, on the whole, strikingly in accord with the historical accounts for nearly two centuries.

After Mānadeva (1139) we get two dated MSS. of the reign next but one, that of Ānandadeva, called in the Vamçāvalī Nanda-deva. Of the second of these (R. A. S. Hodgson No. 2) a leaf has been reproduced by the Palæographical Society (Oriental Series, Plate 43). As to the account therewith given by the late Dr Haas, it is now clear that Prinsep's table—taken in its earlier part, it would seem, entirely from Kirkpatrick—is defective in names of kings, and so very roughly correct as to dates that no one system of adjustment will put it right. Thus Dr Haas's proposed correction will not fit the case of Ananta-malla, to whom we come presently, and whose date Prinsep gives tolerably correctly (A.D. 1280); nor, on the other hand, that of Lakshmīkāmadeva, whose date he makes more than a century earlier than we above determined it.

At the commencement of the next century, the XIIIth, we have MSS. of Arideva-malla and Abhaya-malla, but unfortunately the dates have in no case been certainly discovered.

Of Ananta-malla (called in the Vaṃçāvalī Ānanda-malla, but not to be confused with the former monarch really of that name) two MSS. are extant, with dates respectively corresponding to A.D. 1286 and 1302. This reign has 25 years assigned to it in the Vaṃçāvalī, so that these MSS. belong to its opposite extremities. For the first (Brit. Mus. Or. 1439) see the account in the Palæographical Society's Oriental Series, Pl. 32; on the second (Add. 1306) see pp. 42—3.

There is now a gap of 70 years in our MSS. that bear kings' names. It is probably more than a coincidence that this gap, like the one of similar length a century and a half before (1065—1139), is contemporaneous with the introduction of a new dynasty. Although our scanty historical accounts give us but little insight into such matters, there can be no doubt that changes of this kind were attended with very considerable disturbance in the country; and that either literary studies altogether declined, or the scribes were at a loss whom to acknowledge as the real and chief ruler of a country which, as we know, has frequently been under divided rule. For it should be borne in mind that everything shows that most of our MSS. were written more or less directly under royal or court influences. In many cases, as we shall see, kings are stated to be the authors*; in others, lists of the royal family are given, or the command of some royal person for the writing.

The great event which happened in Nepal at this time was the conquest of the country by Harisimha of Simrāon. On the names of his dynasty, none of which appear in our MSS., see the special Table in Chronological Appendix II.

The first two names of the next group, Jayārjuna [A.D. 1374 and 1384 (see Add. 1689 and 1488)] and Ratnajyotirdeva [A.D. 1392 (see Add. 1108, written in an obscure town)] are unknown to the histories. These kings were probably predecessors of the "refractory Rājas of Pātan and Kathmandu," who were "completely subdued" by Yaksha-malla soon after this time (Kirkpatrick, p. 266).

The next three reigns, those of Jayasthiti, Jyotir-malla and Yaksha-malla, appear to have been a time of prosperity in Nepal. MSS. are abundant, and mostly contain the names of the sovereigns and, in some cases, further particulars.

We are also helped for this period by a most interesting inscription lately discovered at the great temple of Paçupati in Nepal and published in the "Indian Antiquary" for Aug. 1880. It is dated N. S. 533 (A.D. 1413), and gives not only the name of the king, Jyotir-malla, but also that of his father Jayasthiti, and the names of various other members of the royal family, which occur in several MSS. with similar honorific titles and other indications, and form one of the many proofs of the trustworthiness of the colophons of these MSS.

As to the doings of Jayasthiti-malla, the first of the three, the Vamçāvalī is particularly eloquent; certain paṇḍits specially employed by him are mentioned by name (Wright's "Nepal," p. 183, fin.). The MSS. of this reign are, as might be expected, numerous. We possess in the present collection four with dates, ranging from A.D. 1385 to 1391; but besides these, there is a MS. (Add. 1658), undated it is true, but easily fixed as to time, and historically one of the most curious and valuable in the collection. This, as may be seen from the account at p. 159, is a copy of a play, the Abhinavarāghavānanda, by a certain Maṇika. In the nāndī the goddess Māneçvarī is named—as also in Add. 1698—in a manner which quite confirms Dr Bühler's conjecture, in his note on the name as occurring in the inscription, that she was the king's "Kuladevatā." Further on, in the prastāvanā, we find the names of the queen, the heir-apparent, and the second son Jyotir-malla, who is called bāla-nārāyaṇaḥ. If this implies that he was a mere boy, it will put the play at least 20 years earlier, as we find him in the inscription (dated = A.D. 1413) apparently the sole reigning king and the father of three adult children. Besides this, we have a curious metrical colophon in Add. MS. 1664 (a non-Buddhistic work, and therefore not described in the present catalogue), dated A.D. 1400, and describing a triple sovereignty of the same Jyotir-malla with his elder and younger brothers. Of Jyotir-malla's own reign we have only one MS. (Add. 1649), attributed however to the king himself. The date corresponds to A.D. 1412. This may seem, at first sight, to curtail too much the reign of Jayasthiti, who perhaps came to the throne in 1385 (Add. MS. 1395,—Jayārjuna was reigning in 1384), and yet is stated by the Vaṃçāvalī to have reigned 43 years. If this be so, we have here probably a case of the peculiar error noticed in the learned review of Dr D. Wright's "History of Nepal" in the "Litterarisches Centralblatt" for Dec. 15th, 1877; viz., that when the chronicler was uncertain as to the exact length of some of the reigns in a dynasty, he took one or more of the later reigns of that dynasty as a pattern, and put the others down as the same. It is accordingly very suspicious that both Jayasthiti and Yaksha are credited with the large allowance of 43 years. Little reliance can be placed on the Vaṃçāvali just here, as we find Jyotir-malla completely ignored and Yaksha called Jayasthiti's son. Of Yaksha- (or, as he is generally styled in the MSS., Jaksha-)malla we have four MSS., ranging from A.D. 1429 to 1457, so that a reign of 43 years seems here not improbable.

After the death of Yaksha the history of Nepal, as a united kingdom, ceases for several centuries; and, curiously enough, nearly all our chronology from MSS. ceases also, for nearly two centuries. The kingdom was now divided, and possibly considerable disturbances again ensued which were unfavourable to the preservation of literature by the copying of MSS. Compare verse 18 of the inscription in "Ind. Antiq." ix. 185.

During the xvith century MSS. are scarce, and only one king (Sadāçiva of Kathmaṇḍu, v. Add. 1355 and Brit. Mus. Or. 2206) is referred to by name. The names of the kings from this period onwards will be found in Appendix III.

At the beginning of the xviiith century a fresh division occurs, as Lalitapura (Patan) becomes independent of Kathmaṇḍu. Literature however was patronized at this time, especially under Pratāpa-malla at Kathmaṇḍu (see Wright's "Nepal" and Inscriptions, Nos. 18 and 19) as well as under Jagajjyotiḥ at Bhatgāon. Both of these monarchs are spoken of as authors of extant works (Add. 1641, 1696, and D. M. G. 6 at Halle). After this time we find traces of further dissensions amongst the rival sovereigns until the time of the Gorkha conquest.

A special difficulty arises owing to the similarity in form and meaning of the names of some of the sovereigns in all three cities at the beginning of the xviiith century. This difficulty was noticed in the review of Wright's "Nepal" already cited. The very acute suggestion there made, however, of identifying Mahīpatīndra of Kathmandu with the contemporary monarch at Bhatgāon of synonymous name, Bhūpatīndra, seems however hardly so simple as to suppose Mahīpatīndra to be a mere title of Jagajjaya; since we find the word Mahīpatīndra on the reverse of his coins. Indeed the fact that all this group of names would pass for mere kingly titles greatly increases the doubt and difficulty. Further discussion of this point hardly falls within the scope of the present work, as the time is one of little importance from the point of view either of literature or of palæography.

Our third Chronological Appendix gives the remaining kings, from the division of the kingdom to the Gorkha invasion. The number of years in the reign of each is not given, partly because the chronicles are inconsistent with each other and with themselves and contain suspicious repetitions of round numbers like 15*, as well as impossibly long reigns†; partly, also, because after the xvith century we get a tolerably complete series of dates from coins. Indeed the settlement and adjustment of the more minute points of chronology at this period may be perhaps more appropriately left to the student of the monuments or the coins of Nepal. After the brief literary revival in the middle of the xviiith century already referred to, literature and the arts seem to have gradually declined amid the constant internal discords. Since the Gorkha invasion the old and characteristic Buddhistic civilization, already much corrupted, has been, it would seem, fast passing away, and giving place to a mixed Hinduism and autochthonic superstitions. A list of the Gorkha sovereigns is given, for reference, in Chronological Appendix IV.

Jaya is stated to have reigned at Bhatgāon, while Ananta reigned at Kathmandu.

Kirkpatrick tells us that in this reign an immigration into Nepal took place in Vikrama Samv. 1344 = Nep. Samv. 408 (A.D. 1288).

I subjoin in Appendix II the various lists of kings of this epoch, feeling that no reconciliation can be satisfactory without further documentary or monumental evidence.

Not named in any history, genealogy, or inscription.

For this king see the histories and inser. in "Ind. Antiq." for Aug. 1880. As to his reign see pp. viii., ix. supra.

Not otherwise known: probably a petty chief of the obscure town where the MS. was written.

See p. ix. above.

Not in the Vamçavāli; but see the contemporary inser. in "Ind. Antiq." Aug. 1880, and cp. Notes 1 and 3.

After this the division of the kingdom followed.

The account given in the Vamçāvalī is very confused and the chronology quite wild (e.g., both the dates in Wright, p. 167, are more than three centuries too early).

The only chronologically certain event seems to be the invasion of Hari-siṃha of Simrāon, which is given probably enough as N. Ś. 444 (A.D. 1324); and this is exactly confirmed by the postscript of the Nepalese Sanskrit MS. No. 6 of the "Deutsche Morg. Ges." (see Dr. Pischel's catalogue, p. 8). Compare also Kirkpatrick.

PALÆOGRAPHICAL INTRODUCTION.

It is now perhaps generally known amongst Sanskritists and other Orientalists that one distinguishing feature of the present collection is the high antiquity of its MSS. as compared with any Sanskrit MSS. previously discovered. Some doubt, indeed, has been expressed as to the genuineness of these dates; and it was one of the objects of the paper read by the present writer at the Fifth Congress of Orientalists, referred to in the Historical Introduction, to establish the antiquity claimed for them by showing the great variety of testimony on which that claim rests. It will not, therefore, be out of place to repeat here the general heads of argument there* enumerated, before proceeding to note the various details which it is the special object of the present Introduction to collect and classify.

(1) The climate and remote position of Nepal, as compared with other parts of India, have favoured the preservation of MSS.

(2) The decline of religion and learning in the country for the last five centuries has caused many ancient works to be forgotten and quite unused. Nor are we left to conjecture here. In many of our Cambridge MSS. of the XIVth, XIIIth, and even the Xth century, I have found the powdered chalk, put in by the scribes to preserve the leaves, still quite fresh. But even if not read, old MSS. were, and are, often preserved as heirlooms and the like, with all the superstitious care that an ignorant people can sometimes give to the monuments of an unknown learning. Compare the passage of the old native Chronicle, the Vaṃṣāvalī (Wright's Nepal, p. 159), in which we read that, in the reign of Çaṅkara-deva (xith cent. A.D.), "at the time when the village of Jhul was burning, Yasodharā, the Brāhmanī widow, fled to Pātan with a small model of a chaitya, the book Prāgyā-pāramitā (written in gold letters in Vikrama-sambat 245 [= A.D. 188]), and her infant son Yasodhara."

* See Verhandlungen des fünften Orientalisten-Congresses, 2ter Theil, 2te Hälfte, pp. 190—1.

(3) The evidence of inscriptions discovered in Bengal, and recently in Nepal itself, remarkably confirms in several highly interesting cases, the sometimes detailed information given by scribes as to contemporary dynasties, etc. See the Historical Introduction, pp. iii, viii, ix.

(4) Evidence from astronomy and the (lunar) calendar. An eclipse in one case, and in several others the days of the week and month,—stated according to the complicated lunar calendar, which a forger would have required far more learning than modern scribes possess, to work out correctly,—have been calculated by Professor Adams, and are found to tally.

(5) Lastly, the whole chain of palæographical and monumental evidence is as convincing as it is instructive, seeing that we have here to deal not with isolated MSS., but with a regular series, showing a progressive development of handwriting corresponding to the dates given.

The review of the testimony under this last head is of course at present our more immediate object. It may, however, not be out of place to notice here one objection urged against the antiquity of these and other early Indian MSS.

In an interesting article on Nepalese history and antiquities in "Indische Streifen" III. 528, Professor Weber suggests grave doubts lest the boasted antiquity of MSS. from Nepal may not fall to the ground in the same way as did that of a Sanskrit MS. at Paris, where the date of the archetype has been heedlessly reproduced by the scribe, not from any desire to forge or otherwise deceive, but from sheer unreflecting thoughtlessness.

A few weeks before the death of the greatest authority on Indian palæography, the late Dr A. C. Burnell, I received from him a letter which showed that even he felt misgivings on the same ground. Dr Burnell wrote: "I was hardly prepared to believe that these palm-leaf MSS. [at Cambridge] could be so old as was said; but I think you have made it clear [in the article cited above] that some are really of the dates they bear. I fear still that some are merely copies with the date of the original given in the copy, as is commonly done in India. I am led to this by the modern appearance of the palm leaves, so far as I can judge from the engravings etc. that I have seen; I have not seen one of the originals as yet. In the dry parts of S. India, the palm leaves become nearly black in 400 years, and in the damp parts (Malabar and Canara e.g.), the same time turns them to the colour of mahogany. In every case, they become so fragile that it is impossible to touch them." I have quoted more of this interesting passage than strictly bears on the point now in question, as being perhaps the last utterance of its distinguished author on palæography, his greatest study, and as showing that the preliminary considerations (1) and (2) urged above are far from irrelevant.

Returning, however, to the subject of copied dates, our chief answer to objectors must of course be of a palæographical nature. Let any candid critic, even if his patience fail him for the perusal of the minuter examinations of the gradual development of letters which form a large part of the present essay, simply turn to the table of selected letters appended, and then say if on the hypothesis of copied dates so regular and gradual a development would be traceable. On such a hypothesis we should rather find the latest and most modern forms of letters in MSS. professing to be of early dates. Certain at least it must needs be admitted to be, that our MSS. in the older forms of character have been in no sense written recently; for at the present day, there is scarcely a person in Nepal who can read, much less write, such a hand.

But we are not left entirely to inference or conjecture. We have indeed two cases of copied dates; but the circumstances under which they occur are most instructive. In each case the last leaf of a palm-leaf MS., as so often happens, has suffered by time and usage, and we have a paper supply-leaf recording the date of the original, which was in a perishing condition, preserved together with it. See especially the account of Add. 1644, p. 153. Here then we find not the inconsiderateness or stupidity attributed by Prof. Weber to the scribes in this matter, but, on the contrary, a most considerate regard for posterity and indeed a surprising amount of genuine antiquarian feeling. For a case of mere retracing, truthfully executed however, see p. 155, l. 25.

Strong auxiliary evidence as to the real date of MSS. may be also gained from a careful examination of their material. On this point I may again repeat remarks already published. 'Progressive development may be traced in material, as has been long acknowledged in the case of European MSS. Even in palm-leaves the earlier show differences from the later in colour, form and texture; and in paper this is especially noticeable. The two MSS. [Add. 1412. 1 and 2] are written on paper no more like the modern paper of Nepal than Caxton's paper is like that of a modern journal. The xviiith century too, when paper had become common, has its own special paper.' See Add. 1611 and 1405, both archetypes.

Before proceeding to examine, century by century, all the local and other palæographical peculiarities of our collection, extending, as we shall hereafter show, over more than a thousand years, it may be well to notice very briefly the chief stages in the history of the development of the alphabet in North India, so far as it can be traced.

The earliest period (B.C. 200—A.D. 100) of which we have a connected series of monuments, the Açoka inscriptions, is that of the Ariano-Pali and the Indo-Pali alphabets. This is well illustrated in Cunningham's "Corpus Inscriptionum Indicarum," where also references to the various theories of their origin are given (pp. 50 sqq.).

Following the line of the Indo-Pali, we find that, at the time of the ascendancy of the Gupta dynasty, a fresh stage of writing, now called after them, is reached. The era instituted by the Guptas has been recently fixed by General Cunningham as beginning A.D. 167. The character was in general use throughout Northern India from this time till about A.D. 600, the time of the appearance of the great conqueror Çri-harsha, of whom we shall have more to say in the Excursus appended to this Introduction. We find that it prevailed in Nepal from the earliest* monuments of that country at present known to us. It is also found on the Nepalese coins of the viiith century, of which I have treated in the "Zeitschrift der deutschen morgenländischen Gesellschaft" for 1882, p. 651. Towards the end of this century, however, changes begin to arise, as may be seen from the same series of Inscriptions, Nos. 9—14 (compare the editors' introduction, p. 171). Similarly modified forms occur in contemporary inscriptions from other parts of India.

No traces of the Gupta character have as yet been found in MSS., nor indeed of any form of writing approaching it in antiquity. Two MSS. (one dated) presenting a modified form of this character are preserved in the present collection, and to them a special Excursus, appended to the present essay, is devoted. In the ixth and xth centuries the Gupta disappears, and gives place either to the ordinary square and straight-topped writing of North India, known generally as Devanāgarī, or else to the early, yet ornamental and somewhat fanciful variety, called Kuṭila. This variety was possibly due in the first instance to individual caprice, and then passed through the stage of a fashion into a currency which was general, though not of long duration. This character again, hitherto only known from inscriptions, is found amongst the MSS. now described, more markedly in some not originally written in Nepal.

* See the Indian Antiquary, Vol. ix. pp. 163, sqq.

This brings us to a feature in our collection most important for its classification; viz. its double local origin. The favourable influence of the remote position of Nepal has been indicated above. This is seen in the fact that both Dr Wright and Mr Hodgson* found in Nepal MSS. actually written in Bengal, but older than any brought to light even by recent investigations in the latter country itself. On the other hand, we find one case at least of a MS. (Add. 1693) written in Nepal by a hand precisely similar to that in vogue at the time in Bengal and not in Nepal. We shall have also occasion hereafter to note what may be called 'Bengalisms' in the writing of MSS. otherwise thoroughly Nepalese. Palæographical testimony thus bears out what we should naturally have expected, that adjacent countries, allied by a common religion, as well as doubtless by political and commercial relations, had considerable mutual influence up to comparatively late times. Besides, Nepal was no doubt in some sense a place of refuge†. For although we find, in the case of Add. 1364, Buddhist monks and laymen still existing even among the better classes in Eastern India, yet no doubt the Mohammedan conquest brought some persecution and danger to Buddhists and their books. So at least we may infer from the postscript of Add. 1643, which tells us how the book was rescued when 'fallen into the hands of a people alien to the faith.'

The next century, the XIIth, witnessed at its close the entire subjugation of Bengal by the Mohammedans; and from this time each of the two countries develops an individual style of writing. In Bengal we find the first beginnings of a variety of writing now called Bengali, of which the present collection affords the earliest dated specimens. In Nepal also, where up to this time no local peculiarity is observable in inscriptions or MSS., a distinct writing is developed. This seems to originate in a caprice or fashion analogous to that observed in the case of the Kuṭila. At the same time, as might be expected from the geographical remoteness of the country, as well as, in later times, from its political and religious isolation, many archaisms are preserved even to modern days. The special trick or fashion referred to is the addition of a curve or hook to the top of each letter.

* See MS. No. 1 in the R. A. S. Hodgson-collection, noticed below.

† Compare Wright's Nepal, p. 72 at the foot.

This fashion becomes general in the XIIIth century; in the XIVth, however, we find the ordinary horizontal and the hooked tops in about an equal number of cases; in the XVth century there is again a decided preponderance of the hooked form, but by the XVIth century it has disappeared altogether. This hook was regarded by Dr Haas as the 'dominant feature' of the Nepalese hand (Pal. Soc. Or. Ser. Pl. XXXII),* which furnished 'the connecting link between the ordinary Devanāgarī and the Uriya alphabet.' The circumstances of the case as just summarized, and more fully investigated below, put it in a somewhat different light. The hooked top in Nepal lasts only for three centuries and a half, and was never universally used there. Its total disappearance after the XVth century thus makes the connexion with the modern Uriya doubtful. Unless, then, some direct connexion between the two alphabets can be shown, it seems safer to regard both as mere local fashions of independent growth. Owing, however, to the conservation of archaisms above referred to, and to several other features more fully described below, a distinct and characteristic Nepalese hand has been maintained to the present day.

We may now proceed to treat of the manuscripts in detail,

* See also his 'pedigree' of alphabets in the same series, Plate XLIV.

considering them in their two main classes of Nepalese and Bengali, and by centuries or other periods of development in writing. Reserving our curiously isolated examples of the ixth century for separate treatment, we come first to MSS. of the xith century.

Of MSS. written at this time in Nepal we have six dated examples. These are all written in a square, clear, and often beautifully clean hand, the contrast between thick and fine strokes being strongly marked. In the first MS. (dated = A.D. 1008) the right-hand twist at the bottom of the vertical strokes, which seems to have suggested the name Kuṭīla, is clearly discernible; in the second (A.D. 1015) somewhat less so. The transition seems marked by the third MS., of A.D. 1039, written by more than one scribe, where the body of the letters is uniform throughout, but the Kuṭīla curves are far more pronounced towards the middle of the MS. (leaves 35b—68) than elsewhere. In the three remaining MSS., all of the latter half of the century, this characteristic disappears.

Of MSS. written in Bengal we have two examples from the middle of this century. These show the Kuṭīla twist very markedly, but instead of the vertical stroke curving or sweeping round in the form that would naturally be produced by graving-tools or the like, we get an angle formed apparently by a sudden turn of the kalam, so that a fine stroke at an angle of 120° with the vertical thick stroke is the result. It may be here observed, in general, that the alphabet employed exhibits hardly any of the forms of what is now known as Bengali writing (as distinct from Devanāgarī), that writing having arisen apparently at the end of the next century in MSS. A specimen of the earlier of the two is given in Plate II.

The chief palæographic details of these MSS., to be taken in connexion with the tables of letters and figures appended to this Introduction, are subjoined.

Add. 866 (A.D. 1008) preserves several remarkable archaisms.

The forms of j, t, and l, if compared with those of our two

MSS. of the ninth century (see the Excursus appended to the present essay), are most interesting survivals of a stage of writing antecedent even to the Kuṭiḷa, as known to us from the inscriptions of Bareli (see Prinsep's Table of Alphabets) or Dhara (Burgess, Arch. Surv. W. Ind. for 1875, p. 101). A reproduction of part of the last leaf is given in Plate I.

Add. 1643 (A.D. 1015*), less like Kuṭiḷa in general appearance than Add. 866, shows in several cases Kuṭiḷa forms (gh, j, ṇ, etc.), in some cases where that MS. shows still more archaic ones. See the Table of Letters.

Add. 1683 (A.D. 1039). This MS. is in several hands. From leaf 66 to the end, though less curved, as has been said, than the 30 leaves preceding, it is in many respects more archaic, e.g. in preserving the earlier form of th, as in Add. 866. The forms given in the table recall the Tibetan and Čaradā forms.

Add. 1684 (A.D. 1065) exhibits the first examples of the modern r conjunct and the modern Nepalese ç. Of the latter we get an early anticipation in the Deogarh Inscription (Cunningham's Survey, x. Pl. 32).

Add. 1680.1 (A.D. 1068) is a small, clearly written MS., and is similar, as might be expected from the nearness of the date, to the last.

Add. 1161 (A.D. 1084), to which much the same remarks apply, preserves however the archaic th.

Add. 1704 is a well written MS., strongly resembling Add. 1680. 1.

Add. 1464 and 1688 (c. 1025—1055). Among the most noticeable forms in these are the two forms of e and ai medial, kh, gh (peculiar, but less archaic than the contemporary Nepalese), ñ, ṇ, and especially ç, the rounded top of which is an interesting survival.

* It should have been observed in the account of this MS. in the text that possibly the main date, and probably that of the later note, constitute cases, isolated in our collection, of the use of atīta or 'elapsed' years (cf. Burnell, S. I. P., ed. 2. p. 72). If this be so, we get A.D. 1016 and 1140 respectively.

The XIIth century is extremely interesting and important for our present investigation. Both in Nepal and Bengal we find the last specimens of an old style of hand, followed with surprising abruptness by a new writing, possessing in each case a marked individuality for which the older style gives little or no preparation. The only dated MS. that we possess of the first half of the century (Add. 1645, A.D. 1139) is written in practically the same hand as the Nepalese MSS. of the last half of the XIth century (see the Table of Letters). The first half of the year 1165 (month of Çrāvaṇa) gives us another last survival, viz., that of the square hand as then written in Bengal. Of this we shall speak in connexion with the Bengali MSS. of this time. To this year also belongs a MS. written in Bengal (R. A. S. Hodgs. No. 1) in a strikingly similar character. The latter half of the same year (month of Pausa) gives us the first certain example of the hooked hand peculiar to Nepal. There are four more examples of this hand in the same century; the dates of two of these, however, are somewhat doubtful.

It is from this time, then, that we find Nepalese on the one hand, and Bengali on the other, as distinct alphabets or styles of writing. It has been already observed that the hooked feature cannot be regarded as the distinguishing note of Nepalese, as this was never universally employed, and has now disappeared for several centuries. If again we observe the forms of individual letters, we fail to find any distinct original development. One of the few scientific observers of this style of writing, Dr Johann Klatt*, gives a list of ten letters which he finds in XVIIth century MSS. as characteristic of Nepalese. He observes: "Plurimum notae i, e, ñ, jh, ñ, ṇ, ph, bh, r, ç, ab Nagaricis nunc usitatis differunt." True; but the Nepalese forms of each of these letters may be paralleled from earlier Devanāgarī, even from distant parts of India. The Nepalese must not, then, be regarded as a distinct and original development of the Indian alphabet in the same sense that Bengali, for instance, is so. The fact rather is that, from the XIth—XIIIth century onwards, the geographical and political isolation of Nepal resulted in the conservation of early forms, accompanied by the prevalence of several more or less transient embellishments or calligraphic fashions peculiar to the country. From this time, therefore, we treat of Nepalese MSS. alone, and reserve the remaining examples of Bengali hand for connected treatment later on.

* 'De CCC. Cāṇakyaē sententiis.'

In the Table, note that Add. 1686 is the first MS. written in Nepal that shows the regular Nepalese bh; though the earlier form is also in use. The later form is also found in Central Indian inscriptions of the twelfth century; see Cunningham, Survey, IX., pl. XVI.

In this century also we find the first examples of the modern Nepalese e initial and kh, akin to the Bengali forms. The open top of the dh seems a preparation for the modern shape. The list of initial vowels is valuable and interesting (see Plate III).

The curious Kuṭīla subscription of Add. 1691.1 (see text) has quite exaggerated slanting and angular strokes at the bottom of the letters, and looks somewhat like the protest of a more conservative scribe of the old school against the incoming hooked style in which the MS. is written.

Add. 1657 no doubt belongs to the end of this century. Its date (=1199 A.D.) is reproduced in a note to the Table of Numbers. As to the letters, we find that gh, j, ṇ, l, ç and sh, take the forms given under Add. 1645; bh varies, as in Add. 1686; dh is of the transitional form given under Add. 1691.2 (cf. u, e and th in that MS.).

In the next century, the XIIIth, the hooked form of character is thoroughly in vogue; for there exists, as far as I know, only one dated Nepalese MS. of this time otherwise written. The large bold handwriting usual in the XIth century, with strongly contrasted thick and fine strokes, continues through most of this century, though in some later MSS. we observe a transition commencing.

The dated MSS. of this century are Add. 1644 (A.D. 1205), 1648 (c. 1216), 1465 (12..4), 1412. 1. 2 (1276 and 1278), 1707 (1276), 1706.1 (1261?), 1706. 2 (1279).

Add. 1644 has been already referred to on the question of copied dates. The year assigned (A.D. 1205) is fully borne out by the palæographic phenomena of the MS., as this is one of the finest examples we possess of the bold and clearly written early hooked Nepalese. Amongst individual letters, it may be noted that e takes the form given in the table from Add. 1693; dh has the early form similar to the modern ढ; bh varies between the older and newer forms. The general character of the letters may be seen from the letter-numerals in the table of numbers, where also the character used for 7 is noteworthy. Compare the Bengali ৭.

Add. 1648 (c. 1216, vide text) is the one MS. of this century with horizontal-topped characters. The hand is in other respects exceptional, as it shows considerable affinity to the early Bengali hand of which we shall treat below. Note especially the forms of bh, l, sh and y, and of i and e medial as given in the table. The variation in the figures is difficult and often confusing.

Add. 1465, though the middle figure of the date is not clear to me, belongs to the middle of this century (see text). The hand is very similar to that of Add. 1644, though rather less bold.

The early parts of the remarkable paper MSS. Add. 1412. 1 and 2 are very similar to the other MSS. of this time; the form of dh, however, is often more modern.

Add. 1707 is mostly written in a hand less bold than the preceding, the strokes being more uniform and finer, and the letters usually smaller. Bh and dh both appear in the later form; altogether, the MS. shows the transition to the style of the next century.

Add. 1706. 1 and 2 are unimportant MSS., written in a small hand on small leaves and with no great care. 1706. 1, the earlier of the two (though the middle figure of the date is not quite clear), has the early dh and transitional bh; 1706. 2 has also the early dh.

The bulk of Add. 1656 also is a fine example of the bold hand of this century; but the date is not ascertainable, as the last leaf of the original MS. has disappeared. Compare also Add. 1680, fragments 8 and 9.

The XIVth and XVth centuries may be treated as a single palæographic period. Books seem to have been commoner at this time* than in the centuries immediately succeeding or preceding. Our MSS. are plentiful and generally written on leaves of serviceable size and quality. We neither find scarceness of literature, as in the XVth century, nor the merely ornamental MSS. which we shall notice hereafter in the XVIIth century. On the other hand, writing as a fine art seems to be more or less on the decline. We no longer meet with the large boldly written MSS. of early times; nor have we any single instance of illumination. With the diminished size of the material, the handwriting is also diminished. The characteristic hooked form of the letters generally, but by no means universally, prevails. Thus in the XIVth century about one third of the MSS. have letters with straight tops, and in the next century we find nearly the same proportion. It should be observed, however, that we do not get the horizontal regularity of good modern Devanāgarī MSS. In some cases the tops, though not hooked, are very irregular, and in no case are they quite joined so as to form a continuous line.

The handwritings of the MSS. of this century hardly require a minute separate examination. A few important and representative ones only are selected and given in the Table. As to individual letters, note that the second form of e (see Add.

* Compare the passage in Dr D. Wright's Nepal, p. 183 sqq., cited in the Historical Introduction.

1693 in the Table) gradually gives place to the form still common to Nepal and Bengal (see Add. 1648). The early dh, resembling ṛ, may be observed passing through various stages (found also earlier, see 1691. 2 and 1648 in the Table) to its modern form. Bh is likewise seen in various forms, though the old form, often (as in Add. 1665, A.D. 1487) side by side with the modern, lingers on into the xvth century. The Bengali form is also found in not a few instances. The ordinary Nepalese shape is however generally prevalent.

Taking first the four examples of straight-topped characters, we notice that all present Bengali forms. Add. 1306 (A.D. 1302), like Add. 1409 (A.D. 1360), given in the Table of Letters, has the Bengali bh, e medial, i initial (see Add. 1690. 1. 2), and occasionally t; it has moreover the Bengali p, which is very rare in MSS. from Nepal. In the Table of Numbers note the strange and somewhat ambiguous letter-form used for 5 in Add. 1409.

Add. 1689 closely resembles Add. 1409 in style of hand; but the forms of bh and e medial vary between Bengali and middle Nepalese. There is also a curious survival of the early gh, similar to that in Add. 1645 (A.D. 1135); see Table. Add. 1406* furnishes our only example of the system of notation for dates by syllables, noticed by Burnell (S. Ind. Palæogr. ed. 2, p. 72) and Mr L. Rice (Mysore Inscriptions p. xxii.). If the colophon, which reads çrīmat-karṇaprakāṣa vyavaharaṇāyāṇ sasama samvatsare, be correctly interpreted on this principle, the date comes out N. S. 557 or A.D. 1437; though from the archaic forms of e, dh, bh, and s, we should have been prepared for an earlier date.

Of the remaining MSS. of these centuries little need be said; they are mostly written in a rather small, but clear, hooked-top character. The earlier of two, Add. 1395 (A.D. 1385) (see Plate III) and Add. 1708 (A.D. 1450), selected as examples in the Table, show some tendency to the long downward flourishes (e.g. in bh, s and h) so common in late and modern Nepalese MSS. The numerals are more or less in a state of transition, as may be seen from the examples in the table. In Add. 1685 (A.D. 1380) ल^५ is used for 40, apparently under the influence of the use of ल for 30 (compare the signs for 100 and 200 in Add. 1643).

* A non-Buddhistic MS. and therefore not described in the present volume.

Dated MSS. of the xvth century are almost too scarce to afford a basis for generalization, as we possess only five examples. These, nevertheless, have in common the important feature of showing the horizontal top line nearly continuous, while the vertical strokes often slightly project above this line, thus, नांग. Paper seems to have come into general use at the end of this century. Two of our palm-leaf MSS., Add. 1659 (A.D. 1501) and Add. 1479 (A.D. 1546), are written in a hand the individual letters of which hardly differ from those of the preceding century, yet the regular square and horizontal appearance gives the general effect of Devanāgarī. There is also a paper MS., Add. 1597 (A.D. 1574), similar to those which we shall treat of in connexion with MSS. of the next century.

This century, too, gives the first two instances of what seems like an archaistic revival in Nepalese writing. These MSS. recall in a remarkable manner the square hand usual in Bengal in the xith—xiith century, but also, as we saw in the case of Add. 1693, employed in Nepal. Besides several remarkable reproductions of letters noticed below, there is a decided resemblance in the square uprightness of the characters (albeit the later hand shows a certain attenuation and want of boldness), and also in the peculiar pointed form on the left horizontal top-stroke (as in the ल of Add. 1693 in the Table).

The two MSS. just referred to belong to the last quarter of the century. The first, Add. 1355, dated A.D. 1576, is on palm-leaf, the last complete MS. of that material. Among the letters given in the Table, those which most forcibly suggest a conscious revival of the square hand of the xi—xiith century are n, ç and e (ai) medial.

Add. 1556 (A.D. 1583) is written in the same style (see Plate III). The letter-numbers in the Table, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10, should be noted as remarkable revivals of xith century Bengali forms.

Add. 1556 is important also as being the earliest specimen of a class of MSS. of which our collection affords several examples; those written on black paper in white or yellow letters.

The use of silver and gold in writing was early known, as we see from the passage of the Vaṃçāvalī cited on p. xviii. No examples of palm-leaf MSS. written in anything but ink are extant; but after the introduction of paper, writing in the materials just mentioned becomes frequent down to the end of the xviiith century, though these MSS. are not very often dated. At present, as I learn from Dr Wright, this kind of writing is only practised in Tibet.

We may now pass to the xviith century, which contrasts markedly with the last in the great abundance of MSS. Literature was at this time evidently flourishing under monarchs like Pratāpa-malla, whose name will be found amongst the authors of works in the present collection. The various hand-writings fall into two main groups, corresponding to those noticed in the last century.

The first may be called the normal or natural style, in contradistinction to the artificial and partly ornamental archaic style described above. It includes the great majority of the MSS., and falls into several subordinate varieties, not distinguishable in the form of the letters but in the general character of the hand. The first is a thick, bold and square style, which carries even further than in the case of MSS. noticed in the last century the tendency to approximate to the general appearance of Devanāgarī, while preserving the individualities of Nepalese.

Good examples of this variety are Add. 1405 and 1475 (A.D. 1614 and 1682 respectively), and also the palm-leaf supply to Add. 1662 (a xiiith century MS.), written in 1619, and constituting our latest dated specimen of palm-leaf.

In contradistinction to this, we find several MSS., as M. Feer* says of one of them, Add. 1611 (A.D. 1645), "d'une écriture fine et serrée." These MSS. are usually written with ruled lines, which are exceedingly prominent.

Other examples are Add. 1586 (A.D. 1661), and to some extent Add. 1634 (A.D. 1652) and 1638 (A.D. 1682), though in these last the writing is less fine. To this century may also possibly be assigned Add. 1041 (see the account in the text).

Between these two varieties lies a third, the distinguishing feature of which is a thick and regular top to each letter, the body of the letters being more or less fine.

One example of this hand occurs in the previous century, Add. 1597 (A.D. 1574). In the present century good examples are Add. 1695 (A.D. 1629) and Add. 1588 (A.D. 1669).

The individual letters common to the three varieties of this group will be found accurately described in the plate accompanying Dr Klatt's dissertation on Cāṇakya already cited. The MS. there used for illustration (which I have not examined) seems to lie between the first and second varieties, being boldly written, yet with somewhat thin, fine, and uniform strokes. In Dr Klatt's table, as generally representing this century, we may note especially the relative distinction of i and ī initial, and the long sweeping form of t conjunct, as well as the form of r.

Our second group contains only about three dated examples, but these are important for the history of writing. The conventional hand becomes still more stiff and, so to say, decorative. Our black-paper MS., Add. 1485 (A.D. 1677), has the appearance of being written to be looked at rather than to be read. The usual case, indeed, with these MSS. is that the letters are hard to distinguish and the readings corrupt and barbarous.

* Journ. Asiatique, Aug. 1879, p. 144.

The other two MSS., Add. 1536 and 1385, are on ordinary paper, and, though apparently under the influence of the conventional archaic style, revert to the modern forms of some letters, as ṇ and ç.

In the xviiith century, the same traditions continue in the black paper MSS., and the same general style of hand (though without any specially archaic forms of letters) is followed in some ordinary paper MSS.

In Add. 1623 (A.D. 1700), a black and gold MS., both the archaic and modern Nepalese forms of ç are found; Add. 875 (A.D. 1794), however, of the same materials, presents all the archaic forms.

With regard to the ordinary paper MSS. of this and of the present century little remains to be said. A few of the earlier MSS. of the xviiith century (e.g. Add. 1595, A.D. 1712) preserve something of the fineness and regularity of the preceding period, but the majority of them seem to show that the art of writing, as indeed arts and civilization in general, have declined since the Gorkha invasion. In contrast to the beautifully drawn, coloured, and sometimes gilded illuminations commonly occurring down to the xiiith century, the illustrations are coarse in colour and so feeble in drawing as to be unworthy of the name of art. Instead of colophons written in metre, correct and elaborate, such as we find in some MSS. of the xith century, or at all events attempted, as is the case down to the xvth century, the postscripts are now often in the vernacular or in Sanskrit hardly distinguishable therefrom.

Since the predominance of Hindu influence consequent on the conquest of the country, we find the Devanāgarī hand not uncommonly employed, especially for non-Buddhistic works. Indeed the leaves sent to the library as specimens of transcription (see the account of Add. 1042, p. 27) are in Devanāgarī, though the copies that were actually made for us are not usually in that hand.

We may conclude this part of the present essay by examining the characteristic letters of the Nepalese alphabet as at present employed. These are, as Dr Klatt gives them, i, e, ñ, jh, ñ, ñ, ph, bh, r, ç. The present Nepalese forms of these letters will, as before remarked, be found to be survivals, rather than original local developments. We may remark specially i (initial). This letter is not given in the columns of the table, because, though characteristic of Nepalese throughout, its shape varies but little. On the earlier forms, see the Excursus on the MSS. of the IXth century. Its shape in A.D. 1179 hardly differs from that given in Klatt's table (and still used), except that the stroke like a comma beneath the two circles, formerly distinguishing ī, is now used for ĩ. The forms of e, ñ, ñ and ç are, as Dr Klatt notices, paralleled by the Bengali developments, and the same may be said of ph.

Perhaps the only letter really characteristic of Nepalese MSS. of all dates is one form of e medial, that with the curved or wavy line, a very slight development or modification of the form of the letter as found in inscriptions of the Devanāgarī period. Indeed the most archaic of our MSS. (Add. 1702, see Table of Letters) shows a form exactly corresponding with that of the Samangarh inscription of A.D. 753 (Bombay Asiatic Journal, ii. 371).

We pass now to the consideration of MSS. distinctively Bengali. From the XIIth century onwards, this writing, though apparently of less antiquity as a separate hand and perhaps on the whole less archaic than the Nepalese, has a stronger claim than it to be considered a separate alphabet: for we have here both letters in more archaic forms than are found in the contemporary Devanāgarī, though these are fewer in number than in the Nepalese, and also original and peculiar local developments and modifications. Again, we have what is more than a passing fashion in writing, like the Nepalese hooked tops, namely a distinct tendency continuously in force and even increasing down to modern times: I refer to the use of pointed appendages, especially at the bottom of several letters, e. g. k, v, y.

It is interesting to note that this hand seems to have been specially developed by scribes, for we find many inscriptions from Bengal, several centuries later, in a character hardly, if at all, differing from ordinary Devanāgarī.

Our collection claims the earliest examples yet noticed of genuine Bengali handwriting (Add. 1699. 1, 2, & 3). The dates of these three MSS. are A.D. 1198, 1199, 1200, respectively (cf. pp. iii. and 188).

To this century belong also two MSS. in the square character similar to that observed in MSS. from Bengal in the previous century. One of them, apparently written in Bengal, is in the Hodgson collection of the Royal Asiatic Society (No. 1, see Plate 2 in the Catalogue); the other is in the present collection (Add. 1693). The two hands are as much alike as if written by the same scribe, and it is not the least curious or significant among the palæographical and chronological coincidences of these collections, that the MSS., though dated according to the different systems of the two countries, belong to the same year, A.D. 1165.

The general style of the writing, as may be seen from our tables, and Plate II, as also from the Plate in the R. A. S. Catalogue, already cited, is that of the quasi-Kuṭila MSS. written in Bengal in the previous century. It will be noticed however that the ornamental and characteristic fine strokes at the bottom of the letters have almost disappeared. There is a tendency to modern Bengali forms in the letters e (initial) and bh.

Specimen leaves of two of the group (Add. 1699. 1—4) of early Bengali MSS. were reproduced by the Palæographical Society (Oriental Series Pl. 81) soon after my discovery of their true date [see also Plate II]. The letters which I have called in the accompanying description “distinctively Bengali” are initial ū, lṛi and lṛī, initial and medial e, ai, o, au; k, kh, c, ṇ, dh, y, r, v, and sh. Several of these forms may be found, however, in our Table from Nepalese MSS. Ç approximates rather to the Nepalese or the early Devanāgarī, as seen in the inscription in the Indian Antiquary, i. 81: h has the ordinary Devanāgarī form; ṇ, d, and p are all more or less transitional. Initial i may now be paralleled from Add. 1691. 2 (see Table).

The next MS. of certain date in this department of our collection is Add. 1364, dated Vikrama Samvat 1503 (A.D. 1447). The last leaf of this MS., perhaps the most beautifully written of the whole collection, is given in the Palæographical Society's Oriental Series, Plate xxxiii. The general appearance of the writing is more like the early MSS. just noticed than the contemporary and later MSS. of which lithographs are given by Dr Rājendralāla Mitra in his Notices of Sanskrit MSS., Vol. v. Amongst individual letters we may note that initial i has nearly reached the modern form; ç still resembles the Nepalese letter; l is still distinguishable from n, but ṇ, d, and p have nearly or quite assumed their regular Bengali forms.

For a full examination, however, of Bengali writing the materials exist at present only in India. Our collection presents only a few other examples, more or less isolated; and other Bengali MSS. in Europe reach back only about two centuries. One of our later MSS. Add. 1654. 2, dated 452, I described in Plate lxxxii of the Oriental Series of the Palæographical Society, together with a MS. sent by Dr Rājendralāla Mitra and considered by him to be his earliest specimen. I was then obliged to point out some inconsistencies in the learned Bābū's first interpretation of the colophon, especially in view of certain alterations given in his 5th Vol. of "Notices" above referred to, which reached me as my account was in the press. On further examination, it seems not unlikely that one or both MSS. are of the xvth century. The date of our MS., at all events, is expressed in characters almost identical with those of the MS. given in Dr Rājendralāla Mitra's new volume, Plate iii. if the lithograph can be relied on, viz. ढ ञ. The Bengali ढ

I had read as न (from which it is often quite undistinguishable), and naturally concluded that न जं indicated "Nepal Samvat" (452 = A.D. 1332). If however the Lakshmana Samvat be established as commencing in A.D. 1106 (see Dr Rājendralāla Mitra in the Journal of the Bengal Asiatic Society, XLVII. 399, sqq.), the date 452 corresponds to A.D. 1558.

Our collection contains several other MSS. and fragments, both palm-leaf and paper, in this hand, but our present unsystematized knowledge of later Bengali palæography, renders it difficult to assign to them certain dates. What is required is, no doubt, that some of the oldest MSS. in Bengal should be collected and systematically arranged, somewhat in the manner that has been attempted for our more continuous collection of Nepalese writing.

EXCURSUS ON TWO MSS. OF THE IXTH CENTURY, ADD. 1049 AND 1702.

As these MSS. are almost isolated survivals of an altogether earlier stage of writing, and lie away from our dated Nepalese series, they require special examination both as to their date and other peculiarities. A few words first on the history of the dated MS., Add. 1049. During Dr D. Wright's sojourn in Kathmaṇḍu, one of the ancient temples in the durbar fell into disuse, owing to the extinction of the family who were its hereditary guardians, and Sir Jung Bahādur gave orders for the building to be restored. "Restoration" being almost as summary a process in Buddhist temples as in some of our own sacred buildings, the temple furniture, including buckets full of coins and bronze tablets, and a huge pile of manuscripts, was brought out into the court—just as the European church-restorer hurls forth his ancient paving-tiles or tombstones into the churchyard, in favour of the "improved" modern flooring. Of the coins some few were saved from the smelting-pot by Col. F. Warren, who was then at Kathmaṇḍu, through whom and Dr Wright they have reached Europe. In the "Zeitschrift der deutschen morgenländischen Gesellschaft," 1882, I have identified some as of Aṃṇuvarman (VIIIth cent. A.D.; see above p. xxi). The great mass of the MSS. were abandoned to rot, at the instigation of the jealous Brahmans; but a handful of fragments, including this MS. and portions of others of various dates and subjects (see Add. 1679 and 1680), were given to Dr D. Wright.

The circumstances of the discovery of Add. 1049 were thus exceptional. Its date, as given in Plate I., is beyond question 'Samvat 252'; for as regards the first letter, ā is the undoubted equivalent for 200, and that  is in this MS. the mode of expressing ā may be seen from the alphabet on the other leaf. See the plate, where the alphabet-leaf has been photographed entire, together with the important part of the date-leaf. The character for 50 turned to the left, though unusual, has been noticed by Gen. Cunningham in his "Corpus Inscriptionum Indicarum," I. 22*. The figures being clear, it only remains to consider to what era they refer. That this is not the ordinary era of Nepal (which would give the MS. a date equal to A.D. 1132) is, it may be almost said, obvious, from a comparison of the letters with those of XIIIth century Nepalese MSS. as represented by the specimens in our Table, which show the adoption of a very marked local peculiarity, the hooked top, fully described above, and further exemplified by Plate 3 in the Catalogue of the Hodgson MSS. of the R. A. S. From the detailed examination of the letters which we shall presently give, it will be seen that some of the forms cannot be at all paralleled even in the XIth century, of which we have so many well preserved and archaic examples.

Palæographical considerations, again, forbid us to place the writing earlier than A.D. 600 at the furthest, even supposing that the palm-leaves could have lasted so long. This disposes of the Vikramāditya, Śāka, Gupta, and Vallabhi eras. One era remains, which we know to have been used in various parts of Northern India—that instituted by, and called after, the great conqueror Çriharsha. This era, which commenced in the year 606 A.D.*, was known in Kashmir in Al-Bērūnī's time, and we find it used in inscriptions of the xth century in Central and Eastern India (see Gen. Cunningham's Archæological Survey, ix. 84 and x. 101).

* A more recent notice of the use of this symbol, in MSS. of Western India, is to be found in Dr Kielhorn's "Report on Sanskrit MSS." (Bombay, 1881), p. ix. ; but from the whole passage there no very decisive result can be deduced as to its general usage. See also Sir E. C. Bayley's paper on the Numerals in the R. A. S. Journal for 1882.

But further, there has recently been brought from Nepal itself a series of inscriptions (already referred to in the preceding essays), published in the Indian Antiquary for Aug. 1880 by the discoverer Paṇḍit Bhagvanlāl Indrajī, and by Dr Bühler, the dates of several of which are assigned by them to the era of Çriharsha. The sequel of the article, containing the full justification of this decision, has not yet appeared, but I have been favoured by Dr Bühler with some notes on the subject. The first dated inscriptions of this part of the series (Nos. 6—15) belong to the reign of Aṃçvarman, whom Dr Bühler has no hesitation in identifying with the Aṃçvarman whom we find mentioned by Hiouen Thsang as reigning in Nepal at the beginning of the viiith century. In support of this identification we may now refer to the coins noticed above. Further, in the inscriptions Aṃçvarman acknowledges a sovereign lord, so that the era can hardly be his own, nor is any sovereign likely to have established an era at this time in opposition to that of Çriharsha, who conquered all India from Gujerat to Assam. We may also compare the statement of the Vaṃçāvali (Wright's Nepal, pp. 131, 132) that previous to the accession of Aṃçvarman the country was invaded by "Vikramāditya," who introduced his era, which however fell subsequently into disuse (ibid. p. 134). There is probably some confusion here with the great Vikramāditya, but still I observe that in the Rājatarāṅginī the names Harsha and Vikramāditya are applied to the same king. It is also worth noticing that, in Inscription No. 15, the great Çriharsha is mentioned with much solemnity as the ancestor of the queen. By this reckoning, then, the date of the MS. will be A.D. 857.

* So Dr Bühler; Gen. Cunningham makes it a year later. In the account of the MS. in the text correct A.D. 859 to 857 or 857—8.

One other MS. of this period, Add. 1702, is undated, but is in two hands, one of which especially is even more archaic than that of the MS. just noticed. The leaf selected for reproduction in Plate I. shows the end of the first hand and the beginning of the second.

For the purpose of comparison with the writing of these MSS., I have selected three inscriptions from the small number of dated examples that seem to be available for the illustration of the period of transition from Gupta to Devanāgarī. It will be observed that evidence derived from these examples is of the more weight from the fact that they represent a considerable variety as regards locality, material and subject.

The earliest of the three is No. 15 of Dr Bühler's series, dated Çriharsha Samvat 153 (A.D. 758), and thus 99 years earlier than our dated MS. The material on which the inscription is graven is slate. The character is described by the editors of the series of inscriptions to which it belongs, as a modified form of the Gupta alphabet. Although some further modifications have taken place, as might be expected, our dated MS. has many distinct Gupta features, and the whole bears striking resemblance to the forms of this inscription. The next example is the copper plate of Morvi in Gujerat (see Ind. Antiq. II. 258) dated in the 585th year of the Gupta era, and this is certainly of the same palæographical period as that to which we assign these MSS., even if the elaborate investigations of Gen. Cunningham (Survey, Vol. x. preface, etc.) be not regarded as finally established. Lastly, I have selected the pillar-inscription of Deogarh, made known to us in Gen. Cunningham's Volume just cited, where we find a reproduction (Plate XXXIII), apparently tolerably faithful in spite of the faultiness of the transcript (p. 101). The date is clearly expressed in two eras, and equals A.D. 862.

The general feature that most obviously distinguishes the character of these inscriptions and of our two MSS. from that of both inscriptions and MSS. of the XIITH and succeeding centuries is the absence of the regular horizontal top for each letter, which, as we found in later MSS. even in Nepal, and still more of course in ordinary Devanāgarī, tends to form a continuous line.

In these MSS., as contrasted with later ones, we must observe first the separateness of the letters, reminding us more of stone inscriptions than of written documents: and further we shall find in the examination of details, to which we now proceed, that the want of regularity as compared with modern writing is further increased by the fact that most of the letters have altogether open tops (thus m approximates to the form of modern bh); while the letters that have only a single main down-stroke, as k and t, show rather an approximation to the nail-headed form of character, commonly found in inscriptions of the early transitional period, than to the ordinary straight-topped form so pronounced in the Devanāgarī. I have also compared our MSS. with the Tibetan, and with the early North Indian alphabet as preserved, yet (as in the case of Tibetan) more or less modified, in Japanese works. The clearest examples of this are to be found in the Siebold collection at the British Museum (for my knowledge of which I have to thank Prof. Douglas), and also in Prof. Max Müller's edition of the Vajracchedikā.

We now proceed to examine the forms of letters in the MSS. in detail.

N denotes our first inscription, that from Nepal; M that from Morvi; D that from Deogarh.

For the MSS., A denotes Add. 1049, *B*¹ and *B*² the first and second hands respectively of Add. 1702.

§ 1. Initial Vowels.

a. This letter preserves the detached and open top found in Gupta and Tibetan. In Kuṭila, and in alphabets generally after the xth century, the closed top is found; though in the West of India the open top has survived to the present time.

ā. The long vowel is expressed by a curve below, as in inscriptions N and D. In other MSS. this is unknown, except in the archaic Çāradā character (see Haas in the Palæographical Society's Oriental Series, 44). In a few MSS. only it adds to the number of curious archaisms, surviving amongst the letter-numerals (=200, see the Table).

i. The triangular form of this letter, formed by dots or small circles, sometimes with a top-line, is an archaism in general Indian palæography; but as it survives to the present time in Nepal, no argument as to the date of these MSS. can be founded on it.

ī is of course extremely rare as an initial. The curve on the top, very similar to the one before us, occurs in Tibetan, which represents, as is well known, the North Indian character of the viith century, with local modifications.

u, ū. These letters have varied little from the Gupta period to the present time.

ṛi, rī. I have only been able to find analogies for these necessarily very rare letters, in the Çāradā alphabet, and, somewhat closer, in those of the Indian alphabets preserved in Japanese works. These have been as yet little studied, but as far as I can judge, their palæographic position is very similar to that of the Tibetan, though they seem to reflect a somewhat later stage of writing.

e. The triangular Açoka form, already lost in the Kuṭila, lingered on later in Nepal than elsewhere.

ai. The curve, though especially characteristic of the Kuṭila period, is found in all three inscriptions.

o. This form is nearly identical with the modern Bengali, with which however the Japanese corresponds. The earlier Nepalese Gupta inscriptions have this form in the syllable om.

au. Some analogy to the mode of lengthening this rare letter (to distinguish it from o) is found in Çaradā. The Bengali also shows the same thing, in a later development.

§ 2. Medial vowels.

ā. Besides the ordinary full vertical stroke, we get in MS. B (see the examples in table of letters) (1) the half stroke, commonly, but not invariably, used in the inscriptions; (2) the small up-stroke above the letter, usually, as in the specimen in the Table, employed with conjunct consonants. This seems not only to be unknown in any other MSS., but also to be wanting even in our selected inscriptions, being in fact a remarkable survival of an altogether earlier stage of writing. Compare, for instance, the series of Inscriptions from Mathurā given in Cunningham's Survey (Plates XIII—XV), where it is the regular form.

i. Here B¹ shows an earlier form, similar to that used in N and in Gupta generally. The form of A and B² is however used in M and D as well as in the Japanese. In Nepal however the regular modern form is not reached for some centuries later.

ī. B preserves the Gupta form, consisting of a simple hook or curve above the general level of the letters and springing from the top of the consonant. A has a transitional form, in which the curve springs from the top of the consonant but is carried down to the lower line of the letters in a sweep. This form is seen in D and in the Gopāla inscription cited below in the account of j. N has both forms.

u in B¹ is again archaic, corresponding with the forms of two of our inscriptions, N and M, a form not otherwise known in MSS. A, however, has the modern form, as also has D.

e. There are several modes of expressing this letter in our MSS. Only B¹ shows the most archaic form—the triangular pendant, resembling the left-hand member of a Roman T. This is the usual form in N, as in earlier Gupta, and is preserved likewise in the Japanese. In A we have (2) the line above as in Kuṭila. In M and D we have (3) a wavy line terminated in a dot, which generally hangs slightly below the line, so that we get something between modern Nepalese and Kuṭila. This is also found in Nepalese of the xth and xiiith centuries.

ai. This vowel is also expressed in three ways, corresponding to those given for e. B¹ takes, in addition to the form for e, a sloping stroke above, approximating to the modern form, while B² and A double or add the curving or wavy line above.

o and au have the same forms plus the mark of ā; though B¹, strangely enough, often has a form like that used in modern Devanāgarī.

Visarga and Anusvāra are often expressed by small circles, as in early inscriptions and in modern Bengali, instead of by mere dots, as in later MSS.

§ 3. Single Consonants.

k. Both the inscriptions and the MSS. show generally in this letter a marked departure from the Gupta and earlier form, where it was a mere cross or dagger-shaped sign. This form occasionally however survives in the sign for ku.

kh. The shape of this letter calls for little remark. The first member in N, as in our two MSS., is somewhat smaller than the second.

g also has changed very little. Some slight remains of the round-topped form are found in B.

gh. In this letter appear some of the most striking archaisms of these two MSS. They exhibit a form which down to the minutest details corresponds with that of inscription N (see last line). The left-hand part is open and slightly curved on the outside, resembling a modern घ, while the other half of the letter is pointed at the bottom.

ṇ. This letter has in A the simple form with pointed pendant, which is found in N and approximately in D. B has in place of this pendant the downward curve shown in the Table, which looks like a precursor of the modern dotted form.

c has changed little from the earliest times. Note, that, in the MSS., as in inscriptions generally as far back as those of Açoka, the stroke above the loop is not horizontal, as in modern Devanāgarī, but slopes somewhat downwards. In the Japanese this slope alone differentiates the letter from p.

ch. The archaic form of this letter is preserved in Nepalese writing of all dates.

j. The forms of this letter afford an interesting study for the transition. We get (1) in B¹ the archaic Gupta (hitherto quite unknown, I believe, in MSS.) resembling an E, found also in Tibetan. (2) In A we have the curious intermediate form, found also in some of the earlier Nepalese MSS., showing a small pendant to the right of the letter. In the inscription of Gopāla (Cunningham, Survey, Vol. I., plate XIII.), circa A.D. 820 (ibid., xi. 181), we get an exact counterpart of this form (compare also the Japanese). In B² the forms waver. Among our select inscriptions, N has the older form, while D and M show a transitional variety.

jh. In A this letter is intermediate between the Açoka and Kanishka and the modern Bengali forms. I have not succeeded in finding an example of this very rare letter in B.

ñ. This letter does not occur of course separately in inscriptions, or in non-alphabetic MSS. Where it appears as a conjunct in A, the form approximates to that of the cerebral nasal, which differs from it only in having a somewhat deeper depression in the middle of the top portion. This exactly agrees with N (cf. l. 26 ad fin., etc.). Anusvāra seems always to be used for this letter in B.

ṭ. The curious archaism of the pendant to the right (compare the form of j in A) is distinctly visible in M (l. 13, bis). Compare the Kashmirian.

ṭh. This letter appears in the same form in which we find it in all the early alphabets, namely a simple circle or ellipse, without any vertical or horizontal up-stroke or connecting line at the top.

d. The Gupta form survives almost unchanged in both MSS., the chief difference between this and the modern form being the angular character of the letter, which is not curved as at present. In B¹ we have the pointed back of the old form with an anticipation of the modern curve below it.

ḍh. This letter has changed little from Gupta times to the present. Note however that our MSS. agree with N (l. 13) in the peculiar pointed back, instead of the ordinary rounded shape. This last feature occurs in an exaggerated form in the Japanese.

ṇ. The forms in B fall between the Gupta and Kuṭila though nearer to the latter, especially in the case of B², where the wide and horizontal bottom of the middle portion of the letter is especially noteworthy, and seems quite unknown in Devanāgarī. A, though more modern in general form, shows a curious and minute correspondence with all three inscriptions in the curious ear-like projection at the top of the right-hand horizontal stroke.

t. The form of this letter in our MSS. is a hook-like curve, either touching a horizontal top line immediately, or suspended from it in the centre by a small vertical down-stroke. Both these varieties occur in Gupta inscriptions: the second lingers on, though in rare instances, in some of the earliest Nepalese MSS.

th. This character, which accords with N (l. 5 ad fin.), affords another instance of a form exactly intermediate between the Gupta and our earliest MSS. The former has a dotted circle, the latter show a character like the modern sh, while the present letter is semicircular and shows the dot increased to a small dividing line.

d. Our MSS. and inscriptions agree in showing a pointed form in this letter precisely similar to that just noticed in the case of ḍh.

dh. This letter differs from the early Nepalese form only in being somewhat more rounded at the top, and having in most cases a smaller vertical stroke; thus approximating more nearly to the Açoka form. Of our inscriptions, which vary somewhat here, D is the nearest.

n. This letter differs hardly at all from t except in the shortness of the left-hand member. The really distinguishing feature of the letter, as seen in Gupta, Tibetan, and Kuṭila, with which this otherwise accords, is the front loop, which is lost through the smallness of the handwritings.

p. The form in the MSS. is the same as that of our three inscriptions. The open top is found in all early inscriptions, as well as in Panjābī and Kashmirian, but never in later Nepalese or ordinary North Indian MSS.

ph. We have here two interesting stages of development. *B*¹ preserves nearly intact the Gupta form, or at all events with such slight modification as we find in M. In this form the direct connection with the p of the period can clearly be seen: Compare the Tibetan. The next stage, which we find in *B*² and still more plainly in A, is midway between the last and the modern Bengali. With it we may compare the Panjābī and Kashmirian forms. The nearest approach to these is to be found in our two earliest MSS. from Nepal, where the letter nearly approximates in shape to h.

b, v. There is little in the single form used for these two letters that calls for remark, except that the loop is somewhat larger than in the modern letter. The use of the single form for the two letters is paralleled by M.

bh. This letter in the somewhat minute writing of our two MSS. is often hard to distinguish from t, the only difference being the wedged shape of the left-hand member. In inscriptions, as D and M, we find the wedge left open, so that no difficulty is presented; so too in Kuṭila. The Japanese forms of the two letters are also interestingly illustrative.

m. The form with open top is found in our three inscriptions, as also in Gupta and Tibetan, but not in later MSS. It occurs in B¹, and generally in B² and A¹. The small horizontal projection at the lower left-hand corner (rounded in later MSS.) is a survival of Gupta usage.

y. This letter exhibits one of the distinguishing archaisms of B. The projection on the left with its minute cross-stroke is an early usage not even preserved in our three inscriptions, which agree with A in showing a form like that of the modern letter, but with open top and somewhat more curved in front.

r. The variations in this letter are too minute to require comment.

l. Our MSS. display considerable variety in the forms of this letter, showing the transition from the Gupta to the modern form.

ç, s. These letters are somewhat hard to distinguish from one another and from m. The normal shape of ç seems to be much like the modern s (स), but rounded instead of square at the top. This is the usual Gupta form, which survives also in xith century MSS. and in the Japanese. As might be expected however, from the frequent confusion of ç and s in North Indian MSS. of all dates (especially in Nepal), as well as from the small writing of our two MSS., the curve is often lost, and we get a straight top as in the modern s.

The proper form of s, and that usually found in both MSS., has the open top, but from the causes just mentioned the distinction is often wanting in A and occasionally in B². The distinction in M consists only in a mallet-like projection from the lower left-hand corner (compare the forms in D and M and in the Japanese), as compared with the merely produced line (cf. the Japanese) or the loop (cf. D) characteristic of m.

sh. Here again the open top of the letter constitutes an archaism and a survival of a Gupta form, not found in later MSS. It distinguishes the letter from a form otherwise very similar, that of th.

h. The form is a very slight modification of the Kanishka and agrees with our three inscriptions. The absence of the lower stroke found in the modern letter is especially noteworthy.

§ 4. Conjunct Consonants.

B has very noticeable archaisms in the cases of r preceding, and y following, consonants. The perpendicular nail-headed shape of the former exactly coincides with the forms in N and D, as well as in earlier inscriptions, but seems unparalleled in MSS.

The y by its peculiarly pointed form, curving under the letters to which it is joined, strikingly recalls the Tibetan y conjunct as distinct from y single. N and D again furnish exact parallels.

NOTE ON THE TABLES OF LETTERS AND NUMERALS.

THE Tables given in the present volume (Plates iv, v), which are lithographed from tracings made from the MSS. under the supervision of the compiler of this work, are designed to give a summary view of the progress of writing, as illustrated by these documents.

From the xviith century onwards no specimens have been given, partly because the peculiarities of xviiith century MSS. have been well discussed and illustrated in Dr Johann Klatt's work on Cāṇakya already cited, partly because from that time onwards MSS. offer no fresh points of palæographical interest, nor, at all events to those accustomed to the more archaic, any practical difficulty of decipherment. Thus both tables end with illustrations of the archaistic revival of the xviiith century described at p. xxxi. This of course must be borne in mind, if they be used merely in the manner supposed at p. xix. ad fin.

With regard to the Table of Letters, in view of the great extent of the Indian alphabet, an apology will scarcely be needed for giving here only such letters as seemed best to illustrate the gradual development of forms. The autotype illustrations* convey an accurate notion of the general style of writing of some of our most important MSS.; while the regular columns of the lithographic table are supplemented by the general column headed "other letters," in which I have endeavoured to group all the remaining forms that seemed likely to prove of interest.

* These, it will be observed, are all of the actual size, with the exception of Add. 1691. 2 on Plate III., which is slightly reduced.

As to the Table of Numbers, many interesting deductions are suggested in view of recent investigations on the subject, especially those of Paṇḍit Bhagvanlāl Indraji and Dr Bühler (Ind. Antiq. vi. 42), commented on in Burnell's South Indian Palæography, 2nd ed. p. 65, and those of Sir E. Clive Bayley in the R. A. S. Journal, New Ser. Vols. xiv, xv. Bearing in mind that the object of the present work is rather to provide material for research, than to originate or modify theories, I subjoin in this place only a few notes and suggestions.

We observe then, first and generally, the remarkable conservatism of the Nepalese Buddhists* in preserving side by side with the new system of digit numerals the old system of numeration by aksharas or syllables which I have termed "Letter-numerals."

The two systems were no doubt confused, so that we certainly find in many cases what Sir Clive Bayley (xv. 28) calls "a singular medley of the old and new" systems. Thus for the first three numerals, in earlier MSS., the figures for the first three digits are the same, or nearly so, in both systems. We do not find the newer system of "figures," in our sense of the term, used at first in Nepal for numbering the leaves of MSS., and in the passages of the text of the MSS. from which we draw our first examples the forms vary somewhat. It is important however to notice that at leaf 75 (७५) of Add. 1702, our most archaic MS., लृ२ and लृ३ are used for 12 and 13 showing, in qualification of Sir Clive Bayley's remarks (xv. 27 & 45), that the value of position was early understood in Nepal.

There is some variety of form, as in the case of 7, and in that of 4 and 5, as employed in the letter- or akshara-system.

Again we find in several MSS. the round mark for zero used with the akshara for all the even tens, 10, 20, 30, etc. (it is only indicated in the Table in each case for the 10). In Add. 1643 we even find the double zero with 200. The same MS. gives us the remarkable expression for 447 given in the note at the foot of the Table. It occurs at the end of Chapter I. All the other verse-numbers† are given in figures, on the new system. This case is especially curious from the unit and ten-numeral following the old system, while the four hundred is expressed by a mere unit-four figure, but of the forms employed for the unit under the old plan. With these exceptions, distinct sets of characters are preserved for the two methods throughout.

* The same thing has been found recently by Dr Kielhorn in early MSS. from Western India: see his Report for 1880-1.

As to the letter numerals: with regard to their progressive variation, we notice in some cases mere perversion of form, as where tri (5) changes to hri, or gra (7) to apparently a form of ña; in others, a change in the akshara as a *spoken sound, as when phra (6)† becomes bhra.

In the 200 of Add. 1049 the curve below must not of course be confused with the curve of the u in the probably original form su. See above p. xl.

As to the newer system ("figure-numerals"), the chief difficulty and interest lie in the forms used for 4, 5, and 6. The set of forms that I regard as characteristically Nepalese are most clearly seen in Add. 1395 (A. D. 1385) in contrast with the ordinary forms found in a considerably earlier MS., Add. 1644. These forms, apparently local, linger on in the coinage, though they are rare in the MSS., of the xvii—xviiith centuries. As to the last of the three, it will be found, I believe, to be a case of the preservation in Nepalese usage of a form developed from Gupta forms, the connecting link being furnished by the remarkable MS. Add. 1702. If the form for the figure 6 given in the second series of the Table be compared with the second of the forms given by Paṇḍit Bhagvanlāl (Ind. Ant. vi. 44, col. 4) it will be found to add still another instance to the number of remarkable survivals of the Gupta usage noted in the Excursus as found in that MS.

* Cf. Dr Bühler quoted by Sir Clive Bayley (xiv. 343).

† The evidence of the first of the two forms (both = phra) in our most archaic MS., Add. 1702, seems to me to go some way to disprove the objection of Burnell (S. I. P. p. 66) to Bhagvanlāl's theory, on the ground that the resemblance of the figure originally used for 6 to the syllable phra is accidental. The archaic looped form seems to supply just the connecting link that one would expect in support of the Paṇḍit's theory.

What is there said on the handwriting must however be corrected by the results of further examination, which will be found in the present writer's remarks on Plate LXXXI of the same series (Part 7, 1882). See the Palæographical Introduction to this Catalogue.

Copies of this book are numerous and often ancient; see Dr D. Wright's History of Nepal, p. 159 (a bibliographically curious passage). On the work itself, the 8000-line recension of the Prajñā-pāramitā, see Burn. Intr. p. 464.

Begins :

After this, come three more lines in the same style (cf. Add. 1163) and then the verse ये धर्म°, etc.; and then the following particulars as to time of writing:

अब्दे शते साष्टकविंशयुते मासे शुभे फाल्गुणाशुक्लपक्षे

What follows is too faint to be read with certainty, but the words मोक्ष and पाप and the title of the book can be discerned, so that it is probably a line in praise of the 'fruit' of reading the book.

After a full stop comes another line in rather fresher ink but similar handwriting :

VRIHAT SVAYAMBHŪ-PURĀṆA.

A work in verse on the sacred places of Nepal. See Hodgson Ess. Lit. Nep. 17; Burn. Intr. 581; Lotus 502—504; R. A. S. Cat. Nos. 17, 18, 23; Pischel, Catal. der Hdss. der Deutschen Morgenl. Gesellsch. 2—3. Of this purāṇa there seem to be at least three, and possibly four, redactions:

(1) The Vrihat svayambhū-p°, see also MS. Add. 1468.

(2) The Mahat-sv°; R. A. S. Cat. No. 18. This is perhaps rather a different recension of the text of No. 1 than a separate redaction, since most of the chapters coincide with No. 1 both at the beginning and end; though the beginning of the work coincides with No. 3, and that of ch. 2 with No. 4.

(3) The Madhyama-sv°; see MS. Add. 1469, R. A. S. No. 23, and Pischel, Cat. l. c.

(4) The smallest, see MSS. Add. 871, 1536, and R. A. S. No. 17.

Of these redactions Nos. 1, 2, and 4 have the same number of chapters, eight, with names in most cases identical; and No. 3, though in 10 chapters, is substantially the same.

The text of the present MS. is independent of Add. 1468; Compare the two lacunae which are marked in that MS. at the end of ch. 5; and the title of ch. 4 which in this MS. corresponds with ch. 4, of the 'madhyama' recension, while in Add. 1468 it is the same as in the others.

Paper; 76 leaves, 5 lines, 10 × 3 in.; dated N. S. 913 (A.D. 1793).

MAṆICŪḌĀVADĀNA.

The leaves are numbered as 75, 26 being written twice. The text is very faulty. There are also copies at Paris and Calcutta.

Begins (after the invocation):

एवं मया श्रुतमेकस्मिन्समये भगवान् आवस्थ्यां विहरति स्म ।
जैतवने अनाथपिण्डदयारामे । यदा भगवता प्रातिहार्यं वि- दर्शितं

The tale commences by the introduction of King Brahmadatta and his wife Kāntamatī at Sāketa; her pregnancy and various longings therein; the birth of a son who is called Maṇicūḍa, because born with a jewel on his head; his marriage to Padmāvatī, daughter of a ṛishi Bhavabhūti; the birth of a son Padmottara. In the subsequent course of the tale, Brahmasahāmpati and Çakra are among the speakers and actors, also a ṛishi Mārīci (sic).

At lf. 70 the characters in their present births are thus identified: The king Maṇicūḍa is the narrator, the Buddha; Padmāvatī is Yaçodharā, the yuvarājā Padmottara is Rāhula; Brāhmaratha was Çāriputra; Bhavabhūti is Ānanda; Mārīci is Kāçyapa; Brahmadatta is Çuddhodana, and Kāntamatī, Māyā; Māra is Maudgalyāyana; Indra is a bhikṣu Nāgira; the king Dushprasaha is Devadatta. In an earlier birth, Maṇicūḍa had been a sārthavāha who had built and adorned various stūpas.

The final colophon in Skt. and vernacular begins:

इति श्रीमणिचूडावदानं समाप्तं 76.

The remainder is to the effect that the MS. was written at Kāṭmandu in the reign of Rāṇa Bahādur, in the year above mentioned, at Gophalatora-vihāra by Viṇvabhadra.

Add. 875.

Paper; 90 leaves, 5 lines, $13\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.; dated N. S. 914 (A.D. 1794) reign of Rāṇa-bahādur.

SUVARṆA-PRABHĀSA.

Written in gold on black paper, in a square and somewhat crabbed hand, in the reign of Rāṇa Bahādur. See Burn. Intr. 529 sqq. (where an abstract is given); and Wassil. 153. From Beal's Buddh. Trip. 15 it appears that there is a Chinese version, of the viith cent. Cf. R. A. S. Cat. No. 8.

Begins (after invocations) :

श्रुतं मयैकसमये शृङ्गकूटे विजहार धर्मधातौ गम्भीरे....

The work consists of twenty-one Parivartas which end as follows:

1. इति सुवर्णप्रभासोत्तमसूत्रेन्द्रराजे निदानपरिवर्त्तः प्रथमः 3.

- इत्यार्यश्रीसुवर्णप्रभासोत्तमः सूत्रेन्द्रराजः परिसमाप्तः 90a.

After quoting the verses ये धर्मा हेतु° etc., invocations of blessings on his Ācārya parents etc., the scribe proceeds :

यदत्र पुण्यं तद्भवत्वाचार्योपाध्यायमाता नेपालेश्वर श्रीमन्महाराज हिन्दुपति बात्साह श्रीश्रीश्री रण बहादूर साह बहादूर समसेर (?) जंग देवानां सदा समरविजयिनां विजयराज्ये । युतीन्दुनन्द युत हायने स्मिन्तयावदाते (?) तिशिरामचन्द्रे तिथ्याङ्गुवायां (?) बुधवासरे च सुरे च कुम्भशशिकर्कदेस्ये (sic) । दानपति कान्तिपुरे महानगरे कमिलाच्छितोल धालसिका नामगृहाधिवासित पुण्यात्मानुराधेन (?) वालमुकुन्द सहोदर-भ्रातृ भाजुधंपुत्र जयप्रतापसिं पिता महिजयलक्ष्मिमाता रत्नवति दारा जगलक्ष्मी एते सहानुमतेन श्री ३ सुवर्णप्रभास° पुस्तकम जम्बूनन्देन चूर्णेन लिखापयित्वा प्रतिष्ठापितमभूत् । अस्य देशभखा ।

The translation into the vernacular accordingly follows, and the work concludes with an invocation to Mañjuśrī.

Like other MSS. in black and gold, the readings are difficult to decipher and little to be depended on.

LIST OF BOOKS.

The list is classified under the following heads :

1. Purāṇas	containing 51 books
2. Nīti	4 "
3. Itihāsa	3 "
4. Kāvyaṇī (sic)	36 "
5. Nāṭakāni	15 "
6. Sāṃhityāni (sic)	16 "
7. Vyākaraṇāni	41 "

9. Chandāṃsi	6 "
10. Jyotishāṇi	38 "
11. Tantrāṇi	29 "
12. Vaidyakāni	40 "

Inside the same cover is a shorter list in English writing, somewhat similarly classified, and headed 'List of books in Mahārāja's library.' It is impossible to say whether any such collection really exists. The fact is that these were received at Cambridge in answer to a request for information as to the books of which it would be possible to procure transcripts for the University Library. BODHISATTVĀVADĀNA-KALPALATĀ by KSHEMENDRA.

A copy of a copy, more or less direct, of Add. 1306; see the lacunae 141b, corresponding to a faded part of Add. 1306 (373b).

On the work see Burn. Intr. 555; also Feer in Journ. Asiatique 1879 p. 299; who also adds remarks on both our MSS. The complete work consists of 108 avadānas, and is divided into two parts or volumes, the first containing 1—49, the second 50—108. It must be borne in mind that Add. 1306, which is the original, though not the immediate, archetype of this copy, begins imperfectly in the middle of Tale 41 (Paṇḍitāvadāna). For details not given here see the description of that MS.

The author is Kshemendra, and the date of composition the 27th year of the Saptarshi era (A.D. 1052); see below, and on Kshemendra and his other works, one of which is partly Buddhistic, see Bühler, Report of Tour, Journ. R. A. S. Bombay, 1877, pp. 46, 47.

The work is in ślokas throughout.

The present copy is curiously miswritten, and the chapters are not numbered. It begins with Part 2 (Tale 50 in Add. 1306) and runs on correctly to the end of Tale 67.

Begins:

ये हेलोच्छलितप्रभावलहरीजाताद्भुतश्रेणयः ।

सत्त्वोत्साहभुवः स्वभावविमलज्ञानप्रकाशाशयाः ॥

आज्ञालेख्यलिपिं विधातृनृपतेः संसृक्तकर्मावलिम् ।

चित्रं तेऽपि न लङ्घयन्ति कुटिलां वेलामिवाम्बोधयः ॥

आवस्थ्यां प्रेरितास्तद्दुर्दृष्टैस्तीर्थिकाङ्गनाः ।

कीर्तिभङ्गीयताः शास्तुः सदेहा नरकेऽपतन् ॥

The subscription to each tale runs thus: इति क्षेमद्रविरचितायां बोधिसत्त्वावदानकल्पलतायां अवदानम् । (In Add. 1306 each is called a pallava). The titles are as follows: Daṣakarmapluṭya-vadānam (6a); Rukmatī (8a); Adīnapuṇya (11a); Subhāshitagave-shin (14a); Sattvaushadha (15a); Sarvaṃdada (17b); Gopālanā-gadamana (18b); Stūpa (19a); Puṇyabala (20b); Kuṇāla (29b); Nāgakumāra (30b); Karshaka (31b); Yaçoda (35b); Mahākāçyapa (38a); Sudhanakinnarī (51b); Ekaçṛīṅga (55a); Kavikumāra (59b); Saṅgharakshita (68b).

Then follow Tales 41—49, which (be it observed) are precisely the remnant of Part 1 still preserved in Add. 1306. The titles are : Paṇḍita (72a); Kanakavarṇa (73a); Hirāṇyapāṇi (74a); Ajātaçatru-pitrīdroha (76b); Kṛitajña (78b); Çālistamba (80b); Sarvārthasiddha (83a); Hastaka (87a); Shaddanta (91b). To these a note is prefixed, stating that the beginning of the Paṇḍitāvadāna 'though hunted for could not be found anywhere' (मृग्यमाने ऽपि कुत्रचिन्न प्राप्तं).

Tales 68—77 and the beginning of 78 are omitted altogether, though, as the end of Tale 67 does not occur at the end of a leaf in Add. 1306, it seems clear that there must have been a defect at this point in the copy of that MS. which our scribe had before him.

Then follows, after a blank page, the latter portion of Tale 78 (Çakracyavana), a note being entered on the blank space to the effect that the beginning of this tale could not be found; another proof of the defective state of the immediate original of this MS. The tales from this point run on correctly to the end of Tale 107, with which Kshemendra's own work ends. The titles are as follows: Çakra-cy[avana] (93a); Mahendrasenā (95b); Samudra (99b); Hetūttama (100b); Nāraka-pūrvika (102a); Rāhula-karmapluti (103b); Madhurasvara (104b); Hitaishī (105b); Kapīñjala (107b); Padmaka (109a); Citrahasi-çayyātiputra (112a); Dharmaruci (119a); Dhanika (119b); Subhashita [Çivi-subhāshitam Add. 1306, leaf 343] (121a); Maitrakanyakā (123b); Sumāgadhā (128a); Yaçomitra (128b); Vyāghra (129a); Hasti (130a); Kacchapa (130b); Tāpasa (131a); Bodhisattva (131b); Punahprabhāsa (132b); Çyāmaka (134b); Siṃha (135b); Priyapiṇḍa (136a); Çaçaka (137a); Raivata (139a); Kanakavarman (139b); Çuddhodana (141a).

On 151a we have the subscription इति चेमेन्द्रविरचितायां °लतायां तदात्मजसोमेन्द्रकृतं जीमूतवाहनावदानं। and the beginning of that section (141a, 8) relates that Kshemendra had completed 107 avadānas (सप्तोत्तरशतमेतत्तेन कृतं बोधिसत्त्व-चरितानां ।) and that his son Somendra made one more to complete a fortunate number (this is the same legend as that told in the Nāgānanda). The last colophon (151a) gives Kshemendra's genealogy; cf. Bühler l. c., and goes on to say that Kshemendra undertook the work at the instance of a Buddhist friend Nakka, who represented that Gopadatta and others had compiled 'jātakamālikās' in a difficult style गाम्भीर्यकर्कशाः; he therefore recommends him to make a selection in a pleasing style. He writes a few avadānas and is encouraged to do more by a vision of 'Bhagavān' in a dream; and is also assisted in Buddhistic research by an ācārya Viryabhadra.

What appears to be the original colophon is thus copied:

आचार्यः सोत्र सूर्यश्रीर्लिपिन्यासार्थमर्थितः ॥

संवत्सरे सप्तविंशे वैशाखस्य सितीदये ।

कृत्यं कल्पलतिका जिनजन्ममहोत्सवे ॥

कीर्तिस्ताराभ्रकुटिरुदिता पापशस्त्रप्रमाथे ।

दिक्षूत्साहः किमपि सुगती लोकनाथस्य यस्य ॥

तस्मिन् क्षीणीपतिपरिवृते शासति क्षामनन्ते ।

सन्तोषाय प्रश्नमुखिनां निर्मितोऽयं प्रबन्धः ॥ 151b.

The MS. ends:

समाप्ता बोधिसत्त्वावदानशतककल्पलता । कृतिरियं महाकवेः
क्षेमेन्द्रस्य । शुभमस्तु जगताम् । एतत् क्षेमेन्द्रकृत अवदानशतक-
ग्रन्थस्य परार्धमेवायं पर्वार्धं कुत्रचिन्न प्राप्तं शुभम् । 152.

This copy was made by a paṇḍit for Dr D. Wright. The original is on a large stone in front of an old temple on 'Sambhunāth,' a hill about a mile west of Katmandu. As might be expected from Burnouf's citations and criticisms, other schools and authors are often named, especially the Sāṅkhyas and Vaiṣeṣikas (e.g. 148b, 3), with the sect called Pācupatas; and again (153a, 3), where the same schools are called नग्रास्तार्किका ईश्वरोदिताः (here Add. 1607 213b, 1 has the better reading °ईश्वरादिकाः). The Lokāyatikas, also, are spoken of in 78b sqq. Towards the end (157b) occurs a strange passage of prophetic rhapsody in which many of the chief writers and sages of Hindu literature are named, as Kātyāyana, Pāṇini, Yājñavalkya, Vālmīki, Ācvalāyana, etc.

On 117a the works Hastikaksha and Āṅgalimālaka are referred to. The colophon, besides the date, (see above), gives the scribe's name, Sundara.

SPHUTĀRTHĀ ABHIDHARMAKOṢA-VYĀKHYĀ by YAÇOMITRA.

The writing resembles that of MS. 1586 (A.D. 1661). The hand is finer than usual, producing indeed the effect of having been written by an ordinary European pen. This was said to be the only copy of the work existing in Nepal, and the owner had a copy made for himself.

An accurate copy of the celebrated commentary on Vasubandhu's Abhidharma Koṣa. See Burnouf, Introd. pp. 563—574. He calls it, p. 447, "cette inépuisable mine de renseignements précieux sur la partie spéculative du Bouddhisme." The work was translated into Chinese by Hiouen Tshang: see S. Beal, Trip. 80.

Then follow some verses by the scribe on completing his task, followed by the lines ये धर्मा in the earlier form. (See Introduction.)

The MS. was copied by Paṇḍita Siddhasena in the year शशिमुरिसाब्दे (671 = A.D. 1551), but the date is not wholly trustworthy, as there this line and that above have been retouched.

Add. 1042.

Paper; 5 leaves, 10 lines, 13 × 6 in.; written in 1873.

Specimens of transcription.

(1) Two leaves of the Divyāvadāna, containing part of the Maitrakanyāvadānam.

(2) Three leaves of the Laṅkāvatāra, two from the beginning, and one from the end of the work.

These specimens were sent over from Nepal by Dr D. Wright in 1873, when it was proposed to obtain copies of various Sanskrit manuscripts existing in Nepal, for the University Library. It was from these leaves that the whole of the present collection took its rise.

Add. 1049.

Palm-leaf; 64 remaining leaves, written at first in 2, then in 3 columns, 3—5 lines, 16 × 2 inches; transitional Gupta character; dated (Çrīharsha) samvat 252 (A.D. 859).

Fragments of the PĀRAMEṢVARA-TANTRA and of other Tantric works.

The leaves are of curious narrow and curving form, much mutilated at the edges. The original numbering of the leaves is thus in many cases lost, and the references given below are to the pencil numbering of the 61 leaves that remain. On the handwriting and era see the Introductions to this Catalogue.

I. PĀRAMEṢVARA-TANTRA.

This work seems to treat partly of the mystical value of letters: see especially leaves 9 (२३), 27, 28b, 52a (१२६) in the first two of which full and very interesting alphabets will be found. The speakers are Parameṣvara or Īṣvara and Brahma. A great part of the work consists of ejaculatory prayers (Om...) to various personages. It is divided into at least 3 main sections (prakaraṇa).

The beginning is mutilated and almost entirely obliterated.

Chapters or sections of verses end as follows (the English numbers referring to the modern pencil numbering of the existing leaves, and the Devanāgarī numbers to those of the original, wherever they have been preserved):

Leaf 45 (११६) seems to contain the end of a section or volume as there is no writing on the verso.

चोख(?) पञ्चमभैरवीवर्द्धमानकं समाप्तः। 53.

The final colophon, including the date, runs thus:

इ० प० म० दीक्षाप्रकरणे दीक्षामुक्तिपटं श्लोकाः चत्वारिंशतं।

II. One leaf of the JÑĀNĀRṆAVA-TANTRA.

Same writing as the preceding. String-holes in slightly different position. Numbered १२१ on blank verso.

On the work see Burnell, Tanj. Cat. and Aufr. Cat. Bodl.

Ends:

इति ज्ञानार्णवमहातन्त्रे देव्या दण्डकम्यरिसमाप्तः॥

Paper; 25 leaves (folded backwards and forwards), 6 lines, 8 × 2½ in.; XVIII—XIXth cent.

NĀMA-SAṄGĪTĪ and ŚRAGDHARĀ-STOTRA.

Writing of various dates within the last two centuries; mostly very bad and indistinct.

Ends :

Then, beginning at the opposite end of the reverse of the paper:

NĀMA-SAṄGĪTĪ-ṬIPPANĪ or AMṚITA-KAṆIKĀ.

Some leaves are rather broken at the edges, and many pages, especially those at the beginning, are blurred and illegible.

For this Commentary on the Nāma-saṅgīti entitled the Amṛita-Kaṇikā, cf. R.A.S. Cat. No. 35.

Of Ratnajyoti we have no other notice; he was probably one of the upstart local rājas, of whom we hear several times in the Vaṃṣāvalī and elsewhere, as being subdued by the regular monarchs.

Add. 1160.

Paper; 42 leaves in book form, 12–13 lines, $10\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.; good Devanāgarī handwriting; modern.

A history of Nepal in Parbatiya; a redaction of the Vaṃṣāvalī.

This is the work referred to in Wright's History of Nepal Pref. p. vi, as "another redaction, or at all events a similar work [to the Vaṃṣāvalī] recognised by the Gōrkhas and Hindū races of the country."

Begins :

श्रीगणेशाय नमः । अविरलमदजलनिवहंभ्रमरकुलानेक-
सेविकपोलं ।

The MS. seems to end abruptly.

Some additional chronological particulars may be gained from this work: e.g. the lengths of the reigns of the monarchs (Wright p. 158), and various dates in the Kāli-yuga reckoning; but the history follows strictly on the lines of the Vaṃṣāvalī, and solves few or none of the chronological difficulties suggested by the colophons and inscriptions of the years between A.D. 1000 and 1600. Note however that the chronology does not, as a rule, accord with Kirkpatrick's account in his Nepal, in cases where he differs from other authorities. See the Historical Introduction to this Catalogue.

Add. 1161.

Palm-leaf; 8 leaves, 8 lines, 12×2 in.; dated N. S. 204 (A.D. 1084).

ŚISHYALEKHA-DHARMAKĀVYA by CANDRAGOMIN.

The first page is mounted on paper and touched up here and there. The hand is small and square with some interesting archaisms. The last page is reproduced in Plate XVII of the Oriental Series of the Palaeographical Society (Part 2, 1877), where a brief notice of this MS. will be found. On the author see Wassiliew, Tāranāth, 52, 207 etc.

The work is in verse, and the style is somewhat artificial and elaborate. It forms a general exposition of the ārya-satyāni, treating of the ills of life and their true remedy.

A redaction of this tale in 10 chapters is in the Paris MS. 98
(Divyāvadāna-mālā). The work (cf. Hodgson, Ess. Lit. Nep., 19) is an avadāna with regard to various points of vinaya, e. g., monastic buildings, the observance of feasts, etc. (cf. colophons). The chief characters are Indrapriṣṭha and Puṇyāvātī, King and Queen at the city Gandhavatī; other prominent personages are Vasubandhu and Jñānaketu.

APARIMITĀYUDHĀRAṆĪ-SŪTRA.

On leaf 1 there is an elaborately-painted picture of a Buddha holding a flower in a vase on his clasped hands.

If this be the work referred to in Beal's Buddh. Trip., p. 60, the sūtra was translated into Chinese before A.D. 1278.

Begins (after an invocation to Avalokiteśvara):

ए० म० अ० एक० सम० भगवन् आवत्यां (sic) विहरति स्म ।
जैतवने अनाथपिण्डदस्सारामे...

The substance of the work is a dialogue between the Buddha and Mañjuśrī, which begins thus (2a):

अस्ति मञ्जुश्री भूता परितादिशि (Add. 1623. 1 °भूपरिष्ठा-
न्दिसिर०) अपारमितायगुनसंचया (°अपरिमितान्दिसिगु०
1623) नाम लोकधातुस्तत्र अपरमृतायुः ज्ञानसुविनिश्चिततेजो (°मितायुज्ञ० 1623) रजायतथागतार्हन् etc. (the text being corrupt throughout).

On the next leaf a blessing is invoked on such as shall copy, read, or do honour to this sūtra. A similar passage occurs in two other places in the sūtra. One third of the work consists of invocations ('Om ..., ' to various personages).

Ends :

इति अपरिमृतायु (sic) नाम धारणी महायानशुचं समाप्तं ॥

Add. 1278.

Paper; 82 leaves, folded backwards and forwards, 6 lines, 6½ × 3 in.; dated N. S. 986 (A.D. 1866).

ĀDIYOGA-SAMĀDHI.

This MS. cannot be described better than in Dr D. Wright's words: "this book is called the Ādiyoga-samādhi, and consists of pictures of the positions on which the hands are to be placed in mudrās, whilst muttering mantras after bathing and before doing pūjā; the mantras are also given." The pictures are numerous and clearly drawn.

Begins :

This work agrees with that described in R. A. S. Cat. No. 39; but No. 73 is a different work, though bearing the same title as the present MS.

Add. 1305.

Paper; 34 leaves, 7 lines, $12 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; modern.

PIṆḌAPĀTRĀVADĀNA.

Some blanks are marked as occurring in the original.

An avadāna directly bearing on vinaya, (Burn. Intr. 39); for the tale cf. id. ib. 223.

Begins :

जिनः श्रीभगवान् बुद्धो विहारे मणिमण्डिते ।

जेतवने खशिक्ष्यैश्च सार्द्धं व (sic) विजहार सः ॥

अनेकैर्बोधिसत्त्वैश्च बज्रप्रत्येकबुद्धकैः ।

आवकैर्जिनशिष्यैश्च भिक्षुभिक्षुण्युपासकैः ॥

A Çrāvaka, named Sunanda, addresses Buddha :

भाषस्व भगवन्नाथ पुण्यवीजं सुचेत्रदं ।

यत् सुचेत्रोपितं वीजं बज्र फलं प्रसूयते ॥

Buddha replies to this and other questions, and on 12a tells the story of Bali, and his final conversion to Buddhism.

At 33a Bali exclaims :

अहो गुणमयं चेन्न सर्वदोषविवर्जितं ।

अद्यैव रोपितं वीजमद्यैव फलसंपदं ॥

The book is in verse, but without any division into chapters.

Ends :

इति पिण्डपात्रावदानं समाप्तं ।

ADD. 1306.

Palm-leaf ; 229 remaining leaves (besides 6 of paper†), 5—6 lines, 13 × 2 in. ; dated N. S. 422 (A.D. 1302).

BODHISATTVĀVADĀNA-KALPALATĀ by KSHEMENDRA.

Excluding a palmleaf at each end, one containing a note of the defect at the beginning, the other a list of the tales in Part 2 (Nos. 50—108), the leaves of the MS. may be thus described :

Leaves 1—174 of the original MS. are wanting, and with them Tales 1—40 and part of 41. What the lost tales were may be seen from the metrical list at the end, as noticed below.

Leaves 175—198 contain the end of Tale 41, and the whole of 42—48, ending in 198b (middle of last line). These tales are numbered 42—49, but that this is a mistake is evident from the metrical list.

Tale 49 (here misnumbered 50) begins on 198b directly after the end of the preceding, and occupies the leaves now numbered 199*—

† Of the 6 paper leaves, one (185) supplies a defect, the others are clearly-written transcripts of the somewhat faded leaves of the original after which they are severally inserted.

205*. As the next tale is numbered 50 and begins Part 2, while the original numbering of the leaves is continued, it is evident that the scribe had by accident omitted this tale, and copied it in afterwards.

Leaf 199*a*, originally left blank as the opening of Part 2, now contains an unfinished list of the tales in this Part.

Leaves 199*b*—250, 248*—250* (the numbering accidentally repeated), 251—279, 279*, 280—390, contain the whole of Part 2, or Tales 50—107 of the original author's collection, followed by Tale 108, added by Somendra, and a metrical table of contents of the whole work.

The MS. was written by Mañjubhadrasudhi in the reign of Anantamalla of Nepal, who must not be confounded with the Anantamalla of Kaçmîr in whose reign the work was composed.

The first remaining tale of Part 1 begins thus imperfectly :

... सहिष्णुदः (?) ॥

अर्थि.....कल्पवृक्षं दिक्षु विश्रुतः ।

शतानि पञ्चसम्प्राप्तास्त्वामुद्दिश्यामि वयं ॥

The several tales, each here described as °कल्पलतायां पल्लवः, end as follows (the numbers in the MS. being 42—50, as noticed above):

41	Panditāvadāna	175 a —179 a .	46	Çalistamba	190 a .
42	Kanakā	180 a .	47	Sarvārthasiddha	193 b .

45	Kṛitajña	187 b .

Here Part 2 begins :

89 Dharmaruci	339b.	107 Çuddhodana	373a.
90 Dhanika	341b.

Then follows Somendra's supplementary tale, 108, entitled Jimūtavāhana (386a), at the end of which comes the genealogy noticed under Add. 913†, and then the table of contents in ślokaś, ending on 389b.

The scribe's own subscription runs thus :

समाप्ता बोधिसत्तावदानकल्पलता । कृतिरियं महाकवेः

ĀDIYOGA-SAMĀDHI.

The first portion of the work described under Add. 1278. It begins like that MS., and contains numerous drawings to illustrate the position of the hands in various pūjās. The writing is very careless and incorrect. The book has no title and no conclusion. There is on the fly-leaf apparently the date N. S. 958 (A. D. 1838), but the second figure is not clear.

Inaccurately written. Compare R. A. S. Cat. No. 56.*

This work is thus described by Mr Hodgson (Essays, p. 18), "an Upadeśa Dhāraṇī, an account of the five Buddha-Saktis, called Pratisarā, &c.; prose; speaker, 'Śākya; hearer, Ānanda Bhikṣu."

DHĀRAṆĪ-SAṄGRAHA.

Good close and regular Nepalese hand-writing.

At the beginning and end of the work are somewhat brilliant illuminations of deities, etc. The binding-boards are also illuminated.

A collection of Dhāraṇīs different from the Dhāraṇī-saṅgraha of R. A. S. Cat. No. 55, and also from Add. MS. 1485.

Begins, after invocatory preface:

प्रथमतलं पर्वतारण्यादेरत्युच्चशिषरशिरो°

The collection contains many hundreds of short dhāraṇīs, connected with all the chief personages of the Buddhist Pantheon, as well as with some of the chief literary works: e.g. the 'Lotus' and the Laṅkāvatāra (8b).

The colophon commences (223b) in what is intended (see below) for Sanskrit:

The vernacular colophon accordingly follows. Then a blessing ;
after which :

JĀTAKA-MĀLĀ.

A transcript of the Jātakamālā, containing 34 jātakas. See Add. 1415 for an account of the work. After the close of the 34th Jātaka (80a), ending as in Add. 1415, a short concluding chapter is added in this MS.

GUHYASAMĀJA (PŪRVĀRDDHA).

This MS. is a copy made for Dr D. Wright, unfortunately from the same MS. from which Add. 901 is taken; compare the marks of lacunae which coincide throughout. The only slight differences I have noted are in two titles, see Add. 901 supra. Ch. i. ends 5a; ii. 6a; iii. 7a; iv. 8a; v. 8b; vi. 10a; vii. 12a; viii. 13a; ix. 14b; x. 16a; xi. 18b; xii. 21b; xiii. 29b; xiv. 35a; xv. 43a; xvi. 48a; xvii. 57b; xviii. 67a.

Add. 1330.

Stout yellow paper; 84 leaves, 6 lines, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.; dated N. S. 761 (A.D. 1641).

KĀRAṆḌA-VYŪHA (prose version).

The lines are ruled and the writing is regular, though not so fine as we sometimes find at this time.

There are five illustrations, somewhat poor in colour and drawing.

The colophon is in the vernacular. See Add. 1267.

Ends :

आर्यकारण्डव्यूहमहायानसूत्ररत्नराजं समाप्तं ।

Add. 1331.

Paper; 33 leaves, 6 lines, $8\frac{1}{4} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ in.; modern.

Part of the AMARA-KOṢA.

Ends abruptly with the lines in the bhūmi-varga :

धरा धरित्री धरणिः क्षीणी ज्या काश्यपी क्षितिः । सर्व-
सहा वसुमती — (II. i. 2).

Add. 1332.

Paper; 22 leaves, folded backwards and forwards, 7 lines, $8\frac{1}{4} \times 2\frac{3}{4}$ in.; XVIIIth cent.!

NĀMA-SAṄGĪTĪ and STOTRAS.

A volume of gāthās and stotras, addressed to Lokanāth (Macchendra?), Avalokiteṣvara, &c. in very corrupt Sanskrit, and occasionally perhaps in some native dialect. Stotra is always written totra.

Begins at p. 9 :

कामुलिपर्वतपितसुवर्णं जक्षकिन्नरनागमनुष्यदुदुमर्केंद्र
सागरनन्दि त्रिञ्चिनारायन देव नमस्ते । वामलउक्षवसागरजक्ष
नन्दीकपीतसुराय कमाने सूर्य्य सुमण्डल सूर्य्य सुतेज त्रिष्णु० ।

This hymn occurs in Add. 1333 leaf 2.

The following are the colophons of the stotras :

इति श्री अनन्तनागराजाविरचितं श्रीलोकनाथतोत्रं समाप्त ।

इ० श्रीमच्छ्रीमदार्यावलीकितेश्वरभट्टारकस्य जमराजा-
स्तवतोत्रं परिसमाप्त ।

इ० श्रीमदार्याव० कस्य त्रिष्णुनारायनतोत्रं समाप्त ।

इ० अ० कस्य चर्युतिया (?) विरचितस्तवतोत्रं परिसमाप्त ।

इ० अ० कस्य रूपस्तवतोत्रं परिसमाप्त ।

The Nāma-saṅgīti then follows ; see Add. 1323.

Add. 1333.

Paper ; 48 leaves, folded backwards and forwards, 6—7 lines,
7 × 3¼ in. ; dated N. S. 917 (A.D. 1797).

STOTRAS.

The MS. is in several hands, some being mere modern scribble.

The book is said to contain hymns and prayers in Sanskrit with a Newari translation.

The chief colophon runs :

इति श्री आर्यावलीकितेश्वरवधभट्टारकस्य कारुणास्तकटोत्रं (sic)
समाप्त । सम्वत् ९१७ आवन वदि २ ।

In another page occurs, in a later hand, the date सम्वत् ७४३ ।

Add. 1334.

Paper ; 20 leaves, folded backwards and forwards, 5 lines,
7½ × 3 in. ; modern.

BHĪMAŚENA-PŪJĀ.

Several leaves are blank or only filled with diagrams. The writing is very careless.

The work contains a short liturgy, with prayers and hymns and references to ceremonial acts such as candanādi-pūjā, &c.

Begins :

दे (हे ?) मुलिजय जापयाय (?)

Ends :

इति भिमसेनपूजा समाप्त ।

Add. 1335.

Coarse brown paper ; 3 leaves, 5 lines, $12\frac{3}{4} \times 3$ in. ; modern.

PRAYERS.

Some tattered leaves containing short passages and invocations. The beginning is torn, and there is no regular colophon.

Ends :

भक्त्याहं वाचयामि प्रणमितसिलसा (?) त्वं महायाणशुत्रं (sic) ।

Add. 1336.

Paper ; 3 leaves, 6 lines, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in. ; modern.

DHĀRAṆĪS to PARṆĀ-ÇAVARĪ.

Apparently a fragment from a collection, one leaf being numbered 24. A Parṇa-çavarī-sādhana occurs in the Sādhana-mālā-tantra Add. 1648, leaf 90.

Add. 1337.

Paper ; 1 leaf, 8 lines, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in. ; modern.

PRAYERS.

This leaf contains short mantras addressed to the eight Mātrikās.

Add. 1338.

Coarse brown paper ; 9 leaves, 6—7 lines, 8×4 in. ; modern.

PRAYERS.

Several of the pages are blank or illustrated with symbols and coloured drawings of the Mātrikā goddesses. It contains apparently some prayers used in their worship in a very corrupt Sanskrit or patois.

Add. 1339.

Paper; 272 leaves, 16—17 lines, 15 × 7 in.; modern.

SUVARṆAVARṆĀVADĀNA.

Written by several scribes. It is a portion of the Vratāvadāna-mālā (extant in the As. Soc. Beng. Collection at Calcutta). In 3 chapters.

Begins, after invocations and enumeration of certain Bhikshus :

जयश्रीभिर्भूव यो सौ जिनश्रियमुवाच तं श्रूयतां कथयिष्या-
मि लक्ष्मैत्यव्रतं महत् ।

1. इति श्रीव्रतावदानमालायां सुवर्णवर्णावदानं चैत्यव्रता-

वक्त्रिरस्यहैर्वर्षे ज्येष्ठमासे शितेदले । श्रीनील मुनिनामैः (sic)
त्यलिखत्पुष्टकमिदं ।

The first chapter introduces a sārthavāha Divākara, son of Ratnākara, who visits Mahākācyapa.

The origin of the name Suvarṇavarṇa is to be found in the second chapter, lf. 22b, l. 1.

The third chapter tells of a sārthavāha Karṇa, and commences by relating the circumstances of the birth of his son, named Dvirūpa, 71b.

The date is in figures, and the name of Rāja Vikramasāh is appended.

Add. 1342.

Paper ; 79 leaves, 7 lines, $13\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ in. ; modern.

SUVARṆA-PRABHĀSA.

The beginnings and endings of the chapters substantially the same as in Add. 875 (which see). The postscript however consists only of the verse ये धर्माः, with another verse of invocation not found in Add. 875. At the end is a leaf which a note by Dr D. Wright states to have been put with this MS. simply as a cover. It is the beginning of a modern copy of the Paramārthanāmasaṅgati (see Add. 1347), giving the first $7\frac{1}{2}$ ślokas.

Begins :

अथ वज्रधरश्रीमान् । दुष्टहान्तदमकं परः त्रैलोक्य-
जयविलः गुह्यरात् कुलिखस्वरः (sic) ॥ १ ॥

Add. 1343.

Paper ; 71 leaves, 4—5 lines, $7 \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ in. ; in various hands, mostly XVIIIth century.

A DHĀRAṆĪ-SAṅGRAHA.

Leaves 16, 38, 39 are wanting.

Ends :

आर्यः श्रीबुद्धभद्राकस्य दशबलष्टवस्तीतं समाप्तः ।

We find here several of the charms that are usually comprised in such collections ; e.g. the Vasundhārā (4), the Gaṇa-patihṛidaya (10b) and the Marīci (19); all of which are in the saṅgraha of R. A. S. Cat. No. 79.

Add. 1344.

Paper; 79 leaves, 7—9 lines, $11 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; ordinary modern Devanāgarī hand.

AMARA-KOṢA.

Well written with daṇḍas in red ink, and occasional comments in a small fine hand written over the lines.

The work begins with the stanzas given in Deslongchamps' edition, p. 1. The first Kāṇḍa (lf. 16) has its own index and cover. The MS. concludes with an index.

Add. 1345.

Paper; 17 leaves, 10—12 lines, $13 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; modern.

KAPĪCĀVADĀNA.

There are copies at Oxford and Paris. See also Add. 1537.

After a preface of four lines, containing benedictory invocations and promise of bliss to the reader, it begins :

Add. 1352.

Paper; 15 leaves, 5 lines, 11 × 3 in.; dated N. S. 985 (A.D. 1865).

MAHĀKĀLA-TANTRA.

This is probably an abstract of part of the larger Mahākāla-tantra-rāja (R. A. S. No. 47 and Paris Bibl. Nat. Nos. 47 and 48). See the account in Burn. Intr. p. 539. On the Tibetan version, see Feer in Ann. G. ii. 29.

The MS. begins like that of the R. A. S., and on leaves 7a, 10a the colophons are those of Chapters V. and VII. respectively of that MS.

We have also (leaf 12) वस्यपटलः (cf. ibid. Ch. XVII.); (13) वर्खायनप० (? cf. Ch. XXII.); (14) सर्वसत्त्वस्थार्थाय पटलं ॥

UTPĀTA-LAKSHAṆA-[LOKEṢVARA-BHĀSHITAM].

A work on omens, in two parts. The work "Lokeṣwara-parā-djika" at Paris, Bibl. Nat. (D. 129) is identical (save in its preface) with the second part of this work.

Begins, after invocation to Mañjuṣrī :

इति उत्पातलक्षं । मंजुश्रीपाराजिका इति 12a.

Then follow two lines in a vernacular.

Part 2 consists of 55 stanzas with introduction and a long postscript.

The preface is a short dialogue between Tārā and the Buddha.

The first stanza begins :

VASU-DHĀRAṆĪ [or VASUDHĀRĀ-DHĀRAṆĪ].

The handwriting is square, close, and regular. Written in the reign of Sadāṣiva. The leaves are numbered 1—22, of which leaf 14 is missing.

The dhāraṇī is introduced by the narration of part of the tale of Sucandra (see Add. 1400).

Begins (after invocation and two lines of preface): एवं मया etc.

DHĀRAṆĪS.

Leaf 20 is written in a very inferior, and more recent hand.

The collection is called Saptavāra in Dr D. Wright's list, Hist. of Nepal, p. 318. Compare the collections in R. A. S. Cat. No. 59 (where also the name Saptavāra occurs) and No. 79.

In spite of our possessing three independent MSS., the Sanskrit is so utterly barbarous, as to render even the main thread of the story all but unintelligible to the ordinary reader.

The opening of the story however introduces a devī, Vasundharā, who commands a divine sage (?) Nandimukha-Açvaghosha to be born in the world of mortals (martyamaṇḍala, or, as the MSS. everywhere call it, 'matya-maṇḍala'). Nandimukha is visited by a king. Mistrusting the king's designs, the sage transforms himself through the power of the devī into a boar and lays waste the palace-garden. The pursuit of the boar is then described. Presently, beneath an Açva[-ttha?]-tree an Apsaras appears who proclaims the power of the Vasundharā-vrata (11b); further incidents illustrating this follow, a Vasundharā-vrata-sūtra being mentioned at 19a. Story of a maid-servant (ceṭikā) of the palace who practises the vrata. Declaration of the ten Kuṣālas by the devī (32). The king and his son practise the vrata.

Such seems to be an outline of this incoherent emanation of the latest school of Northern Buddhist mythology.

Observe, that there appears to be nothing in the book to substantiate the statement in Burnouf, as above cited, that the work is by Aṣvaghosha. It seems rather to be a fragment of his mythical history, comparable in tone and authority to the mediæval stories about Virgil.

GUHYASAMĀJA (PŪRVĀRDDHA and PARĀRDDHA).

For the remaining portion of the work, see Add. 1617. From the colophon, 258b, we might infer that only Part 2 is known as Tathāgata-guhyaka; but from the size of the Paris MS. of that name (255 leaves), it would seem that the name refers to both Pūrvārdha and Parārdha. Mr Hodgson makes the names Guhyasamāja and Tathāgataguhyaka synonymous (Ess. Lit. Nep. 17). The work ranks as a "dharma" in Nepal; see Burn. Intr. 68, 542.

SUKHĀVATĪ-VYŪHA.

"The title varies between Sukhavatī and Sukhāvātī, but the preponderance of MSS. at present known is in favour of Sukhāvātī.

See a short abstract of the Sūtra in Burnouf's Introduction à l'histoire du Bouddhisme, p. 99 seq. The text of the smaller Sukhāvātī-vyūha was published with translation and notes by Professor F. Max Müller in the Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society, 1880, pp. 153—188.

Of the three MSS. which I have collated, those of the Bodleian Library and the Royal Asiatic Society belong together, while the Cambridge MS. frequently gives independent readings.

The subject is as follows :

Bhagavat was staying at Rājagṛiha on the Gridhrakūṭa mountain and addressed himself to Ānanda. Ānanda observed the glorious countenance of Bhagavat, and asked whether this was due to his Buddha-wisdom or to his remembrance of former Buddhas. Bhagavat praised Ānanda for thus questioning him, and then told him the story of a former Buddha. The 81st Tathāgata after Dīpaṅkara was Lokeṣvara, and among his pupils was a Bhikṣhu called Dharmākara. This Bhikṣhu sang Gāthās in praise of Lokeṣvara, and expressed his wish to become a Buddha. When asking for instruction, and particularly for information as to the right qualities of a Buddha-country, Lokeṣvara at first told him that he should find them out for himself. But when Dharmākara declared his inability to do so,

Lokeṣvara consented to explain these qualities. After he had listened to Lokeṣvara, Dharmākara wished to combine all the good qualities of the 81 Buddha-countries and concentrate them upon his own, and, after an absence of five Kalpas, he returned to Lokeṣvara with his own prañidhānas or prayers for the good qualities of his own future Buddha-country. Dharmākara then proceeded to recite his prayers for blessings to be conferred on his own Buddha-country, which prayers (varying in number) are very famous and often referred to by Northern Buddhists. After that, Dharmākara recited some Gāthās in praise of Buddha Lokeṣvara, and obtained the object of his prayers. He then performed for many Kalpas all that was required to become a perfect Buddha, he acquired all the Pāramitās, and taught others to follow his example. When Ānanda asked Bhagavat what had become of that Bodhisattva Dharmākara, Bhagavat replied that he was living then in the west in Sukhāvatī, and was in fact Amitābha (the chief Buddha of the Northern Buddhists). Then follow long descriptions of the light of Amitābha, his various names are given, the number of his followers, and his boundless age. It is stated that he obtained Buddhahood ten Kalpas ago. Then follow full accounts of Sukhāvatī, its trees, flowers, rivers, and the enjoyments granted to all who are born into that Buddha-country. Whatever they wish for they obtain. Buddhas from other countries come to praise Amitābha, who appears to his believers whenever they come to die, and allows them to enter Sukhāvatī. After some more Gāthās follows a description of the Bodhi-tree in that Buddha-country, and the benefits flowing from it. Two Bodhisattvas are mentioned as having left this Buddhakṣetra to be born in Sukhāvatī, viz. Avalokiteśvara and Mahāsthāmaprāpta. Then follows a new description of the excellencies of Sukhāvatī in which the blessings prayed for in the former Prāñidhānas are represented as realised, and the inhabitants of Sukhāvatī described as in the full enjoyment of all blessings.

Ānanda then expressed a wish to see Amitābha and the Bodhisattvas face to face, and at the same moment Amitābha sent a ray of light illuminating the whole world. They could see the people of Sukhāvatī and the people of Sukhāvatī could see Çākyaṃuni and all the inhabitants of the Sahāloka-dhātu.

Then a dialogue follows between Bhagavat and Ajita, Bhagavat asking Ajita whether, after seeing the people of Sukhāvatī, he thinks that there is any difference between the Parānimitavaçavartin gods and the human beings in Sukhāvātī. Ajita says that he sees none. Next comes a question why some of the people are born there miraculously out of lotus flowers, while others are born after dwelling for some time within the lotus. The reason is that the former have had firm faith in Amitābha, the latter had entertained some doubts. Lastly Ajita asks whether people of this and other worlds are born in Sukhāvātī, and Bhagavat gives a long enumeration of those who either from this or from other Buddha-countries have risen to Sukhāvātī. The whole ends with the usual panegyric of the Sukhāvātīvyūha-sūtra, and an account of the rewards for learning, writing, repeating, and teaching it."

For the above account of this MS. I am indebted to Prof. F. Max Müller, to whom it had been lent when this part of the Catalogue was in preparation.

Leaves 6 and 7 are filled in with newer paper and ink.

For beginning, etc., see Add. 1623. 2.

Ends with same sentences as 1623. 2, more briefly expressed, and title as follows :

Add. 1385.

Paper ; 17 leaves, 5 lines, 9½ × 3 in. ; dated N. S. 779 (A.D. 1659).

APARIMITĀYU-DHĀRAṆĪ-SŪTRA.

The leaves are numbered 54—70.

The work stood apparently fifth, from the No. 5 at the beginning, in a series. Compare Add. 1623.

For beginning and end see Add. 1277.

On 69b after the title, ये धर्माः, शुभं etc., and full date, the scribe proceeds :

The MS. terminated originally at leaf 109: on the back of which we get a long colophon, chiefly in the vernacular, of which the following is the first part (intended for glokas):

शून्यवाणांकयुग्वर्षे मार्गे मासे ऽसिते स्मरे ।

अमृतानन्देन लिखितं बुद्धकाव्यं सुदुर्लभं ॥ (sic, contra metrum)

सर्वत्रान्विद्य नो लब्धा चतुःसर्गे च निर्मितं ।

चतुर्दशं पंचदशं षोडशं सप्तदशं तथा ॥ २ ॥

Then follow some lines, chiefly in vernacular, as to the reigning monarch (Rājendra Vikrama). The remainder of the MS. (109*—114), written in the same hand, on leaves fresher looking and slightly smaller, contains ch. 17.

Add. 1389.

Paper; 61 leaves, 7 lines, 10 × 4 in.; xviiith or early xviiith cent.

GOPĪ-CANDRA-NĀṬAKA (vernacular).

Siddhinṛisimha is mentioned at 61a l. 7.

Compare Dr Pischel's Catal. der Deutschen Morg. Gesellsch. No. 4 (also a vernacular play), p. 6 med.

At 1b, l. 1, Govinda-candra, 'Bangero adhipati', is mentioned.

Begins :

Ends :

The latter part of the MS. is a good deal damaged.

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

For chapters see Add. 1325 ch. 1, 31a, also the verse ये धर्मा° at the end.

At the end of the book after ये धर्मा° we find :

श्रेयो ऽस्तु । सम्वत् ५०५ कार्तिक शुक्ल अष्टम्यां तिथौ स-
निम्बरवासरे । श्रीश्री जयस्थिति राजमल्लदेवस्य विजयराज्ये
लिखितं ।

Another hand on the cover, newer-looking but in the same style of character, gives a date (? of recitation) N. S. 572, month Jyeshṭha, in a vernacular.

Add. 1398.

Paper ; 46 leaves, 7 lines, $13 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in. ; modern.

MANICŪḌĀVADĀNA.

Begins and ends as Add. 874, which see ; compare also Add. 1375. The text however seems independent of both these MSS.

Add. 1400.

Paper ; 18 leaves, 6 lines, 12×3 in. ; dated N. S. 888 (A. D. 1768).

VASUDHĀRAṆĪ-KATHĀ (?) or SUCANDRĀVADĀ[NA].

The second title is written on the left-hand margin of each verso.

The above date though palæographically possible is not altogether trustworthy, as it is added in a somewhat later hand.

The work is a tale of a rich merchant Sucandra who, with his wife Candravatī, is reduced to poverty, and on consulting the Buddha is told of the magic efficacy of the Vasudhārā-dhāraṇī (10a). Compare Add. 1355.

Begins with the same words as Add. 1357 (which compare, and R. A. S. Cat. ib. cit.); after which :

अस्ति तस्मिन् समये भगवान् जम्बद्वीपस्य काशायां महा-
नगर्याम्बिहरति स्म ।

VASUNDHARĀ-VRATA (from the Vratāvadānamālā).

The MS. has been recently pieced and mended in most leaves.

Begins :

अशोको ऽथोपगुप्तं तं व्यजिज्ञपत्कृताञ्जलिः ।

Upagupta then tells the story of a king Sūryodaya who gained offspring, wealth and power by the observance of the Vasundharā-vow. After 32 verses, the tale proceeds in prose :

ततः केचित्साश्चर्या जना राजानं विज्ञाय...

Ends :

इति श्रीव्रतावदानमालायां श्रीवसुन्धराव्रतकथनं समाप्तं ।

Then the date, as above.

Add. 1405.

Coarse paper; 55 leaves, 5 lines, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ in.; dated N. S. 734 (A.D. 1614).

CAITYA-PUNĠALA.

Compare R. A. S. Cat. No. 22.

A very faulty copy. The work is a sūtra on the ritual connected with caityas, the hearer being a king, Indrapriṣṭha.

Begins :

Ends :

लिखित श्रीवज्राचार्यसूर्यदे[वेन]

(The full name of the scribe and some 'scribe's verses' are added in a much smaller hand.)

Add. 1409.

Palm-leaf; 143 leaves, 5 lines, 13 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 480 (A.D. 1360).

RĀMĀṆKA-NĀṬIKĀ by DHARMAGUPTA, and fragment.

Besides the leaves numbered as above there is a cover and a separate leaf with a summary (?) of each act in a vernacular. 43 is missing.

The MS. is the author's autograph (see below).

The work is a play in Sanskrit and the usual Prākṛit by Dharmagupta, also called "Bālavāgīṣvara" (? a mere complimentary title), son of Rāmadāsa, a magistrate of Nepal (see below), in four acts.

The plot is taken from the myth of Rāvaṇa and seems to have no Buddhistic references; the Nāndī, too, ends:

पातु युष्मान्मुरारिः

The Prastāvanā begins thus (after the Nāndī):

ततो नान्द्यन्ते विनायकः सपरिवारः ।

विना । देवि सिद्धिदायिनि । तातः श्रीत्रिपुरान्तकी विजयते नाद्यावतारेश्वरः प्रत्यूहप्रशमाय तत्र जगतां सो ऽहं प्रवृत्तो भुवि ॥

Further on (2a, ll. 3, 4) the original place of production is thus referred to:

मणिनागशिरोमणिदीधितिभी रुचिरं सुकृतादृतया त्रयति
[? leg. त्रायते] ललितापुरमेतदिहादरतो गणनाथ विनाशय
विघ्नगणं ।

On 2b the Vināyaka enquires :

कस्य कृतिरियं ।

To which the answer is :

अस्ति विद्यार्णवी बालवागीश्वरः कविः । तेन श्रीधर्मगुप्तेन
कृता रामाङ्गनाटिका

Another speaker thus continues :

किमुच्यत एवं । अत्र हि ॥

चातुन्तातस्य सत्यम्भुवि नृपतिपदन् त्यक्तवान् राघवो ऽसौ

दम्भात् सौमित्रिगुप्तामहत विपिनतो रावणस् तस्य पत्नी।
मित्रिकृत्यानुजौ तौ कपि +निश्चति+ ययौः सेतुनाश्चिभिलङ्घ्य ह्वा लङ्काधिनाथान् निजपुरिसकलः प्राप्नु--ॐ--॥ (a few letters obliterated). King Daçaratha is then introduced with his followers, and the first act begins.

Act 1 ends: इति श्रीरामाङ्कनाटिकायां प्रथमो ऽङ्कः। 40b.

Act 2 ,, इ० अ० द्वितीयो ऽङ्कः। 70b.

Act 3 ,, इ० अ० तृतीय०। 102b.

Act 4 ,, इ० अ० चतुर्थ०। 160b.

After this we read:

समाप्ता श्रीरामाङ्कनाटिका॥ विख्यातो जगतीतले स जयति
श्रीकण्ठपूजापरो नेपालावनिपालमण्डलगुरुः श्रीरामदासः।

Then a verse in praise of the poet's education, etc.:

पायम्यायमतीतवाक्य...

Then the subscription, giving the date:

श्रीधर्मगुप्तः कृती। पित्रा पुत्ररूपापरेण निपुणं शास्त्रान्वयं
शिक्षित एताम्भावरसोज्ज्वलां स कृतवान् रामाङ्कितान्नाटिकां।

गुप्तेन श्रीमता रामदासिना। बालवागीश्वरेण्यं लिखिता रा-
माङ्कनाटिका॥ शुभमस्तु सर्वदा॥

Leaves 141—2 are namaskāras, or short prayers, to various beings connected with the stage.

Another leaf, in a different hand, is a "namaskaratāvalī" for the various acts.

There are also two leaves, unnumbered, apparently from a play on a similar subject, Sitā and other characters being named.

Add. 1411.

Paper; 381 leaves, 7 lines, 17 × 4 in.; dated N. s. 952
(A.D. 1832).

BHADRAKALPĀVADĀNA.

Copies exist at Calcutta and Paris.

The work is supposed to be a dialogue between Aṣoka and Upagupta, and consists of 28 adhyāyas.

Begins after invocation, नत्वा श्रीमत्त्रिरत्नं..., thus:

वक्ष्ये श्रीशक्यराजस्वपुरगतकथासुन्दरं मोक्षहेतुं चातुर्वर्ग-
भिकांक्षाः शृणुत बुद्धजना भद्रकल्यावदानं ॥

Jinaçrī is first introduced, reminding Jayaçrī (cf. Burn. Intr. 221) that he has heard from him the “Çrilalita-vyūha,” and desiring now to hear “Çakyendra-pratyāgamana-satkathā.” Jayaçrī complies, and accordingly Aṣoka is introduced as enquiring of Upagupta as follows:

जातकावलिस्सौन्दर्यं विस्तराख्याकथामृतं ।
पीतं भवन्मुखाभोजोद्गतं पापचर्यकर ॥
पिपासुरधुना बुद्ध-स्वपुरागतसत्सुधां ।
कपिलाख्यपुरे किं किमभद् विरहसङ्कुले ॥
यशोधरापन्नसत्त्वा कीदृशी विरहार्दिता ।
गौतमी चतुराशीतिसहस्रिकाश्च तन्निधाः ॥
शुद्धोधनादयः सर्वे कथं विस्मरिता प्रभुं ।
भिन्नवश्च कृतास्तेन कथं लोका प्रपालिता ॥
कियदर्षात्यये चाभूत् पितापुत्रसमागमः ।
तत्कथामृतदानेन शोकानलप्रशान्तये ॥

These verses give a kind of short summary of the contents of the book (compare also the titles of the chapters, below). As the work is entirely in verse, we are not surprised at the confession of posteriority to the Jātaka literature and to the (Lalita-)Vistara. For the connexion with the former, see, for example, ch. 34; of the latter the work may be regarded as in some sense a poetical continuation, as it treats of the middle and later life of the Buddha.

The work also has some interest as bearing a certain analogy of plan and subject to the Pāli Vinaya-Piṭakam. Thus the first chapter corresponds to Mahāvagga I. 6, describing the beginning of the Buddha's ministry, and his meeting with the Pañcavargika Bhikshus. After a number of chapters devoted to Gopā and Yaçodharā, the conversion of several of the celebrated disciples is described, in somewhat different order to that of the Pāli, though chs. 20, 21 correspond to Mahāvagga I. 22—24. In some episodes however the legends give many particulars not contained in other accounts hitherto noticed. Thus in ch. 35, Rāhula, before his conversion, is induced by Çuddhodana to marry: he accordingly marries Kamalā, and has a son Sakalānanda (see next chapter). Rāhula is himself received (as in the Southern account) by Maudgalyāyana and Çāriputra.

The titles of the chapters are:

34. इ० *शतपत्रजातकं चतुस्त्रिंशत्तमं समाप्तमिति। क-
तिरियमार्यशूरपादानां†। सप्तैषुमुनिवत्सरेति। शुभं।

As only the words Kṛitir iyaṃ Āryaṣūrapādā- are written in the page, and the rest is written in a somewhat more recent hand vertically on the margin, this MS. may be the original from which the MS. 95 in the Bibl. Nationale was copied; see Feer, Journ. As. l.c. p. 413.

* The MS. had originally जतपत्र°, but the ज has been corrected in the margin to श (which agrees with the narrative); the Paris MS. reads curiously जगतपत्र°; see Feer, Journ. As. ibid. p. 415.

† M. Feer reads this name as 'l'auguste Çūrapāda'; but it seems safer to take it as Āryaṣūra with the honorific addition of pāda in the plural; cf. the mention in the Sāhitya-darpaṇa, p. 23, of the author's great-great-grandfather as Nārāyaṇa-padaiḥ; and 'Candragomi-pāda,' Add. 1164.

Add. 1416.

Paper; 21 leaves, 5 lines, $8\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.; modern.

SARVA-DURGATI-PARIṢODHANA (Part 2).

The same work as Add. 1632. 2, which see.

Add. 1418.

Paper; 11 leaves, 7 lines, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ in.; modern.

KATHINĀVADĀNA.

A treatise on vinaya, especially on dress, etc.; not a tale or avadāna in the ordinary sense of the term. See Burn. Intr. p. 39, Hodgs. Ess. Lit. Nep. p. 19. This work is found at Paris (Bibl. Nat.) in MS. 98 (Divyāvadāna-mālā).

Begins :

यः श्रीमान् स सुरासुरैरविरतं पादारविन्दार्चितः सा-
क्षात्* पुण्यनिधानमङ्गलगुरुश्चिन्तामणिः सर्ववित् ।

At 7b a bhikshu Sumanā gives an enumeration of the chief requisites of ritual, etc., in short paragraphs (7b—10a), with titles such as धूप । दीप ।, etc.

Ends :

कठिनावदानं समाप्तः (then a scribe's verse).

Add. 1419.

Paper; 30 leaves, 5—7 lines, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ in.; XVIIIth century, with recent supply.

LOKEṢVARAÇATAKAM by VAJRADATTA.

Leaves 1—3, 17—30 are a recent copy : but the remainder of the MS. is in a square hand on paper of last century; words etc. divided in red ink. The work is a hundred verses in praise of Lokeṣvara. See R. A. S. Cat. p. 23 and Hodgson Essay Lit. Nep. 18.

* The Paris MS. has स्यशात्.

Begins :

After v. 75 :

Add. 1420.

Paper ; 6 leaves, 7 lines, $7 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ in. ; modern.

LOKEṢVARA-PĀRĀJIKĀ.

Each leaf bears the title लोकेश्वरपाराजिका.

A dialogue between Lokeṣvara and Tārā in verse, apparently not identical with, though similar in subject to, the work at Paris mentioned under Add. 1353. I have however only examined the two MSS. apart.

Begins :

श्रीमत्प्रीतलके तारा लोकेश्वरमपृच्छत ।

भगवच्छ्रीतुमिच्छामि विपरीतपरीक्षणं ।

लोकेश्वरी ऽवदत् ।

मनुय्याणां हितार्थाय उत्पातलक्षणस्य च ।

VAJRA-SŪCI by AṢVAGHOSHA.

Edited by Prof. Weber (Berlin, 1860). This is a distinct work from the treatise of the same name attributed to Ćaṅkarācārya, shortly to be published by the compiler of this Catalogue.

Begins, after invocation to Mañjunātha :

जगद्गुरुं मञ्जुघोषं नत्वा वाक्कायचेतसा ॥

Ends :

इति वज्रसूची समाप्तमिति ॥

Add. 1422.

Paper; 20 leaves, 7 lines, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{4}$ in.; modern.

DHARMA-SAṆGRAHA, attributed to NĀGĀRJUNA (called SAPTĀBHIDHĀNOTTARA in Dr D. Wright's list).

There are some marks indicating hiatus in the original MS. on 6b, 12b.

A fairly correct MS. ; much more so than the India Office copy, which contains an interpolation of the period of the later mythology inserted after the first two lines. The book is a summary of the terminology of Buddhist philosophy and metaphysics, etc.

Begins :

नमो रत्नत्रयाय ॥

रत्नत्रयं नमस्कृत्य सर्वसत्त्वहितोदयं ।

कथ्यते मोहनाशाय धर्मसारसमुच्चयं ॥

तत्र तावत्त्रीणि रत्नानि । तद्यथा । बुद्ध. धर्म. संघश्चेति ॥

मया बालिन मूढेन etc....in the same strain for 4 verses, after which :

इति सप्तविधानोत्तरपूजा ॥ बोधिचर्यावतारादियंथे लिखितं ॥ ॥ त्रीणि कुशलमूलानि ॥ बोधिचित्तोत्पाद... etc.

Next come the 4 Brahmavihāras, the 10 Pāramitās, and so on.

Ends with an enumeration of the 3 Çikshās; after which :

इति नागार्जुनपादविरचितायां (1. ०तोऽयं?) धर्मसंग्रहः समाप्तमिति ॥

स्तीग्धमानसं । अमोघपाशनामाना लोकनाथं नमामि अहं ।

PAÑCARAKSHĀ.

The beginning, and the ends of the chapters, are substantially the same as in Add. 1325 (which see).

After the title at the end, 49a l. 5, follows the verse ये धर्माः . . . , and invocations of blessing on teachers and parents in terms nearly identical with those used in Add. 875 (which compare). Then follows, (49b, l. 4) :

Add. 1464.

Palm-leaf; 227 leaves (numbered in letters and figures); 5—6 lines, 21 × 2 in.; Kuṭila character; dated 5th year of Maoipāla of Bengal (circa. A.D. 1020).

ASHTASAHASRIKĀ PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

This MS., which is in excellent preservation, has several illustrations—chiefly of Buddhas, showing various mudrās etc.—both near the beginning and end of the MS. and on the binding boards.

On the date and palæography see the Introductions. There are several glosses (e.g. at 193—4) in a hand from which it would appear that the MS. remained in Bengal many centuries after it was written.

The last leaf is much obliterated, but the subscriptions are in the same form as those of Add. 1688; in that beginning with the formula देयधर्माऽयं, the name mentioned also bears some resemblance, वज्रभूतिदुहित-लाडाका (cf. राज्ञी उद्गाका Add. 1688).

The colophon runs thus :

परमेश्वरपरमभट्टारकपरमसौगतमहाराजाधिराजश्रीमन्-
महीपालदेव प्रवर्द्धमानविजयराज्ये सम्वत् ज अश्विनिदृष्टे...॥

On the work see Add. 866.

Add. 1465.

Palm-leaf; originally 299 leaves (see below), 7 lines, 13 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 384 (?) (A.D. 1264).

ASṬASAHASRIKĀ PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

Leaves 32, 46, 108, 110, 145—147, 188, 191, 193, 197, 211, 238—243, 245, 297, are missing.

There are also two leaves which belong to other places, or to other MSS., numbered 113 and 11...(last fig. indistinct): there evidently however is some confusion in this part of the MS., as the real number 113, formerly placed elsewhere, and 114 do not quite fit (see the passage in 866, 79a l. 6 fin.) and moreover leaves 118—121 were originally numbered 116—119. There are also several other corrections of pagination.

The date is somewhat doubtful; it is expressed in letter-numerals but not on the usual system. The first figure is clearly त्रि so that the digits are expressed each by a unit-figure, not, as usual, with separate notation for tens and hundreds. The middle number is of strange form. It may be meant for ८ (5), or for ८ or ८ (8)*—though it more resembles the syllable ह. The latter value is however preferable on chronological grounds, as regards the king (Abhaya-malla) named. (See Hist. Introd.) The last figure is certain. As in Add. 866, the number of verses in each chapter is given at the end. On the work see Add. 866.

The colophon, after some verses in praise of the book and the verse ये धर्माः, runs thus :

द्वयधर्मो ऽयं प्रवरमहायानयाचिनः परमोपाशिक-श्रीरामपासिडस्य (?) यदत्रपुण्यं... etc. ।

Paper; 16 leaves, 7 lines, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ in.; modern Devanāgarī hand.

ÇAÇA-JĀTAKĀVADĀNA (Northern redaction in verse).

This is a different redaction of the story both from the Çaçajātaka of the Avadāna-mālā (Add. 1415) and from that of the collection of Add. 1598. Its distinctively northern character is shown by the cosmogony referred to on 2a, l. 1, where Ādi-buddha is mentioned.

The MS. begins with an invocation to Padmakara of two verses.

Then a dialogue ensues between Upagupta and Aṣoka, thus :

अथोपगुप्तः प्रोवाच अशीकं शुद्धमानसं ।

चतुरशीति साहस्रग्रंथश्रवणलालसं ॥

शृणु राजन् त्रिरत्नांशलीके शस्यकथां (sic) शुभां ।

यस्योपोषधभावेन ब्रह्माद्याः सकलाः सुराः ॥

The actual story of the hare is only reached on leaf 8b, and from here to the end it will be seen that the verses of the (prose and verse) story in the Jātaka-mālā are to be found in our MS.

Thus v. 1 (p. 59 ed. Fausböll, "Five Jātakas" 1861) is to be found on 9a l. 1, and the last verse on 15b l. 1.

The dramatis personae (which may be compared with the list in the Pali tale, Fausb., "Five Jātakas," p. 58, l. 9) are thus given (15b—16):

यो ऽसौ शशी[स]महासत्त्वो भगवान्स मुनीश्वरः ।

शारीपुत्रः शृगालो ऽभून्मौद्गल्यो वानरो ऽभवत् ।

उद्र आनन्द एवासीच्छस्यति स्वहृत्प्रियः ॥

Ends :

इति शास्त्रार्हतादिष्टं श्रुत्वाशोकः स भूपतिः ।

तथेति प्रतिविज्ञाय प्राभ्यनन्दत्स पार्षदः ॥

इति शशजातकावदानं समाप्तं ॥

Add. 1475.

Paper ; originally 114 leaves (see below), 5 lines, 12 × 2 in. ; xviii century.

PAÑCARAKSHĀ.

Leaves 17, 29, 92 and 104 are wanting.

The last leaf is written on different paper and in a slightly more recent hand than the rest. It contains the date N. S. 802 (A. D. 1682); but there is every reason to believe that it is simply a fresh copy of leaf found to be damaged. See Introduction, and compare Add. 1644.

The postscript consists of the verse ये धर्मा० etc. and the following note :

खस्तुसंखत् ८०२ माहाराजद्विराज (sic) चक्रचूडामणि श्री-
श्रीश्रीपृथिविदंष्ट्रमल्लदेव मयूरच्छत्र-खड्गशीर्षिकामनाथं (?) नृपति
याक्रूरधर्माचक्रविजयराज्ये

For chapters etc. see Add. 1325; but the ending of ch. 1 seems to have been on the missing leaf 17.

Two leaves (numbered 1 and 38) of a Tantric Sūtra, size and writing similar to the supply-leaf mentioned above, have been used probably as covers. The forms are barbarous throughout. Leaf 1 begins, after salutation to Gaṇeṣa and the Ratnatraya, एवं मया श्रुतम्यकस्मीसमय भगवानः राजगृहे विहरति...

Mystic syllables follow soon after.

Add. 1476.

Black paper; 29 leaves, 5 lines, 9 × 3 in. ; late xviii or xviii cent.

DHĀRAṆĪS.

The leaves are numbered 3—31. Written in gold-coloured letters.

There are illustrations of the deities to whom the dhāraṇīs are addressed.

Leaves 3—9 contain the Mahāpratisarā-dhār°.

„ 10, 11 „ Mahāsāhasrapramardinī-dh°.

„ 12—16b „ Mahāmāyūrī-dh°.

„ 16b—18b „ Mahaçītavatī-dh°.

„ 18b—20b „ Mahāmantrānusāraṇī-dh°.

At 21a the names of the preceding Dhāraṇīs are recapitulated: then (till 22a) Abhaya-kali (?) dhāraṇī.

Leaves 22b to the end contain the Āryā-tārā-dhāraṇī.

Add. 1478.

Paper; 166 leaves, 6—8 lines, $13\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; chiefly Bengali hand; XIV—XVth cent.

ÇIKSHĀ-SAMUCCAYA by JAYADEVA.

The earlier leaves have been renumbered; we have 14 and 14*, but no 18. The writing is Bengali, with several antique features, e.g. medial i written as a simple curve above its consonant, not before it. 122a med. to 132a are written in a hooked-top Nepalese hand, with some early forms of letters; e.g. that of घ.

This MS. is the archetype of the Hodgson MS. (No. 15) in the India Office.

From the reference to the work in Wassiliew's Tāranāth, p. 208, it would seem that the work was compiled by Jayadeva in or about the 7th cent. A. D.

The work is a compendium of Buddhist teaching on vinaya and practical religious duty. It abounds in quotations, the chief sources of which are given below.

Often the quotation is not fully given and the word पेयालं, or abbreviated पे (Pāl. peyyālam), placed to mark the omission.

See Avad.-Çat. IX. 10; Feer, p. 184. All the three episodes of previous births are narrated and at somewhat greater length than in the Avad.-Çat.

22. इ० शक्रच्यवनाद० स० । २२ । 276b.

This tale describes Indra in his glory in heaven, but feeling apprehension as to the ending of his present power and life. After a long conference with Çacī it is decided to seek a remedy in Jambūdvīpa. A troop of ġramaṇas are seen, and Indra subsequently applies in person to the Buddha himself, who reinstates the god in his glory. On the church's enquiring the reason of this act, the Buddha explains that on the death of the ancient Buddha Krakucchandra, a king named Çobha had built him a fine stūpa; for this he had obtained his desire of being deified; but his godhead lasted only for a time: the Buddha had therefore reinstated him, the Buddha having been born as Krakucchandra, and Indra having been Çobha.

23. इ० पुण्यसेनावद० स० । 283.

Some merchants' sons from Pāṭaliputra, in quest of sandal, apply to Puṇyāsena; their subsequent adventures, visit to the Buddha, and meeting with a king Candraloka and others, are described.

24. इ० भवश्मवद० स० । २४ । 288b.

A Brahman, Çrutavarman, has a son Bhavaçarman by his wife Jayasena. Bhavaçarman grows up: his amorous experiences are described; he is detected in breaking into a palace; repenting of his evil ways, he reforms, practises various penances, and finally becomes a convert.

25. इ० मधुरस्रवद० स० । २५ । 295b.

Birth and education of Madhurasvara, son of Sudhīra and Sumetrā. Ānanda comes to beg at the house and induces Madhurasvara to follow him; he is however permitted to return after a while to take leave of his parents. Ānanda then sends him forth on his wanderings as a bhikshu. He falls among thieves, whom he converts and ordains. Subsequent conversion and rejoicing of Sudhīra.

26. इति पद्मकावद० स० । २६ । 302.

Padmaka, son of Mānasa a merchant of Çrāvastī, sees the bhikshu Upasena. Padmaka gains his father's consent to his becoming a bhikshu. The first house at which he begs is that of a courtesan, Çāṇikā; her attempted seductions; to which Padmaka turns a deaf ear and goes away with empty bowl. Çāṇikā, however, by the help of another veçyā, a chaṇḍālī, Mantrabalā, tries to draw him back by love-mantras, etc. This attempt also is unsuccessful; and Padmaka succeeds in converting both women. They are received by the Buddha at Çrāvastī: on the bhikshus' enquiring the reason of this favourable reception, the Buddha explains that formerly by Kāçyapa's preaching a man, Mitra, and his maids, Nandā and Sunandā, had been converted; on their going to the sisterhood they were abused by one of the sisters; she was born, for a punishment, as a Chaṇḍālī veçyā;

Padmaka is Mitra. Another birth of Padmaka was as Pushpasena, who had met a Buddha in a flower-garden. Açoka and the rest discourse for a while on this story.

27. इ० अशोकाव० दुर्गतिपरिशोधनधारणीमण्डलपरिवर्त्तोऽध्यायः स०

Scene in Indra's heaven. Buddha addresses the Devas, Kinnaras etc. Alarm of Indra. Buddha, after some conversation, reassures him and his followers, telling them, inter alia, of the *Sarvadurgati-çodhanadhāraṇī: afterwards, he proclaims the samādhi called Vajrādhishṭhāna; recital of the Gūhyahṛidaya and of other dhāraṇis and mantras. Buddha also addresses the Lokapālas and other mythological personages.

Ends:

इति श्री अशोकावदानमाला समाप्ता ॥

In the same covers is a leaf, blank on one side and perhaps intended as a cover, containing 9 numbered verses on the results of actions, etc.

Add. 1483.

Paper; 178 leaves, 9 lines, 15 × 4½ in.; dated N. S. 901 (A.D. 1781); good Devanāgarī hand.

MADHYAMAKA-VṚITTI (called VINAYA-SŪTRA, see below)
by CANDRAKĪRTI.

There are a few marks of lacunae or the like in the archetype. On the work see Burn. Intr., 559 et al.; Hodgson, Ess. Lit. Nep. 20.

It consists of 27 chapters (प्रकरण), corresponding to the 27 topics enumerated by Csoma (= Feer in Ann. Mus. Guim. ii. 207).

Begins:

यो ऽत्र दयावासविधूतवासः संबुद्धधीसागरलब्धजन्मा ।

Then follow the "quelques lignes d'introduction" (five in our MS.) of which Burnouf (l. c.) speaks.

The text of the sūtra itself begins with the words:

अनिरोधमनुत्पादमनुगच्छेदमशाश्वतं । अनेकार्थमनागम-

On which the commentary thus commences :

यः प्रतीत्यमनुत्पादमित्यादि ।

अत्रानिरोधाद्यष्टविशेषणविशिष्टप्रतीत्यमनुत्पादः शास्त्रेऽभि-

The quotations from Buddha-pālita (referred to by Burnouf) occur in 5a-b (cf. also 6b, l. 7; 7a, l. 4; and 10a, l. 7): from Bhāvaviveka in 10.

Add. 1485.

Black paper with gold letters; 39 leaves, 5 lines, $9\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.; dated N. S. 797 (A.D. 1677).

A collection of DHĀRAṆĪS, etc.

The leaves are numbered 16—54. The hand is of the square, close, and somewhat illegible character usual in MSS. of this material.

The contents are as follows:

1. Prajñāpāramitāhṛidayam.

The Chinese version of this work is translated by Prof. Beal, Journ. R. A. S. 1875, p. 27. The identity of the works will be seen by comparing with his version the opening sentences of the sūtra itself.

Begins:

तेन खलु पुनः समयेनार्यावलीकितेश्वरो बोधिसत्त्वो महा-
सत्त्वः गम्भीरायां प्रज्ञापारमितायां चर्यामेवं व्यवलीकयती (sic)
स्म। पञ्च स्कन्धान्स्वभावशून्यान् व्यवलीकयती स्म। and, a few lines further on:

रूपं शून्यं शून्यतैव रूपं न रूपात्पृथक् शून्यता न शून्यता-
पृथक् रूपं। वेदना शून्यं etc.। संज्ञा शून्यं...। संस्कारा शून्यं
...। विज्ञानं शून्यं...। एवं भदन्त शारिपुत्र सर्वधर्माः स्वभा-
वशून्या अलक्षणा अनृत्यन्ना अनिरुद्धाः...

The words supplied by Prof. Beal on conjecture (p. 28) thus appear (18, l. 2): गते गते पारंगते पारसंगते बोधि स्वाहा।

The sūtra then concludes with a few lines such as are usually found in these works.

Nos. 2—6 are the Dhāraṇīs; the same, and in the same order as in R. A. S. MS. 79, Nos. 2, 3, 4, 6, 7: viz. the dhāraṇīs called Vajravilāraṇī (20b), Gaṇapatihṛidaya (22b), Ushnīshavijaya (25b), Māricī (29), and Grahamātrikā (38).

7. Pratyajñira-dhāraṇī (52b).

See R. A. S. Cat. No. 77.

After this follow two pages of invocations, etc. ; after which :

अथो ऽसु संवत् ७६७ (month, nakshatra, day etc.) ...

Add. 1486.

AṢṢVAGHOSHA-NANDIMUKHĀVADĀNA (with vernacular version).

Begins :

वसुंधारां सदा नवा etc. (see Add. 1357).

Ends :

खयम्भू संवत् ८४१ (then nakshatra etc., after which) :

Add. 1488.

Palm-leaf; 129 leaves, 5 lines, 9×2 in.; XIVth cent. (date retouched, see below).

AMARA-KOṢA.

Begins with the five introductory glokas given in ed. Deslongchamps, p. 2 (after invocation of Buddha).

The letters are much faded, especially towards the beginning, and accordingly the last few pages, and some other passages, have been retraced with modern ink. Preface, etc. as in printed editions.

Ends :

इत्यमरसिंहकृतो नामलिङ्गानुशासने अमरकोषः परिसमाप्तः।

127b. Then follows a short summary of contents, after which :

अथो ऽस्तु श्रीमन्नेपालिकसम्बत्सरे । सम्बत ५०० मार्ग
शुक्ल श्रीपञ्चम्या तिथौ रैवतिनक्षत्रे साध्ययोगे सोमवासरे
श्रीमत् ललितापुरि निवासित... (here an erasure)... सितः ।
पुषा नाम मडापात्र श्री (erasure) त्यगुणम् सिंह महापात्र
श्रीरघुसिंहदेवानामध्ययनार्थं पुष्टकममरसिंह लिख्यापितः ।
वज्राचार्यश्री जसचन्द्रेण लिखितमिति । यथा दृष्टं etc. ॥

On the back, in a slightly larger, but probably contemporary hand :

श्रीनेपालसमधिविन्दुविषये माघाशिते मासे श्रे (?) । पञ्चम्या
तिथि चितरससि दिने यत (?) गन्द (read °ण्ड) योगातित ।

This seems to be for nepāla sam[vat] abdhi-vindu-vishaye = 504 = A.D. 1384. Vindu as a word-numeral is not known : but in these MSS. the sign of zero is frequently a mere dot, like anuvāra (vindu). The king's name is next given :

नेपालाभुवमण्डलेश्वर प्रभूपति... । देवश्रीजयार्जुनो (sic)
हि... परे लोकामृतम् (? l. त°) भूपति ।

This date (1384) will accord with MSS. Add. 1689 and 1395; in the former of which we find Jayārjuna (or °jana) reigning in A.D. 1374, and in the latter, Jayasthiti in 1385. Compare the nearly coeval date in the note to Add. 1544.

Add. 1533.

Paper ; 18 leaves, 6 lines, $7\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in. ; XVIIIth cent.

ACVAGHOSHA-NANDIMUKHĀVADĀNA.

... This is written over in quite modern ink;—what was underneath is undecipherable.

Leaf 1 is missing.

The language is almost as hopelessly barbarous as in the other MSS. of the work (Add. 1357 et al. q. v.). The last two leaves are in a slightly different hand. A recent corrector has retouched the MS. here and there, in the vain endeavour to make the jargon into something like correct Sanskrit. The MS. shows some distinct varieties of reading, as compared with the other copies.

A leaf at the beginning, serving as a cover, contains a fragment of the Vasudhārā dhāraṇī, and begins:

ॐ नमो भगवत्यै आर्यश्रीवसुधारायै ॥
 दिव्यरूपी स्वरूपी च सौम्यरूपी वरप्रदा ।
 वसुधारी वसुधारी च वसुश्रीश्रीकिरिवराः ॥

Add. 1534.

Paper; 36 leaves, 6 lines (ruled), $8\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.; dated N. S. 811 (A.D. 1691).

MEGHA-SŪTRA.

This MS. was not used for my printed edition, owing to its not having been identified in the printed list: see Add. 1689 and R. A. S. Journal, Apr. 1880.

At the end:

लिखितेयं वस्तु (?) मल्लवाहार वज्राचार्य पूरन्दरण लिखित
 संपूर्णमिति ।

Then follow a scribe's verse and the date.

Add. 1535.

Paper; 6 leaves, 7 lines (ruled), $9\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.; XVIIIth cent.

PIṆḌAPĀTRĀVADĀNA-KATHĀ, attributed to DĪPAṆKARA.

Bad writing and full of barbarisms.

Apparently the same work as in R. A. S. Cat. No. 45, but not the same as Add. 1305, supra. It also exists in Paris, Bibl. Nat. MS. 98 ("Divyāvadāna-mālā").

The speaker is the Tathāgata, Dīpaikara; the hearer king Sarvānanda.

प्रत्येकबुद्धाय च संनिधाय पांशुप्रदानात्पिण्डपूर्वजन्मनि ।
तस्मात्प्रदानाद्भुवि शक्रकल्पे दीपावभूमौ च पतिर्वभूव ॥
तद्यथानुश्रूयते । नयविनयादिमैत्रीगुणसमुदयाकीर्णा दीपा-
वतीमहानगर्यां सर्वनन्दी नाम नरपतिरासीत् ०

The latter half of the work (4b-6a) consists of short paragraphs in verse on the various offerings suitable to be made to a bhikṣu with a piṇḍa-pātra, etc.; and concludes (6b) with a few words on appropriate seasons, months, etc.

Ends :

इति श्रीदीपंकालतथागतस्य (sic) पिण्डपात्रावदानकथा

Add. 1536.

Paper; 32 leaves, 5 lines, 9 × 3 in.; dated N. S. 803 (A. D. 1683).

SVAYAMBHŪ-PURĀṆA (smallest redaction).

See Add. 870.

Illustrations on leaves 1, 2, and 32.

Ends (with date as above, and scribe's name):

लिखितं वज्राचार्यचक्रदेवेन निति (sic).

Add. 1537.

Paper; 48 leaves, 5 lines, 10½ × 3 in.; modern Nepalese hand, but squarer and more regular than usual.

KAPĪCĀVADĀNA.

The leaves are numbered 1—25, 27—49.

There are words of comment, and divisions of words, occasionally written above the lines in red, or in black.

The MS. seems to be an exact reproduction of the archetype of Add. 1345, as the preface, titles, and even the concluding scribe's verse, are identical.

Add. 1538.

Paper; 40 leaves, 6 lines (ruled), $14 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ in.; dated N. S. 964 (A.D. 1844).

VĪRAKUṢĀVADĀNA, from the DIVYĀVADĀNA.

Text very faulty. Copies at Paris and Calcutta.

This is a story in praise of the asṭamī-vrata, or fast on the eighth day, and probably composed to be read on solemn occasions of this kind. The subject matter purports to be taken from the Divyāvadāna (much of which seems to have perished), and illustrates the merit of the fast, etc.

Begins in verse thus (after invocation):

नत्वा गुरुं त्रिरत्नं च कथयामि समासतः ।

अष्टमीव्रतमाहात्म्यं नैपालेभाषितं महत् ।

तद्यथाभूत्युरा विज्ञाजयः श्रीः सुगतात्मजः ।

बोधिमण्डिविहारे ऽसौ विजहार ससांघिकः ।

तत्र जिनेश्वरी नाम बोधिसत्त्वाय प्रावदत् । तं श्रुत्वाथ अशी-
काय कुक्कुटारामसंश्रितः ॥ उपगुप्तः पुनः प्राह अष्टमीव्रतमु- त्तमं । etc.

After a few more verses, the prose begins thus :

सर्वार्थसंज्ञको ऽप्यसौ राजपुत्रको भवति तदाराजा चिन्त-
यामास...

The king observes the asṭamīvrata in honour of Amogha-pāṇa and Avalokiteśvara (3a. 1); and is rewarded by the miraculous birth of a son from a sugar-cane (ikshu), therefore called Ikshvāku. A short story is now told of a sārthavāha, Supriya, who gained a shower of jewels by a vrata (4a-b). The king abdicates in favour of his son Ikshvāku (4b, 1-2). The queen Alindā (after due attention to the vrata) bears a son; his name was to have been Kuṣāla, but is shortened by his mother to Kuṣa (6a, 5-6); he performs sundry deeds of prowess, whence he gains the name of Vīra-kuṣa (6b. 5). The life of Vīra-kuṣa is now detailed, and the moral is thus summed up in the last line:

वसिष्ठ ऋषीना (sic) शतजन्मीपवासं कृतं तदपि मोक्षपदं न
प्राप्तं, वीरकुशराज्ञा अष्टमीव्रतैकेन मोक्षफलं प्राप्नो ऽभूत् ॥

इति श्रीदिव्यावदानोद्धृत अष्टमीत्र[त]महात्म्यकूशावदानं (sic)
समाप्तं ॥

Add. 1543.

Palm-leaf; 113 leaves, 6 lines, 12 × 2 in.; XIIth cent.

SUVIKRĀNTAVIKRĀMI-PARIPṚCCHĀ, or SĀRDDHADVISASRIKĀ PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

The hand is very similar to that of R. A. S. Cat. No. 2: see the plate there, and compare that in Palaeographical Soc. Orient. Ser., Pl. 43. The MS. is corrected in several hands, mostly of considerable antiquity.

This redaction has 7 parivarttas and 2500 verses. See Wassiliew, Taran. 159 (147), and Csoma As. Res. xx. 395 (also Ann. Mus. Guim. ii. 201) as to its Tibetan form, etc.

After 15 lines of invocation and preface, the text begins (2b):

एवं मया श्रुतमेकस्मिन् समये भगवान् राजगृहे विहरति
स्म। वेणुवने कलन्दकनिवापे महता भिक्षुसंघेन सार्धमर्द्धत्रयो-
दश भिक्षुशतैः...

The chapters end:

1. आर्यप्रज्ञापारमितानिदाने प्रथमः। 19b.
2. आर्यप्रज्ञापारमितायामानन्दपरिवर्त्ती नाम द्वितीयः।
24b.
3. तथता परिवर्त्ती नाम तृतीयः 37b.
4. औपम्यपरिवर्त्ती नाम चतुर्थः। 60.
5. सुभूतिपरिव° पञ्चमः। 64b.
6. चर्यापरिव° षष्ठः। 94.
7. अनुशंसापरिव° सप्तमः। आर्यसुविक्रान्तविक्रामिपरि-
पृच्छाप्रज्ञापारमिता निर्देश सार्द्धद्विसाहस्रिकाभगवत्पारमिता-
पारमिता समाप्ता।

Then follows the verse यः सर्वज्ञतया..., with which the other Prajñāpāramitā in 2500 verses begins (Add. MSS. 1628 and 1629). The works, however, seem distinct; see Wassiliew (supra cit.). As to the subject, Suvikrāntavikrāmin's first questions of the Buddha give some notion of the general drift and are thus expressed (3a-b):

प्रज्ञापारमिताप्रज्ञापारमितेति भगवन्नुच्यते। कियता भगवन् बोधिसत्त्वानाम्महासत्त्वानाम्प्रज्ञापारमिताप्रज्ञापारमितेत्युच्यते। कथम्भगवन् बोधिसत्त्वो महासत्त्वः प्रज्ञापारमितायाञ्चरति कथम्भगवन् बोधिसत्त्वस्य मह० प्रज्ञापारमितायाञ्चरतः प्रज्ञापारमिताभावना परिपूरिङ्गच्छति। कथं भ० बोधिसत्त्वस्य मह० प्रज्ञापारमिताभावयतो मारः पापीयानवतारं लभते [1] सर्वमारकर्माणि चावबुध्यते। कीदृग्यूपैश्च भगवन् प्रज्ञापारमिता विहारैर्विहरन् बोधिसत्त्वो महास० क्षिप्रं सर्वज्ञताधर्मपरिपूरिमधिगच्छति।

In ch. 2, at the beginning, the speakers are Ananda and Āradvatīputra (Ārip^o); in ch. 5, Āradvatīputra and Subhūti. Elsewhere they seem to be Suvikrāntavikrāmin and the Buddha.

At the end is an odd leaf, found in Add. 1680, written by the scribe of this MS. in precisely the same style, and containing quite similar matter; but it is not numbered like the rest.

Add. 1544.

Paper; 172 leaves, 7 lines, 20 × 2 in.; XIIIth cent.

ASṬASĀHASRIKĀ-PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

See Palaeograph. Soc. Or. Series, Plate 57, where Professors Cowell and Eggeling assign the MS. to the XIIIth cent. Note also that the conjecture there given as to the individual peculiarity of the sloping hand is confirmed by leaves 84—87 of Add. 1708.

For the postscript see Add. 1163.

There are dates of recitation written on the back of both the first and the last leaves; the one being n. s. 492, the other 499. The last two figures of the latter are obscure: the former is interesting as being expressed both in figures and words (नेपाल समा दिनन्दजलधौ).

ÇAMBŪKĀVADĀNA.

The MS. gives the title with the strange barbarism सम्भूक°.

The style and subject of the tale are not unlike the Pañca-tantra, the first personages introduced being seven shells (sambhūkāḥ) and a fisherman named Rūpaka; further on, both personages and scenery are distinctively Buddhistic.

Begins, after 4 ślokas of prefatory invocation :

आदौ तावदादिकथामुपवक्ष्ये ते । अस्ति हंसगधेषु चैत्यगर्भी

Then, after invocations to Buddha, etc.:

The MS. ends abruptly with this leaf.

Add. 1586.

Paper; 20 leaves, 10 lines (ruled), 14 × 3 in.; fine, minute hand-writing, dated N. S. 781 (A.D. 1661).

RĀSHṬRAPĀLA-PARIPṬICCHĀ.

The title of the work is cited in Böhtlingk and Roth from the Vyutpatti: see two citations in Add. 1478 above.

Mr Nanjio informs me that there is a Chinese translation of this work, made by Jñānagupta under the Sin dynasty (A.D. 589—618), being No. 23 (18) of the Chinese Tripiṭaka. On the Tibetan see Feer, in Ann. G. ii. 254. [See also the account in the Supplementary note at the end of the text.]

After the invocation, a line of preface commences with the words भास्वत्सद्धर्मरत्नव्यतिकरघटितां...; then follow एवमया श्रुतं and a large list of Bodhisattvas etc., forming the audience.

Ends :

RATNAGUṆA-SAṆCAYA.

The leaves have the double numbering, 1—26, and (more conspicuously) 71—96, so that the present MS. would seem to have belonged to a series.

Apparently a collection of gāthās illustrative of the Ashtasahasrikā Prajñā-pāramitā; for none of them seem to occur in the text of that work, as we have it in Add. 866.

In 32 short chapters, corresponding to those of the Ashtas°.

11. इ° मृगजातकं । 121a.
12. इ° मयूरजातकं । 137b.

The remainder of the MS. coincides exactly with Add. 1585, containing the Sumāghadāvadāna and the fragment there noticed.

Tale 1 is apparently different from the tale of the sārthavāha Dharmalabha in the Mahāvastu (Add. 1339, leaves 232—241).

Tale 2 is also different from its homonym in the Avadāna-kalpa-lokā (Add. 913, leaves 15—17); though the merit of sacrificing even one's body for another's benefit is a moral pointed in both.

Tale 3 is the story of a sārthavāha named Nanda, who is punished for his excessive accumulation of wealth in a former birth, by a miserable spirit of miserly jealousy (मात्सर्य) in this.

Tale 4 is the same as Aṣṭakāv. No. 12; thus the verses of lamentation uttered by the tapasvinī at the birth of her son, beginning जाते पुत्रे., (49b), are identical: the bulk of both tales consists of discourses on abhidharma, etc. The beginning of this story however corresponds with 208a. line 4, not 207b, of Add. 1482, as the tale there has several pages of introduction and scenery.

✓ Tale 5 is the story of a sārthavāha named Supriya, in the reign of Brahmadatta at Benares.

Tale 6. Vid. Add. 1473 et al. ib. cit.

Tale 7. On Candraprabha see Burn. Intr. 138, 160.

Tale 8. See Divyāvadāna, Tale xxxii.

Tale 9. A long tale of Brahmadatta, king of Benares and his experiences in elephant-hunting: different from the tale of the same name in the Jātaka-mālā.

Tale 10. A tale illustrative of the virtue of kshānti, in which the chief actors are a certain Kaliṅga-rāja and Candrakumāra. (The Chanda-kumāra-jātaka in the Cariya-piṭaka is illustrative of dāna.)

Tale 11. One of the numerous deer-births. In praise of vīrya.

Tale 12. A story of a peacock, Suvarṇābhāsa.

UPOSHADHĀVADĀNA, [DEVAPUTROTTPATTI, and DOSHANIRNAYĀVADĀNA.

These are clearly the same works as R. A. S. No. 15 (q. v.).

SADDHARMA-LAṆKĀVATĀRA.

On the work see Add. 915, and add a reference to Feer in Ann.
Mus. Guim. ii. 237. This MS. represents an independent text, for though both are often faulty, passages are preserved here (e.g. 168a, b, ending as Add. 915, 12a, 2) that are marked as lacunae in that MS.

Add. 1609.

Paper; 52 leaves folding backwards and forwards, 7 lines, $9 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ in.; XVIIIth cent.

Manual of TANTRIC PŪJĀ (BALI-PŪJĀ or CAKRA PŪJĀ ?).

The paper is mounted on muslin and gauze.

The title चक्रपूजा is given on the wrapper.

The title Bali-pūja given in Dr Wright's list is partly substantiated by the ending of the work; which runs: इति पंचबलि ...
after 3 lines शेशिका बलि.

The final colophon is simply इति पूजा समाप्ता॥ ० ॥

Paper; 14 leaves, 9 lines, 13 × 5 in.; modern.

UPOSHADHĀVADĀNA.

This is the same work as R. A. S. Cat. No. 15, which is there called "Uposhadhāvadānam and Doshanirṇayāvadānam", but the form "उपोष०" is written on the right hand of several leaves throughout our MS., showing that "Uposhadha" is a general name for the whole work. It consists of 2 adhyāyas.

This avadāna belongs to the latest style of composition. There is no continuous plot, but the work is a somewhat rambling dialogue between the Buddha, Vāṣiṣṭha and others: there are several pages of invocations etc. At 11a there occurs a short story about Dharmapāla king of Vaiṣālī. See more in Rājendralāla Mitra, Nep. B. Lit. p. 265.

AVADĀNA-ĀTAKA.

This MS. is fully described by M. Feer in the Journ. Asiatique (Aug.—Dec. 1879). Cf. especially p. 144: "Ce MS. est sans doute le seul représentant des anciens manuscrits de cet ouvrage."

A full list of the tales is to be found ibid. p. 302. For the numbering compare p. 159, note.

Add. 1614.

Paper; 36 leaves, 7 lines, 13 × 4 in.; late XVIIIth cent., with modern supply.

A collection of STOTRAS and Songs.

The MS. consists of 19 leaves originally numbered 20—38, now 13—31, written in a square and regular Devanāgarī hand (perhaps of the end of the XVIIIth cent.), with lines and margins ruled; the remainder (1—12, 32, 36) is a very recent supply by Nepalese scribes.

The verses in each hymn are numbered, and the numbers are accordingly given below.

Begins :

नमः श्रीमदवलोकितेश्वराय ॥ बोधिसत्वाय ॥

The following are the first occurring titles :

इत्यार्यावलोकितेश्वरभट्टारकस्य चर्पतिपादविरचितं स्तोत्रं समाप्तं ॥ २५ ॥ 3.

इत्यार्या° श्रीबन्धुदत्तआचार्यकृतं स्त° स° ॥ २५ ॥ 5.

इत्यार्या° रूपस्तवं समाप्तं । २४ । 6b.

इत्यार्या° नरकोद्धरस्तोत्रं स° । १५ । 7b.

इत्य° सप्ताक्षरस्त° स° । ८ । ib.

इत्य° चरणदर्शनाभिलाषस्त° स° । १० । 8b.

इत्य° षड्गतिस्त° स° । ६ । 9.

Short hymns to Avalokiteṣvara continue till 13 (the original MS.) where we get :

इति सुगतावदानोद्धृत सप्तबुद्धस्तोत्रं समाप्तं । and इ° प्रज्ञापारमितास्तुतिः स° । ibid.

The hymns next following are chiefly addressed to Çākya-simha, and are attributed to 'Harsha-deva-bhūpati' (15) and Yaçodharā (16, 17). Among the next following are hymns purporting to be taken from the Bhadrakalpāvadāna, by Navagraha (17b), and from the Svayambhūpurāṇa (20). From 33 onwards the hymns are called 'songs' (गीत). Each consists of about a score of numbered verses, the last being entitled लोकेश्वरगीतं.

The collection has no general title or colophon.

Add. 1615.

Paper; 143 leaves, 10 lines, 11 × 6 in.; dated in words N. S. 923 (A.D. 1803); large modern Nepalese hand, often sloping to the right.

Parts of the RATNĀVADĀNAMĀLĀ and of other collections of tales.

Each tale, as a rule, has its own pagination, and on the margin are written the names of the collection and of the tale.

The tales are as follows:

I. From the Ratnāvadāna (see the names of the tales in Add. 1592). The scribe seems to have transcribed what he could find in an imperfect copy; so he has written it in seven portions of 24, 12, 9, 34, 11, 18, and 7 leaves, respectively, making 109 leaves in all.

1. Tale 1	ends	12a.	4. Tale 13 (here called Çāntika)
„ 2	„	23a.	(lacuna on 18b) ends 19b.
2. „ 6	„	6a.	„ 14 breaks off at 34b.
„ 7	„	12b.	5. „ 18 ends 8b.
„ 8	breaks off at	12b.	„ 19 breaks off at 13b.
3. „ 11 (here called Hastāva-			6. „ 25 ends 11b.
dāna) breaks off at	9a.	7. „ 27	„ 6b.
		„ 28	breaks off at 8a.

II. From the Dvāriṇṣatyavadāna, 7 leaves.

The text seems independent of that of Add. 1274. Tale 1 ends 5a; 2 ends 5b; 3 ends 6a; 4 ends 7a; 5 breaks off at 7b. This last is not the same as tale 5 in Add. 1274.

III. Work on the 12 Tīrthas of Nepāl.

14 leaves. In verse throughout.

Text begins:

अथेदानीं प्रवक्ष्यामि तीर्थानि द्वादशानि च ।

शृणु मैत्रेय पुण्यानि तीर्थानाञ्च विशेषतः ॥

Ends abruptly (14a):

द्विजादय मनुष्याश्च पूर्ववत्क्षानदानकं ।

कृत्वा पुण्यप्रशदाच्च यशवृद्धिफलं लभेत् ॥

IV. Uposhadhāvadāna (2nd adhyāya).

13 leaves, numbered 1—13, though the MS. begins somewhat abruptly at a point corresponding to 7a, l. 1 fin., of Add. 1610 (q. v.).

Ends :

इति सुगतवाशिष्ठसंवादे उपोषधनामावदानं द्वितीयोऽध्यायः । समाप्तमिति उपोषधावदानं ।

Add. 1623.

Black paper with gold letters; 100 leaves, 5 lines, $15\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ in.; dated N. S. 820 (A.D. 1700).

This MS. is in three parts, written by the same scribe and with continuous numbering.

I. Leaves 1—10 (formerly marked Add. 1622).

APARIMITĀYU-SŪTRA.

The text is equally barbarous with that of Add. 1277 (q. v.).

Ends :

Begins :

This portion of the work consists entirely of invocations and the like.

SARVA-DURGATI-PARIṢODHANA (Part 2).

Begins, after invocation to Vajrasatva :

एवं मया श्रु० ए० स० भगवान् सर्वदेवीतमनन्दवाने (sic)
विहरति स्म । मनिसुवर्ण....

Ends (98, l. 5) as Add. 1378 (which see); after which follows :

देय-धर्मीऽयं प्रवरमहायानयामिन-परमोपाशकपरमधा-
र्मिक-धर्मात्मा-वज्राचार्यश्रीचतुरानन्दप्रमुखदि-सुगतानां ॥

Then follow the usual acknowledgment to parents, teachers, etc., and a mention of the reigning king, Bhūpatindra Malla.

After this the scribe gives details as to his family and patrons, and adds some notes in the vernacular. The date, etc., are thus given :

सम्बत् ८२० कार्तिकमास्य (sic) शुक्लपक्षे त्रयोदश्यां तिथौ

ASHTASĀHASRIKĀ-PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

The MS. is bound in coloured boards, with designs, etc., on both sides. On leaf 1 is a brightly coloured picture of the deity enthroned and adored by two devotees bearing sacred vessels. Each page is bordered by a rim of red and green stripes.

For the work see Add. 866.

After date, etc., as given above, the scribe proceeds:

Leaves 412—559 are paper of the xviii or early xviii cent.; the rest is recent supply. The work is in 8 parivarttas, and is preceded by an introductory treatise in 8 adhikāras, ascribed to Maitreya-nātha (leaf 9); see next MS.

Begins :

The main work begins on the next page (6b) with the usual
एवमया श्रुतम् and a list of Bodhisattvas, etc.

The first parivartta has no regular subdivision: much of it is in the form of a dialogue between Subhūti and Āriputra. It ends thus:

book and its study, for a dozen lines; after which date and name of scribe, as follows :

दशम्यां रविवासरे शतसाहस्रिकाग्रंथं रत्नानन्देन लिख्यते।

The place of writing (Lalitā-pura) and the reigning monarch (Gīrvāṇa-yuddha) are also mentioned.

In spite of the mention of a fifth Khaṇḍa in Dr D. Wright's list, which however does not appear in our collection, it would seem from the tone and form of the above colophon, that this is either the conclusion of the whole work, or that at all events the account given by Mr Hodgson's Paṇḍit (Hodgs. Essay Lit. Nep. p. 16) is correct; that "Satā Sāhasrika is a collective name of the first four Khands, to which the fifth is not necessarily adjunct; and indeed it is one of the several abstracts of the Sāhasrika." The Tibetan version (see Csoma, and Feer in Ann. G. ii. 197) has 75 chapters.

ÇATASĀHASRĪ PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ, Part 1.

There is an illustration on leaf 1.

“प्रथम” is written on the left margin of many leaves.

The MS. is enclosed by a pair of very finely carved boards.

This appears to be the second known redaction of the Prajñā-pāramitā, the chief philosophical work of Northern Buddhism.

It abounds in repetitions, etc., in the most wearisome style of Buddhist literature. For general notices see Hodgson Ess. 16, Burn. Intr. 462 etc., and especially Rājendralāl, Nep. Buddh. Lit. pp. 177, sqq.

Notices of the Tibetan versions are given in Wassiliew and Csoma (Feer in Ann. Guimet, ii. 197).

Begins :

एवं मया श्रु० ए० स० भ० राजगृहे वि० स्म। गृध्रकूटपर्वते

Ends :

Then follows a line or two as to the writing, and in praise of the book.

Add. 1634.

Paper; 37 leaves, 5 lines (ruled in red), $7\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; dated in words N. S. 772 (A.D. 1652).

KĪRTIPATĀKĀ by KUNŪÇARMAN.

In 126 numbered verses.

Begins :

Then follows another introductory verse.

The work thus appears to be a description of certain places in Nepāl. It commences with Lalitāpura thus :

अस्ति श्रीललिताभिधाननगरी नैपालभूमण्डले ।

Ends :

इति श्रीकुनूशर्मना विरचिता कीर्तिपताका समाप्ता । नयन-

Begins and ends as Add. MSS. 1357, 1486 (which see).

This fragment was perhaps intended as a supply for the full original of Add. 1638. 3 or a work of similar size. It contains the beginning of the book.

Add. 1641.

Paper; 28 leaves folding backwards and forwards, 7—6 lines, 8×3 in.; XVII—XVIIIth cent.

I. SAṄGĪTA-TĀRODAYACŪḌĀMAṆI by RĀJA PRATĀPA-MALLA.

Dated N. s. 783 (A.D. 1663).

The work is a treatise on music, especially on tāla or time.

On the royal author and his literary tastes see Wright's Nepal, p. 215.

The work is in two parts, but some of the first part appears to be missing, unless it be represented by the 5 verses on the outside cover in a later hand, now almost illegible.

The second part is (unlike the first) in numbered verses (110). It begins (p. 6) with a discussion of the tāla or musical time called चच्चपुट or चाचपुट: several other tālas are mentioned, corresponding with those in the Purāṇasarvasva (Aufr. Oxf. Cat. 87a).

The work ends:

उत्सवतालः ॥ ११० ॥ यत्मात्रा महता कालासु कुशलो ऽसौ

Then follow subscriptions, chiefly in the vernacular, giving the day of writing as Sunday, and the scribe's name as Pūrṇacandra, resident at the Dharmakīrti-vihāra, and the father of 3 sons, Jayakalyāṇa, Jayakuçala, and Jayadh[a]rama.

II (p. 27). Vernacular work in 44 numbered verses.

III. A manual of devotion to various deities.

Begins (p. 34):

श्रीं नमः श्रीवज्रसत्त्वाय । वज्रघंटासमुद्रा निहतपटकुचं
प्रद्यपात्रं च वाणं वित्राणं कालमुक्तं त्रिनयननयनं क्रोधशृगा-

मञ्जानाधिराज त्रिभुवननमितं (sic) पातुं योगाम्बरी वः ।

Several other prayers, etc., are added, chiefly in the vernacular, or in Sanskrit like the specimen just given.

Add. 1643.

Palm-leaf; 223 leaves, 6 lines, $21\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; dated N. S. 135 (A.D. 1015).

ASHTASĀHASRIKĀ PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

There are illustrations on many leaves, throughout the book.

The insides of the binding-boards bear also several more than usually artistic figures, many of which correspond to those in Von Siebold's Japan, Vol. v. (Plates).

See the Palaeographical Society's Oriental Series, Plate 32, where a leaf is reproduced: also the Introduction to the present work. On the work see Add. 866.

The subscription is in verse, occasionally faulty in metre:

पञ्चत्रिंसाधिके ऽब्दे शततमप्रशते* चैत्रमासे हिमाभा ।

* Read प्रगते ?, though both are against the metre.

† Here some corrector has disturbed metre and sense.

Then follows (in the hooked Nepalese hand) :

Then follow two or three more lines in a similar strain, praising the "fruit" of reading the book.

On the other side of the last leaf is the conclusion (last 5 lines) of a short treatise connected with the Prajñāpāramitā, and in the same hand as the main work, ending thus :

वज्रधजपरिणाम (? वज्रध्वज°) नाम समाप्ता ॥

Add. 1644.

Palm-leaf; 94 leaves, 5 lines, 2 × 21 in.; dated N. S. 325 (A. D. 1205, see below).

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

Each division or chapter of the work has its own numbering.

Thus ch. i. has 25 leaves; ch. ii. 26; ch. iii. 35; ch. iv. 3; ch. v. 5.

The titles etc. are substantially the same as in Add. 1325; and, except at the end of ch. iii. each is followed by a blank side, forming volumes.

The last leaf is much mutilated, and is supplied by a paper leaf.

On the palm-leaf fragment can still be made out, (1) the beginning of the final title आर्यमहामन्त्रानसारिणी ...; (2) the end of the verse ये धर्मा... and (3) the date ३२५ (tops of figures only, visible) कार्तिक शुक्ल पूर्णमास वृहस्पतेर्दिनं[:]॥ राजा-धिराजपरमेश्वरपरमभ... On the reverse are the remains of a postscript in a finer and later hand, in Newari, with half-obliterated, but still certain, date, N. S. 579 (A.D. 1459). Above are left a few words in the original hand:

महाविहारार्य-साकभिरुगुमन्द्रुचिलेखिः (sic)। डदकान लेच-रभ्य [?] ०स्य]...

The MS. concludes with a leaf of paper supply which is remarkable, inasmuch as it appears to be a copy of the real last leaf of our MS. when it was in a rather more perfect condition, though perhaps even then it may have been compared with another MS., as the last words of the book and the title show discrepancies of forms, etc.

The date and scribe's name are thus given :

श्रीवज्राचार्यचिकिद्भीसिंहेन लिखितमिति। शुभसंवत् ३२५ का शु पूर्ण वृ।

The date is especially remarkable, as it seems a clear instance of a copied date—the hand as well as paper being modern. The copy however is neither a forgery, nor a mere thoughtless repetition, but simply added as a testimony to the antiquity of a final leaf which was in a perishing condition, doubtless even when the supply was made. See the Palaeographical Introduction.

Add. 1647.

Palm-leaf; 132 leaves, 5 lines, 13 × 2 in.; XVIIIth cent.

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

The MS. is illustrated (cf. Add. 1164) with figures of the 5 Çaktis at the beginnings of the chapters.

The boards are also illuminated with 6 figures of Buddha and other smaller figures.

Begins, after invocation to the Bodhisattvas :

एवं मया श्रुतमेकस्मिन्मये भगवान्राजगृहे विहरति स्म।
गृध्रकूटे पर्वते दक्षिण पार्श्वे बुद्धगोचररत्नवृक्षप्रभासे....

The chapters are differently arranged from the other MSS. Ch. I of Add. 1325 is fourth here; so that the beginning of that MS. will be found on leaf 98*b* of this.

Ch. II (Add. 1325) = Ch. 1 ends 38*b*.

Ch. III „ „ = Ch. 2 „ 93*b*.

Ch. IV „ „ = Ch. 3 „ 97.

Ends :

आर्यमहमन्त्राणुसारणीविद्याराज्ञा समाप्तः । ये धर्मा^० etc.

Add. 1648.

Palm-leaf; 228 leaves, 7 lines, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; XIIIth cent., reign of Arimalla.

SĀDHANA-SAMUCCAYA.

On the hand-writing see the Introduction and Table.

The date (336) has clearly been retouched, possibly by one of the persons who wrote the numerous dates (of the next century) on the cover. Comparing the forms of 2 and 3 in the latter part of the MS., we should certainly pronounce the figures to be 2's: but the ordinary form of 2 (though not of 3) is found even in the later part of the MS. e.g. leaves 209, 210.

The day of the week and month, which Prof. Adams has kindly worked out for me, do not tally for the year 336: nor does that year quite accord with chronological accounts (see the table in Historical Introduction). The numbers have therefore probably been incorrectly restored.

The first date on the cover is that of an आराधनं (devotional or liturgical use of the *sādhana*s?), N. S. 458 (A.D. 1338), by one Ānandajīvaśāstra, at the Ārāṇaka-vihāra.

The writing is fine and clear; with many early features, e.g. the manner of writing i medial, of which both the earlier and later forms are seen.

The chalk-powder is still distinctly traceable on many leaves (see Introduction).

The work is a collection of *sādhana*s or charms (cf. Add. 1686), to which a full index will be found on an extra leaf written by the second hand. Thus :

प[त्र]१ (begins) त्रिसमयसाधन (this sādhana is by a Paṇḍit Kumudākara).

प ६ „ असमाचलास° by Paṇḍit Ratnākaragupta, etc., etc. (51 in all).

The colophon runs thus: सम्वत् [२३६] (see above) पौषकृष्णा-
ष्टम्यां वृहस्पतिवासरे वैशाखनक्षत्रे राजाधिराजपरमेश्वर
श्रीमदरिमल्लदे [वस्य विजराज्ये (sic) लिखितमिदं साधनसमुच्चयं
नाम पुस्तकं]

The words in brackets are rewritten by a second hand. Then follows a page of Dhāraṇīs to Mahākālā.

Add. 1649.

Palm-leaf; 107 leaves, 5 lines, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; dated N. S. 532 (A.D. 1412).

SIDDHI-SĀRA by RĀJA-JYOTIRĀJA-MALLA.

The subject of the work is astrology and auspicious seasons; it has no regular chapters, but numerous small unnumbered divisions.

Begins:

Ends:

† † These words have unfortunately been retraced; but the name Jayajyoti(r)m°† or °dyoti m° is established by the verse at the beginning of the book. See also the Historical Introduction.

Add. 1650.

Palm-leaf; originally 87 leaves, 5 lines, $13 \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ in.; XIV—XVth cent.

AMARA-KOṢA.

Leaves 31, 32, 58, 83, 84, and 86, are wanting.

Leaf 2 is modern supply.

The MS. ends abruptly in the middle of the last line but one of the work.

Add. 1651.

Palm-leaf; 51 leaves, 7 lines, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; XIVth cent.

AMARA-KOṢA.

Leaves, 7, 14, 20, 40, 45, are missing.

Written in a clear, square and upright hand.

Begins (after the invocation) with the 5 distichs given in Deslongchamps' edition; ends abruptly with the word शेषवत्
III. vi. 4.

Add. 1653.

Palm-leaf; 16 leaves, 5 lines, $12 \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ in.; XIV—XVth cent.

TATTVA-SAṄGRAHA.

This is probably the work mentioned in Hiouen-Thsang (translation of M. St. Julien, I, 186) as "Tri-tchin-lun", which, we are told, "veut dire littéralement 'Le traité où sont rassemblées les vérités'"—for which M. Julien suggests 'Tattva-samuccaya'.

The MS. is incomplete.

Begins:

ओं नमो बुद्धाय । तत्त्वसङ्ग्रहतन्त्रादौ प्रकीर्णं
वज्रधारिणा । सच्चिनीत्यभयो होमकर्म प्रज्ञाप्रया(?)प्रियः ॥
सन्त्यन्यरचनानामनिर्भरप्रीतिदात्रिय(?) ।

नपुः सरं सव्यहस्तं दत्वा ओं आः हं इत्यनेन ओं हन क्रोध
 क्रं फहित्यनेन वा स्वदेतामन्त्रेण वा अष्टोत्तरशतजप्तेन... etc.

The whole work seems to be a collection of barbarously expressed tantric devotion and ceremonial, of which the above may serve as a specimen.

Add. 1656.

Palm-leaf and paper supply ; 143 leaves, 5 lines, 13 × 2 in. ; chiefly XIIIth century (see below).

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

On the handwriting generally see the Palaeographical Introduction.

The paper supply is quite modern.

The last page of the MS. as we now have it is in a hand of the XIVth century. The colophon records that the MS. was the offering of one Lalitakramā (see also Add. 1701). The date (N. S. 518) and king's name (Jayasthiti) have been retouched.

This page was written on the back of a leaf (of an avadāna ?), which is in the same hand (viz., that of the XIIIth cent.) as the bulk of the MS., but is not divided into columns, as that is.

Add. 1657. 1.

Palm-leaf; originally 71 leaves, 5—6 lines, 12 × 2 in. ; XIIIth cent.

COMMENTARY on part of the CĀNDRA-VYĀKARAṆA (Adhy. II, pāda ii).

Leaves 16, 21, 24—26, 28, 29, 33—36, 41, 59, 60, 66, 68 are missing.

For the text and other commentaries see Add. 1691. 4—6.

Text begins without invocation, probably because the MS. formed part of a series of commentaries :

[सुप] ॥ [सुपि]तिप्रथमैकवचनमारभ्य सप्तमी बहुवचनपकारेण (sic) प्रत्याहारग्रहणं विधियग्रहणन्यायेन तदन्त्यग्रहणमित्याह सुबन्तमित्यादि

The examples (udāharana) seem not to be drawn from distinctively Buddhist works.

On 7a Pāṇini and Kātyāyana are referred to. Pāṇini is also cited 11b, 32b, 49b and 55b.

The MS. terminates abruptly; probably however not many leaves are lost, as the comment on the last sūtra of the pāda commences 64a.

Add. 1657. 2.

Palm-leaf; 3 leaves, 7—8 lines, 12 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 319 (A.D. 1199).

Fragment of ĀNANDADATTA'S commentary on the
CĀNDRA-VYĀKARAṆA.

This fragment contains the beginning and the end of Adhyāya II, pāda i.

On the date see note to the Table of Numbers; and on the hand see the Introduction.

The first leaf is in a different hand or hands from the others: the forms of the letters however (e.g. घ भ and ध) are very similar. The number of this leaf has perished: the others are 31 and 32.

MS. 1705 (q. v.) is a nearly complete copy of this part of the commentary: the present MS. however, at the beginning, for स्वतः प्र०...र्थः, reads simply स्वयमसिद्धेः

Ends:

चान्द्रव्याकरणे महीपाध्यायश्री आनन्ददत्त विरचितायां

Add. 1657. 3.

Palm-leaf; 4 leaves, 8 lines, 12 × 2 in.; xvth cent.

Fragment of a COMMENTARY on part of the
CĀNDRA-VYĀKARAṆA.

The leaves are in very bad preservation.

The sūtras are given in full.

This fragment begins in the middle of the comment on the part of the text (v. 1) occurring in Add. 1691. 4 29b, l. 3, med. The first sūtra given is लिट्यश्वेदिरुक्त.

Add. 1691. 4, which gives the text, has lost part of this pāda, so that leaf 4 of the present MS. cannot be certainly identified; the last sūtra, ॥अलिटि॥, on leaf 29b of the text occurs here at leaf 3a, line 4, fin.

Several sūtras, however, on 4a correspond with Pāṇ. vi. i. 74, sqq., and, as the earlier parts of this pāda correspond with the same pāda of Pāṇini, the identification of this leaf may be regarded as very probable.

Add. 1658.

Palm-leaf; 29 leaves, 5 lines, 11 × 2 in.; circa A.D. 1390 (see below).

ABHINAVA-RĀGHAVĀNANDA-NĀṬAKA by MAṆIKA.

Part of a play on the life of Rāma, originally produced at Bhatgāon (see below).

The MS. contains the Nāndī (leaves numbered independently 1, 2), Prastāvanā, and Acts i.—iii. and part of iv. (leaves 1—27). A curious and somewhat illegible note on the cover mentions the Rāmāyaṇa as the source of the play.

The Nāndī and Prastāvanā contain several allusions to the reigning dynasty, fixing the date of the play and agreeing with the interesting inscription lately discovered at the great temple of Paṇupati (Indian Antiquary, ix. 183).

The Nāndī, which is pronounced by a sage Bhṛṅgin, with some remarks from the Vināyaka and others, begins with mythological genealogy thus :

ॐ श्रूयतामभिधास्यामि राजराजस्य तवत * * स्थ । चान्तिं
त्वया सर्वामादिमध्यान्तनिर्णयं ॥ etc.

After this the place of performance (Bhatgāon) is thus fixed :

इयंमिन्द्रपुरीव विभातितरां गुणिराशिशिनिसेवितभक्तपुरी ।
प्रतिपालय नाथ तदत्र जनान् प्रणमामि गणाधिपपादयुगं ॥
विनाय० ॥ मुने भृङ्गिन् युक्तमुक्तं । (परिक्रम्य)

The Prastāvanā then follows :

ओं नमो नाथेश्वराय । ततः प्रविशति विनायकः । सिद्धि-
दयिनी । भुङ्ग[°] ।

The sage says that he has arrived at Bhatgāon, श्रीस्थितिराजपा- लितपुरीं प्राप्तो ऽस्मि भक्ताम्पुरीं : further (2a), that he is under the orders of Jayasthiti. The royal family are referred to thus :

य एषः जयति जयस्थितिराज्ये § राजमल्लदेविहृदयज्ञः । नि-
खिलरिपराजमत्तमातङ्गमदविघटने सिंहः ॥

Then follows a line in praise of Jayasthiti, who has amongst other titles श्रीदैत्यनारयनः [°ण°] (cf. Inscription l. 17) : also of the assembly of the grandees of Nepāl. Next, various compliments are paid to the heir-apparent Jaya-dharma-malla, mention is also made of Jyotirmalla who is spoken of as बालनारयनः This seems to put the composition of the play at least 20 years before the inscription (of N. S. 533 or A. D. 1413) as we there find Jyotirmalla the father of three adult children.

* Cf. inscr. supr. cit. for the name and whole phrase, and note ⁵¹ thereon.

†...† The text is half obliterated here.

§ Inscr. ver. 2.

After this an actress enters from the Nepathya and the Sūtradhāra thus reminds her of the name of the play and its author :—(2b—3a)

यथा स्वपादपङ्कज[य]रागपिञ्जरितमस्तकस्य मणिकनाम-
धेयस्य कवेः कृतिरभिनवराघवानन्दनाम नाटकं त्वया नाट-

वादिपदै रीढं प्रबन्धो न कविविस्मयात्। क्रियते ऽयं नृपस्या-
ज्ञापूर्णाथैव केवलं ॥

The actress invokes Nāṭyeṣvarā and refers to the sacrifices offered.

After her apprehensions have been removed, the subject of the play is introduced; and Act 1 accordingly begins (3b) with the entry of Viṣvāmitra, solus; who is presently joined by Daṣaratha and others.

Act i. ends 13, with title, thus: ताडकावधौ (?) नाम प्रथमो ऽङ्कः।

„ ii. „ 22b, शीतापरिणयो द्वितीयो ऽङ्कः।

„ iii. „ 26b, अयोध्याप्रवेशो नाम तृतीयो ऽङ्कः।

The MS. ends abruptly after a speech or two of Act 4.

With this MS. are several fragments, consisting of single leaves, with writing of the xv—xvith century, as follows:

1. Part of the first leaf of a play, containing the Nāndi. Hand-writing very similar to that of the preceding play.

2. A leaf (numbered 53) of a work on magic or ritual; 5 lines, 8 × 2 in. In the last line a ceremony called piṇḍākriṣṭi and the use of mantras are mentioned.

3. A leaf (numbered 37) of the Hitopadeṣa (ed. Johnson, ii. 108—119).

4. A cover of a book, 8 × 2 in., containing only the words:

यासात्त। वेदमाता। अग्नीमीमीदययज्ञारापितासात्क्रया- सत्ति(?)।

Add. 1661.

Palm-leaf; 103 leaves, 5 lines, 13 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 545 (A.D. 1425), but see below.

AMARA-KOṢA.

At the end there is one page of postscript by the scribe, Avāntapāla, in praise of the book, etc.; then a second postscript, partly obliterated, in a different, but probably contemporaneous, hand, beginning:

नेयप्राब्द (?) – कलंब* – कूप – विषयं मार्गे सिते सतिथौ

Yaksha-malla, the reigning king, is twice mentioned.

Add. 1662.

Palm-leaf; 135 leaves, 5 lines, 12 × 2 in.; the last two leaves are late palm-leaf supply, dated N. S. 739 (A.D. 1619), the rest is of the XII—XIIIth cent.

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

Leaves 38, 40, 129—132, 135 are wanting. Each division of the work has also its own pagination. There are remains of illuminations on the binding-boards. On the work see Add. 1164. The division of the work called “Mahāsāhasrapramardinī”, usually second, is here placed first.

Ends :

०प्रशान्तेति । आर्यपञ्चरत्नमहामन्त्रानुसारिणी महाविद्या
समाप्ता । ये धर्मा० । सम्वत् ७३९ श्रावननष्टमासे कृष्णपक्षे *
(hiatus) तिथौ ... etc. (the rest is in a vernacular).

Add. 1679.

A mass of palm-leaf fragments; 12 × 2 inches in size, unless otherwise described.

[The distinctively Buddhistic character of some of these fragments is of course doubtful.]

I. NAISHADHA-CARITA.

[Non-Buddhistic.]

* Cf. Burnell, S. Ind. Palæogr., ed. 1., p. 58.

II. Originally 20 leaves, 5 lines ; xv—xvith cent.

GAṆAPATI-STOTRA.

Leaf 19 is missing.

A tantric manual of devotion ; apparently Buddhistic, as the Samskāras (10b) and other characteristics of Buddhism are mentioned.

Begins:

नमो गनेश्वराय (sic) । प्रथमतस्तूत्रपातनं (?) । आदौ विधि

Ends:

। सर्वपापविनिमुक्तगजराज नमो स्तु ते ॥ १४ ॥

इति गनपतिस्तोत्रं समाप्तं ।

III. One leaf, numbered 67, 6 lines, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 2\frac{1}{4}$ in. ; Bengālī hand of xv—xvith cent.

AMARA-KOṢA.

The leaf contains Am. III. i. 26—45.

IV. The beginning of a work on the eight MĀTRIS.

One leaf has a page-number 19, the rest are torn off. 4 and 5 lines to a page.

On the Mātris, see B. and R. s. v. मातृ and the var. lect. of the Amara-koṣa in Aufr. Oxf. Cat. p. 184a. Their cult seems to belong rather to tantric worship than to genuine Buddhism or Brahmanism.

V. 1 leaf, numbered 18 (?), 5 lines ; straight-topped characters ; xvth cent.

Fragment of an AVADĀNA.

On 2a and 4b a person spoken of as ध्यानचक्षुः is mentioned as practising penance, ध्यानयोग, etc.

VI. $9 \times 1\frac{3}{4}$ in. ; xiv—xvth cent.

Fragment of an AVADĀNA (?).

Small Nepalese hand. The stops etc. are marked with red. 3 verses (numbered 9—12) of a metrical tale or the like.

VII, VIII. [non-Buddhistic.]

IX. 1 leaf, numbered 3, 5 lines, straight-topped hand; xv—xvith cent.

Leaf of a work on the expiation of offences, “DURGATI-PARIṢODHANA” or the like.

The leaf is mutilated.

X. Two leaves on PHILOSOPHY or ASTROLOGY.

The first is numbered 1, but each leaf begins with a sign like ॐ that used for ॐ at commencements. Straight-topped characters except 2b, which is in the hooked Nepalese of the xvth cent., and seems to be by the same hand as the next fragment.

1a begins:

नाहमस्मि न न चान्यो ऽस्ति [अ] र्थे ऽयं चात्र न विद्यते ।
आनन्दपदसंलीन°

1b begins:

...पूर्वेन्दुसंक्रान्तावष्टमेकादशीषुच । नरः चाण्डालयोनि...
(clearly astrological).

2a begins:

मृते जन्मनि संक्रान्तो ग्रह न चन्द्रसूर्ययोः (sic)

2b begins:

विरमति निधुवन... रं शरमनीरं

XI. On ASTROLOGY.

One leaf. See last fragment.

Begins:

°येभ्यः प्रभवति । ° । अमावास्यां यदा...:

The outside seems to be a cover, and contains ejaculatory prayers etc., in a later hand.

XII. Fragment of an Astronomical or Astrological work.

Writing, etc., very similar to No. X.

Begins:

°रा निर्घोषमतु (?) कीकिलनिखनः

Āryabhata is cited in line 2.

The other side is a cover with writing nearly obliterated.

XIII. 8 leaves (leaf 1 wanting), 5 lines.

Part of a work on ASTROLOGY.

Writing, etc., similar to the preceding.

Begins :

°लोकहिताकान्तालोक°

Ends (abruptly) :

इति राशि। उग्रा स्यात्सूर्यहोराया सौम्यासोमस्य की-
र्त्तिता। धा° (?)

XIV. 5 leaves, numbered on right-hand margin, 81—85 (?), 5 lines; xvth cent.

Part of a work on ASTROLOGY.

The speakers are Mahābhairava and a devī, so that the work may be partly, if not wholly, Ćivaic (cf. Burn. Intr. 551).

Begins (after invocations to Mahābhairava) :

देव्युवाच। देव देव महादेव कालकामावकान्तक (?)। °।
इदानीं श्रोतुमिच्छामि कलीपत्तस्य निर्णय (?)। तस्योत्पत्ति°

On 5b (which ends abruptly) we find the subscription चन्द्रसूर्य-
विभागेन जीवितमरणवदं

XV. 1 leaf, 5 lines; xv—xvith cent.

The first page of a LEXICON or GLOSSARY.

In short sections of about a couple of lines, each section containing words beginning with the same letter.

This fragment extends as far as च, and contains inter alia the forms खानी, घर्घरीका; also चार्वाकादि and चामुंडीक.

Begins :

कल्याणाचल कार्मुक प्रियतम...

XVI. 1 leaf, 5 lines, $7 \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ in.; modern hand.

Fragment on the groups of LETTERS.

A summary, apparently, of the mystical import of the letters.

Begins :

अ वर्गः ब्रह्मायनी

XVII. 1 leaf, originally 8 lines ; xv—xvith cent.

Fragment on SACRED TOPOGRAPHY.

Bengali hand of a square form somewhat similar to that of Add. 1364. The rivers Ganges, Jumna, Godāvāri, and Sarasvatī, are named in line 3 ; there is also reference to bathing therein.

On the other side are notes in a slightly different style of writing.

XVIII. 1 leaf, 6 lines ; in sections, numbered 34—37.

Fragment on RITUAL (?), partly vernacular.

Page numbered 62 (in figures and letters) ; stops and emphatic words smeared with red. Frequent mention of चर्ण, घृत, etc.

XIX. 1 leaf, 5 lines, xivth cent.

Fragment on OBLATIONS or COOKERY.

Compare R. A. S. Cat. No. 74 (photographed), both in writing and subject.

The chief articles discussed here are oil, milk, ghee and bilvā (b, l. 1).

Begins :

चन्दनाधं तैलं ॥ क्षीरचतुर्गुणकप्रस्थं

XX. 1 leaf, 4—5 lines ; xvth cent.

Detached sentences on OBLATIONS.

The last part of one sentence, पिण्डखण्डकृतं येन तमा- ज्जर्हन्नाघातका ।, recalls Pañca-tantra II. 115.

XXI. 10 leaves (numbered 2—11), 5 lines; fine, clear hand of the xiv—xvth cent.

Part of a work on MAGIC.

The work abounds in curious combinations of letters, similar to those found in Buddhist books from Tibet and Japan. Its general character may be seen from colophons like इति वक्त्रं न्याशं (2b and 3b); इति आनन्दचक्रं (11b); इति करन्यासः (last leaf).

XXII. 5 lines; xv—xvith cent.

Three fragments of a work on MAGIC.

In numbered sections.

These, and the present form of the leaves, seem to show that we have here fragments from different parts of the work: part 1 comprising the leaves now numbered 1—5; part 2, 6 and pt 3. 7—8. The only remaining (original) numbers are 12 on 3, and 14 on 6. The contents of the book seem to be stotras etc. connected with magical rites: thus on 8, we have the colophon श्रीमातृकाषोडशास्तुति समाप्तः ॥

XXIII. 1 leaf numbered 57, 5 lines, xv—xvith cent.

MAGIC and MYSTICISM.

Subject: nyāsas and the mystical value of letters (a5—b1).

XXIV.—XXX.

These numbers are leaves of tantric stotras and prayers too unimportant to need description.

Besides the above numbered fragments, some 20 or 30 leaves still remain, either belonging to works clearly non-Buddhistic (and therefore not noticed in this catalogue), or fragments too slight or indistinct for recognition.

Add. 1680.

This number represents a heterogeneous mass of palm-leaves of various dates, which arrived, in many cases, caked together by mud and damp. Each measures about 12½ by 2 inches, unless otherwise noted.

The works are as follows:

I. BHADRACARĪ-PRAṆIDHĀNA-RĀJA.

XVI. 1 leaf, 5 lines, $7 \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ in.; modern hand.

Fragment on the groups of LETTERS.

A summary, apparently, of the mystical import of the letters.

Begins :

अ वर्गः ब्रह्मायनी

Begins :

ऊर्ब्रह्मघातका ।, recalls Pañca-tantra II. 115.

XXI. 10 leaves (numbered 2—11), 5 lines; fine, clear hand of the xiv—xvth cent.

Part of a work on MAGIC.

The work abounds in curious combinations of letters, similar to those found in Buddhist books from Tibet and Japan. Its general character may be seen from colophons like इति वक्त्रं न्याशं (2b and 3b); इति आनन्दचक्रं (11b); इति करन्यासः (last leaf).

Add. 1680.

This number represents a heterogeneous mass of palm-leaves of various dates, which arrived, in many cases, caked together by mud and damp. Each measures about 12½ by 2 inches, unless otherwise noted.

The works are as follows:

I. BHADRACARĪ-PRAṆIDHĀNA-RĀJA.

Palm-leaf; 6 leaves, 6 lines, 11 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 188 (A.D. 1068).

On the handwriting see the Palæographic Introduction.

See R. A. S. Cat. 33 and Add. MS. 899. 2; also Chinese Tripiṭ. 1142 (Nanjio).

Begins like Add. 899. 2, reading °सत्त्वो ऽनेक लोको in line 1.

Ends :

आर्यभद्रचरीप्रणिधानराजं समाप्तः ॥ ये धर्मा... ॥ संवत्
१८८ भाद्रपद शुक्ल पौर्णमास्याः शुक्रदिने । उपासक चिन्नेश्वर
पाकस्य पुस्तकी ऽयं लिखितमिति ॥

II. 8 leaves, numbered 1—3, 18, also a leaf numbered 2 from another volume; 5—6 lines, square hand, XIV—XVth cent.

Fragments of the AVADĀNA-ĀTAKA (IVth and Vth decades).

The fragment contains the stories of Dharmapāla, Āṇḍī, and Surūpā (Av.-Cat. iv. 3—5); see MSS. 1386, 1622, and Feer ib. cit. Lf. 18 gives the end of the Anāthapiṇḍadāvad° (iv. 9). The leaf numbered 2 is from the Guḍaḥālāvad° (v. 3) (line 1 = Add. 1386, 78 a, l. 4).

The text on 4b, l. 6 shows considerable discrepancy with the corresponding passage in Add. 1386 (= 60b ll. 7—8).

III. 21 leaves, 5 lines.

Fragments of the DIVYĀVADĀNA.

Apparently same scribe as No. II.

The complete MS. was divided into volumes with independent numbering.

On the work generally see Add. 865. A collation of these fragments will probably be given in the forthcoming edition by Prof. Cowell and Mr Neil.

IV. Leaf of the MAṆICŪPĀVADĀNA.

Same writing as the preceding fragments.

Text corresponds to Add. 874, 7b. l. 3 sqq.

V. Leaf of an AVADĀNA.

Same hand as the preceding.

The leaf is numbered 17.

It describes a conversation between the Buddha and a Rākshasa; the Buddha gives him food and drink.

VI. 5 lines; xv—xvith cent.

First leaf of the VASUDHĀRAṆĪ-KATHĀ.

The introduction is somewhat shorter than in Add. 1355. The tale begins, as there, तेन खलु पुनः समयेन काशाव्यां महानगरीं सुचन्द्रो नाम गृहपति प्रतिवसति स्म।

VII. 16 leaves, 7 lines; xiiith cent.

Part of a work on ASTROLOGY.

Numbered from 9 to 40.

The first portion of the fragment treats of the nakshatras: the concluding leaves of sudden or untimely death (अपमृत्युः, अकालमृत्युः).

VIII. 45 leaves, 5 lines; xii—xiiith cent.

DHĀRAṆĪS.

These fragments appear to be the remains of several volumes of collected charms. There are two illustrations of caityas etc. One volume has pages with letter- as well as figure-numbering, running from 2 to 17; each page is written in two distinct columns. A second is generally paged only in figures (these are all between 9 and 35), and has no full columns, but only square spaces round the string-hole. There are also two leaves with columns on one side and space on the other.

In the first vol., we find the ends of the following dharaṇīs, etc. : Phalāphalahṛidayā (4a); Jāti-smarā-dh° (4b); Kallajayā-dh° (9b); Ushṇīṣhavijayā (17b).

In the second volume the following: Vajrottara-dh° (12a), Lakṣha (14a); Hṛishtaṇḍapratyayaḥ Stutidharā-dh° (14b); Sarvatathagatahṛidayā-dh° (15b); Hemaṅgā-dh° Jaṅgulā mahāvidyā (17); Akshobhyā-dh° (17*b); Vajrottara (ib.), cf. supra; Koṇḍrā dhāraṇī-caityakaraṇa vidhiḥ (18); Ārya Mahādharanī (21); Buddhahṛidayā-dh° (22b); Saman-tabhadrā-dh° (23); Dhātukāraṇḍā (23b); Svapnandadā-dh° (27b); Kallajaya (32) cf. supra; Āryamahā dhāraṇī (33), cf. supra; Sarvarucirāṅgayashī 36; Sarvamaṅgalā (ib.); Sarvaroga-praṇamanī (36b).

The two leaves with columns described above are numbered 9 and 11 respectively.

9 has the colophon :

आर्यमहामणिविपुलविमानसुप्रतिष्ठितगुह्या नाम धारणी

11. बुद्धानुस्मृति.

On leaves without (original) numbers, we find : Grahamātrikā-dh° (1); Mārīcī (2b); Samanta-bhadrāprajñā-dh° (4); Asṭamahābhaya-tāraṇī (5); Jāṭismarū-dh° (5) cf. supra.

IX. 3 leaves, 6 lines, XII—XIIIth cent. Apparently these form part of one MS.

Fragments of works connected with the PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

One is the second and last leaf of

PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ in 9 ÇLOKAS by KAMBILA.

Ends :

इति चिन्तयतस्तत्त्वं सर्वभावेष्वनिश्चितं ।

बौद्धी (?) प्रणिधिचित्तस्य ज्ञानमेव भविष्यति ॥

इति नवश्लोकः प्रज्ञापारमिता समाप्ता ॥ कृतिराचार्य-
कम्विलपादानां ॥

Then follow 4 çlokas said to be by Nāgārjuna in praise of the reader of the Nāmasaṃgīti. After several lines of epithets, etc., it ends :

एषामनुक्रमेणैव यः पठेन्नामसंगीतिम् । नान्तरायो भवेत्त-
स्य जिनमातुः प्रकीर्त्तनात् ॥ आर्यनागार्जुनपादानां ॥

The second leaf contains the end of the

PAÑCAVIṂṢATIKĀ-PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀHRIDAYA.

The text seems to be the same as that of Add. 1486.

The third is apparently the beginning of some redaction of the Prajñāpāramitā.

After the usual introductory phrases, Avalokiteṣvara addresses Bhagavān as follows : दंशयतु मे भगवान्प्रज्ञापारमितां खल्वा- चरां महापुण्यां...

X. 4 lines, xvth cent.

Leaf of a MYSTICAL work.

In the first line we find

इति भावो न भाव स्यात् भावना नोपलभ्यते । अनेन
शून्यताया प्रवेशयेत्

The next line treats of the mystical value of letters. The verso is nearly obliterated, only the page number 2 being visible.

XI. 7 lines, Bengali hand, xvith cent. (?).

Leaf of work on RITUAL.

The form of the work seems to be instruction to pupils; but the whole leaf is very indistinct. One sentence begins (l. 3) :

ततः शिष्यः स्वर्णबीजं पद्यं...; and (l. 5) ततः शिष्ययोः
षडङ्गं...

The fragment concludes with the 5th line of the verso.

XII. 6 lines, XII—XIIIth cent.

Leaf of a work on Buddhist MUDRĀS.

In line 1 we find :

अङ्कुशमुद्रेति । करद्वयस्य कनिष्ठाभ्यामन्योन्यमङ्कुशरूपं

On the verso, l. 2, is the colophon

स्त्रियबुद्धाख्यान (?) पटलश्चतुर्थः ॥

At the beginning of the next chapter occur the names of Cuddhodhana, Aralli, Rāhula, etc.

XIII. (NIRUTTARA TANTRA).

[Non-Buddhistic.]

XIV. Late palm-leaf.

Fragments of STOTRAS, etc.

Chiefly invocations, ह्रं श्रीं etc., to various personages.

Add. 1681.

ALPHABETS, etc., compiled by PAṆDIT GUṆĀNAND.

Written for use in deciphering the MSS. of the present collection.

Add. 1682.

Palm-leaf; 83 leaves, 5 lines, 21 × 2 in.; Nepalese hand of the xith cent.

SADDHARMA-PUNḌARĪKĀ.

Chap. 10 ends 78a, 1.; the MS. consequently terminates towards the end of Chap. 11.

On the work see MS. 1032.

Add. 1683.

Palm-leaf; 139 leaves, 5 lines, 21 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 159 (A. D. 1039).

SADDHARMA-PUNḌARĪKĀ.

By several scribes; leaf 56b (= Paris MS., 99a med – 99b) is commenced by the second scribe, but on 57a the same passage is written over again.

The MS., though as a rule beautifully written, is much damaged by worms, etc.

The first part of the colophon, so far as it remains on the mutilated final leaf, coincides with Add. 1032, except that we have महीपा-यकौ[श्ल्यं] for सर्वापाय° (see p. 24, line 28).

The next legible words are as follows:

देयधर्मो ऽयं... निवासिनः श्राव्यभिचुः (sic) हर्षगुप्तस्य यदत्र पुण्यं तद्भवतु। आचार्योपाध्या[य]... (?)... (hiatus) सकलमथ अनुत्तराज्ञानफलप्राप्तये (corr. °rājñ°) लिखितमिति। सम्वत् १५७ (in letter-numerals) वैशाख शुक्ल तृतीयायां शुक्रदिने। श्रीलक्ष्मीकामदेवस्य विजयराज्ये लिखितमिति॥

A note (of recitation?) in vernacular follows, dated N. S. 803.

For the work see Add. 1032. This and the preceding MS. have been used by Prof. Kern for his edition of the text.

Add. 1684.

Palm-leaf; originally 156 or 157 leaves, 5—6 lines, 21 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 185 (A.D. 1065).

SADDHARMA-PUNḌARĪKĀ.

The leaves run thus: 2—10, 10*, 11—117, 119—152, 154—156.

Chap. 15 is wrongly numbered 16, and the mistake continues to the end of the MS. On the reigning king and on the writing see the Introductions.

The colophon runs :

सद्धर्मं धर्मपर्याये अनुपरीन्दना परिवर्ती अष्टविंशतितमः।
सम्बत् १८५ (in letter-numerals) वैशाखशुक्लद्वादशम्यां। परम-
भट्टारकश्रीपद्युक्तामदेवस्य (sic, v. Introd.) राज्ये विशुद्धचन्द्रा-
शुनिर्मल * * (hiatus) शु (?) पीथ्यो (?) निवासिन्यामनकराणिका-
यासंभारद्वयलब्धामया सद्धर्मपुण्डरीकमिदं वरेण्यं सूत्रनायकं
लिखापित्वा प्रतिष्ठापितं भवतीति। (Then a scribe's verse)।

With this MS. is a stray leaf of a Buddhistical treatise in handwriting etc., similar in all respects, with the leaf number ३१० (?) 310 (cf. table of numbers, note).

The first syllables are: °लंकारगर्भस्य° ...; the last, लोकोक्ताप.

Add. 1685.

Palm-leaf; 64 leaves, 6 lines, 13½ × 2 in.; dated N. S. 500 (A.D. 1380).

AMARA-KOṢA.

The final subscription, after date and scribe's verses partly faded, seems to run thus :

* * * पुस्तकस्वस्तिकारकं ॥ लेखक- श्रीवंपि विहारि राम-
दत्तेन परार्थहेतुना लिखितमिदं शास्त्रं ॥ श्रीव निज्य (?) महा-
यात्र श्रीसजभाराकस्य (?) पुस्तकं ॥

Add. 1686.

Palm-leaf; 119 leaves, 6 lines, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; dated N. S. 287 (A. D. 1167).

SĀDHANA-MĀLĀ-TANTRA.

The MS. is very defective, and was perhaps copied from a faulty archetype.

The leaf-numbers fall into two sets or volumes.

The first leaf, which corresponds to Add. 1593, 25*b*, 1, is numbered 43, and this numeration continues to leaf 57, the end of which corresponds to leaf 34*b* in the same MS. The first volume was regarded as ending at 58*a*, for here we find the date; and the leaf number is added on the recto in an ancient, though nevertheless a second, hand. The second part or volume was regarded as beginning at 58*b*; for here a new series of numbers begins, not however with leaf 1, but with 34, perhaps because the leaf was the 34th of the whole extant archetype, at the time when our present MS. was copied. Be that as it may, we find the leaf common to the two parts with 58 on the recto and 34 on the verso. After this leaf, which corresponds to 34*b* fin.—35*b*, 2, of Add. 1593, there is a gap, and the next leaf, numbered 44, corresponds to 49*b* of the other MS. Leaf 53 (1st series) and leaves 34—43, 46, 78, 114, and 138—141 (2nd series), are missing. 129 is erroneously repeated (129*). The MS. terminates abruptly at leaf 152 (= Add. 1593, 188*b*, l. 5). On the writing, the first dated example of hooked Nepalese hand, see the Palæographical Introduction. On the work see the account of Add. 1593. It may be observed that there is nothing in either MS. to show the reason for the division into volumes found in the present MS. The division occurs after a charm (sādhana) apparently quite like the rest. The date and title of the charm are given thus:

स्थिरचक्रं साधनं समाप्तं ॥ सं २८५ पौष्यमाषे ति (sic)

Add. 1687.

Coarse brownish paper; 129 leaves, 5 lines, 12×2 in.; dated N. S. 753 (A. D. 1633).

KĀRAṆḌA-VYŪHA (Prose version).

Written at Bhatgāon in the reign of Jagajjyotir Malla (see below).
For the work see Add. 1267.

पुत्र वृषध्वजावतारं श्रीरनिदासल्ल* तस्य उभयराज्ये शुभं ।

Add. 1688.

Palm-leaf; originally 70 leaves, 6 lines, 22 × 2 in.; Kuṭila character; dated 14th year of Nayapāla of Bengal (circa A.D. 1054).

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

Leaf 27 is missing. On the date and writing see the Introductions.

The MS. is copiously illustrated with figures of buddhas, divinities, and caityas: and the ends of the chapters have elaborate patterns etc. On the work see Add. 1325 and add a reference to Rājendralāl, Nep. Buddh. Lit., p. 164.

The 5 chapters (for which see Add. MS. 1325) end respectively 19b, 1; 45a, 1; 64b, 4; 67a, 2; 70a, 4.

The final subscriptions are as follows :

देयधर्मोऽयम्वरमहायानयायिन्याः परमोपासिकाराज्ञी
उद्गाकाया यदत्र पुण्यन्तद्भवत्वाचार्यायाध्यायमातापितृ [पर्वङ्गम]

Add. 1689.

Palm-leaf; 23 leaves, 5 lines, 16 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 494 (A.D. 1374).

MEGHA-SŪTRA.

Edited with notes and a translation, in the Journal of the Royal As. Soc., 1880, by the compiler of this catalogue. See also a learned, but occasionally over subtle, criticism in the China Review, May, 1882.

Begins :

नमोऽचिन्त्यसागरेभ्यः सर्वसम्यक्संबुद्धेभ्यः ॥

एवं मया श्रुतमेकस्मिन् समये भगवान् नन्दीपन्दनागरा-
जभवने विहरति स्म। श्रीमणिरत्नगर्भमहामेघमण्डलकूटागारं

Ends :

इति श्रीमहामेघाद् महायानसूत्राद्वातमण्डलीपरिवर्तः
पञ्चषष्ठितमः समाप्तः ॥

The postscript consists of the verse ये धर्मा etc.

Then follows :

देयधर्मी ऽयम्यवरमहायानयायिनपरसौगतपरमकारुणिक-
श्रीरचित्रमहाविहारीयशक्यभिक्षु श्री तेजचन्द्रस्थविर...

Next come salutations to ācārya and parents (cf. Add. MS. 1623. 3 supra), then date (day and month); reign of Jayārjunadeva वज्राचार्य-श्री-तुमश्री नम्रेण (sic) लिखितमिदं महामेघपुस्तकं।

Then follow two of the ordinary scribe's verses.

Add. 1690.

I. Palm-leaf; 4 leaves, 5 lines, 17 × 2 in.; xv—xvith cent.*

Fragments of the VASUDHĀRĀ-DHĀRAṆĪ-KATHĀ.

* The supposed date given in Dr D. Wright's list is founded on a misreading of a date of recitation, now removed to Add. 1689, to which it originally belonged.

This fragment contains the first and last leaves of the book, the other two being numbered 13, 14. See Add. MS. 1355.

II. Fragments of STOTRAS, etc.

Size and writing similar to the preceding.

Chiefly invocations and the like.

III. Palm-leaf; $3\frac{1}{2}$ lines, written on one side only; 2×16 , but originally perhaps 18 in.; XII—XIIIth cent.; has 3 string-holes.

Leaf of a work on the YĀNAS.

In l. 2 vaipulya and nirdeṣa-sūtras are mentioned.

The fragment ends abruptly thus:

त्वमेव परमाश्रययानमन्यन्न विद्यते। [partial hiatus]। अपि
तत्त्वे ऽपि तत्त्वज्ञानिमित्ये (?) पि तथागतः।

Add. 1691.

I. Palm-leaf; 8 leaves, 7 lines, 12×2 in.; apparently dated N. S. 311 (A.D. 1191).

HIRANYA-SAPTAKA.

The date of writing is given in another hand, as noticed in the Palæographical Introduction. The letter numerals of the date are difficult to identify. The first probably represents the figure 3, which is also used as a letter-numeral (for the use of the unit 3, to express 300 in the letter-system, compare Add. 1465). The second is tolerably clearly 10. The last, which resembles २, is extremely doubtful. A second subscription in the vernacular, probably relating to a recitation, twice mentions Yakshamalla and gives the date N. S. 574 (A.D. 1454).

The work is a collection of 16 saptakas or groups of seven stanzas.

Begins:

नमः श्रीसुखावतीश्वराय। श्रीज्ञानपुण्यसरसी

The saptakas have the following titles: nidāna-saptaka, jāti-s°, dosha-s°, guṇa-s°, liṅga-s°, prārambha-s°, praṇāla-s°, pramāna-s° (sic ?), droṇa-s°, khāta-s°, digvāṇī-s° (?), maṇḍala-s°, mantra-s°, kriyā-s°, ārāma-s°, phala-s°.

The subscription runs thus :

विधाय भूजातिविशेषकीर्तनं समासतो वारि हिरण्यसप्तकं ।
यदत्र पुण्यं जगत्संप्रयातु तत् हिरण्यवन्नीरमिवोपयोग्यतां ।
हिरण्यसप्तकं नाम वारिशास्त्रं समाप्तमिति ।

Then, in the second hand above referred to :

अहिगुप्तस्य पुस्तकी ऽयं । सम्वत् ३११ (१?) कात्तिक (sic) वृष्ण
पंम्यां (? पं[च]म्यां) बुधवासरे लिखितमिति ॥

Then the last subscription in vernacular, as above mentioned.

On the back of the last leaf is a page, numbered ३११, in a hand very similar to that of the MS. itself; there are however only 6 lines of writing (instead of 7). It is the beginning of a work on the use of arms, entitled Khadga-pūjā-vidhi.

Begins :

नमः श्रीऐकविजयाय ॥ यो जन्तुं स्थानप्रबलरिपुगण
श्रीमणीवीरलक्ष्मीं अभ्रं खड्गं त्रिशूलं शृणि-शर-धनुषं वज्रपाशं
दधानः । Cf. Add. 1701. 1.

II. Palm-leaf; 23 leaves, 5 lines, 12 × 1½ in.; early hooked Nepalese hand, probably written A.D. 1179 (see below).

KURUKULLĀ-KALPA.

The date n. s. 299 was given by Dr D. Wright, but the first figure alone is now left: the name of the reigning king is also torn away, all but the first letter, which however is enough to fix the king, Ānanda. The date is however probably correct, as this year comes within Ānanda's reign (see Table in Historical Introd.), and the writing seems also of this date (see Palaeographical Introduction and Table of letters).

This is a work on ritual in connection with the goddess Kurukullā, who is mentioned by Schiefner (ap. B & R s. v. कुरुकुल्ला).

Begins:

नमो भगवत्यै कुरुकुल्लायै । न पुगते (?) चान्तर्हिते च तन्त्रता-

रोद्धवे योगमहासमुद्रे । तारास्रवी नाम महावित्त [lacuna] ॥
उद्धृत्य तन्त्रेषु च विस्तरेषु योगान् प्रयोगान् बज्रमवहेतोः ।
लोकेश्वरः कल्पमिदं वभाषे...

पटावतारणकल्पः । 4b.

द्वितीयः कल्पः समाप्तः । 9b.

Ends :

इदमवीचङ्गवानवलोकितेश्वरः ... etc.

आर्यकुरुकुल्लकल्पः समाप्तः ॥ तारास्रवमहायोगतन्त्रान्तः
पीति (?) तारोद्धवाद्बद्ध इति ॥ ये धर्म° etc. ।

देयधर्मीऽयं प्रवरमहायानयायिनः परमोपासकश्री रा-
ण-ठक[रस्य] यदत्रपुण्यं etc. ।

सम्बत् २.... (see above) कार्तिकशुक्लपञ्चम्यां शनिश्चरदिने
श्या[नन्ददेवस्य] प्रवर्धमानविजयराज्ये लिखितमिति ॥

A few invocations etc. to Kurukullā follow, in a later hand.

III. Palm-leaf; 15 leaves, 6 lines, 12 × 2 in.; dated N. s.
560 (A.D. 1440).

ABHISHEKA-VIDHI.

A work on late Buddhistic ritual.

Begins :

ओं नमः श्रीवज्रसत्त्वाय । तत्र शिष्यमेकं द्वौ बहून्वा कृतम-
ण्डलान्पृथिव्यामारोपितजानून् सपुष्पाञ्जलान् ॥ नेहलोक-
एवाभ्युदयार्थं नानापि न परलोकाभ्युदयाय । किन्तु तथागतका-
मत्रयसम्यक्प्राप्तये मण्डलप्रवेशः कार्यस्तथा सत्यभ्युदयद्वयसत्य-
तीति श्रावयित्वा ।

The divisions of the work are not numbered; the following may serve as some clue to its contents :

दन्तकाष्ठपातनं । 3. शिष्याधिवासनाविधि । 3b. आ-
चार्यप्रवेशविधि । 4b. आवेशविधिः । 6b. साम्बपट (?) शिष्य-
प्रवेशविधि । ib. मालाभिषेकः । 7a. पुष्पपातनविधिः । 7b.
उदकाभिषेकविधिः । 8a. मुकुटाभिषेकविधिः । 8b and so on.

The passage is Cāndra-vy. v. ii. med., and corresponds to Add. 1694, lf. 31b, l. 2—32a, 4 (med.).

VIII. Palm-leaf; 3 leaves, 6 lines, 11 × 2 in. ; XIII—XIVth cent.

Fragment of a treatise on ASTROLOGY, or of an AVADĀNA.

The leaves are broken at the edges where the numbers were apparently placed.

In the work much is said of births, conjunctions, etc.; but characters are also introduced, especially a merchant Mikira and his wife Bhidrikā.

Thus the fragment may be from an astrological treatise with illustrations from tales, or an astrological episode of an avadāna.

Add. 1693.

Palm-leaf; 295 leaves, 6 lines, 17 × 2½ in. ; Kuṭila or early Devanāgarī hand as modified in the XIIth cent. A.D.; dated N. S. 285 (A.D. 1165).

ASṬASAHAŚRIKĀ PRAJÑĀPĀRAMITĀ.

The pagination is in letters and figures, but there is an error of 3 in the former throughout.

On the reigning monarch (Ananda) and on the writing see the Introductions and Plates.

The colophon, giving also the name and residence (the Dharma-cakra-mahāvihāra) of the scribe, is partially obliterated in its latter part :

संवत् २८५ आवण शुक्लाष्टम्यामादित्यदिने। श्रीमदानन्ददेवस्य विजयराज्ये॥ लिखितेदं (?) श्रीमस्वक्यां (?) वन्ताण्डुल्लके (?) श्रीधर्मचक्रमहाविहाराधिवासिन शाक्यभिक्षुमञ्जुश्रियेणेति॥ श्रीधानपिङ्गविषयाधिवासिन वुड्डीभ्रावै (?) नामधेयस्य यदत्र पुण्यं तद्भववाचार्यध्यायमातापितृपर्वङ्गमङ्गुवा सकलसत्त्वराशेरनुत्तरज्ञानावाप्नुयादिति॥

On the book see Add. 866.

Add. 1695.

Paper; 24 leaves, folding backwards and forwards, 7 lines, 9 × 3 in.; dated N. S. 749 (A.D. 1629), month of Jyeshṭha, at an eclipse of the sun.

HARAGAUṚĪ-VIVĀHA-NĀṬAKA by RĀJA JAGAJJYOTIR
MALLA of BHATGĀON.

This eclipse has been kindly calculated for me by Professor Adams, who reports that a small eclipsè was visible at Bhatgāon on June 21st, 1629 A.D. (new style) from 7.56 A.M. to 9.17 A.M., local time.

The play is in a vernacular, but like several others of the kind (cf. Pischel, Catal. der Bibl. der D. M. G.) has stage directions, and incidental ṣlokas in more or less corrupt Sanskrit.

The piece seems to partake of the nature of an opera; as it contains 55 songs in various modes ('rāgas,' e.g. the Mālava-rāga); moreover the colophon कोणि भाषा frequently occurs, apparently denoting an instrumental accompaniment or interlude.

Besides Çiva and Gaurī, the chief dramatis personae seem to be Gaurī's parents, Himālaya and Menā, and a ṛishi, Bhṛiṅgin.

The piece is in 10 'sambandhas,' the first of which, and part of the second, seem to be missing.

The colophon runs as follows:

इति श्रीमहाराजाधिराजश्रीरजगज्ज्योतिर्मल्लकृतं पञ्च-
पञ्चाशद्गीतोपवद्धं हरगौरीविवाहनाम नाटकं समाप्तं ॥ श्री-
भवानीशङ्करौ प्रणीतः ॥ सम्वत् ७४९ ज्येष्ठकृष्ण अमावास्या

Add. 1697.

I. Palm-leaf; 165 leaves, 5 lines, 12½ × 2 in.; XIII—XIVth cent.

KRIYĀPAÑJIKĀ of KULADATTA.

The earlier part of the MS. had both letter- and word-numbering, but, owing to mutilation of the edges, much of it has been renumbered, and many leaves in the latter part, which had faded, have also been recently retouched. The MS. is imperfect at the end.

* Cf. Wright's Nepal, p. 216 l. 12 and B. & R. s. v. तुलापुरुष.

The work is on the ritual of later northern Buddhism. Part of an index of the various 'vidhis,' etc., is found on the back of leaf 1. R. A. S. MS. No. 42 contains a small portion of the work. The first part, at all events, is divided into numbered prakaraṇas, but these divisions seem to cease further on.

The text begins, after salutations to Buddha and the Triratna :

महागमात्मदान्नायात्सच्छिष्याधीषणावशात् ।

वज्रसत्त्वं जगन्नाथं नवेयं क्रियते मया ॥

1. Ends :

इति कुलदत्तविरचितायां क्रियापञ्चिकायां प्रथमं प्रकरणं । 5.

2. इति महापण्डितकुलद° क्रि° द्वितीयं प्र° । 14 a-b.

3. इ° म° तृतीयं प्र° 29.

4. इति महापण्डितश्रीकुलद° क्रि° चतुर्थं प्र° । 33b.

The rest of the work seems to be divided into short unnumbered sections, describing various points of ritual: e.g. at leaves 141 sqq. the 'sthāpanāni,' or settings up of images of various deities.

On the last page occurs the section-title इति ही पिण्डमन्त्रः

The MS. terminates abruptly 2 lines below.

II. Palm-leaf; originally 34 leaves, 7 lines, 11 × 2 in.; xv—xvith cent.

HEVAJRA-ĀKINĪJĀLASAMBARA-TANTRA.

Bengālī hand, obscure and somewhat careless. Leaf 22 is missing. For the work see Add. 1340.

Ends :

हेवज्राकिनीजालसम्बरे द्वादशमः पटलः समाप्तः ॥

III. Palm-leaf; 9 leaves (numbered 2—10), 5—6 lines, 12 × 2 in.; xvith cent.

Part of a work on RITUAL, etc.

The handwriting is poor and careless.

First section (leaf 3a): खड्गादिपूजाविधि समाप्तमिति (cf. Add. 1706)॥ Then नमो वज्रङ्गणायै कीमारीकानयन...

The second section ends on leaf 6a: कुमारिकारननिमित्तोद्देशः समाप्तः (°कारणनिमित्त° ?).

Section 3 ends 9b—10a: योगिनीपूजाविधि समाप्तः ॥

Section 4 begins: नमो वज्रसत्त्वाय ॥ श्रीमानतुररजयोगविषदः... (?), and ends abruptly on the next page.

IV. Palm-leaf; 16 leaves and cover, 5 lines, 12 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 583 (A.D. 1463).

BALIMĀLIKĀ and two DHĀRĀNĪS.

The Balimālikā is a short work on ritual in 52 numbered sections. It consists chiefly of invocations, mystic formulae, and the like.

The text begins:

नमामि वज्रसत्त्वस्य चरणाम्भीरुहद्वयं ।
येनैव वलिदानेन प्रीणिताः सर्वजन्तवः ॥
रत्नचक्रादिकं सर्वं शोधनबोधनं ततः ।
वलितत्वे मम कृते ज्ञातव्यसाधुसम्पत्ते ॥

Ends:

नागबलि । ५३ । बलिमालिका समाप्तः ग्रन्थप्रमाणमस्य ।
४१६ ।

The first dhārāṇī commences on the back of the same leaf (14) (on which there are traces of obliterated writing) thus:

निर्बलिं निश्चयं नान्तं निदन्दं निर्मलं निधिं ।
निष्प्रपञ्चनिरालवं निर्विकल्पं नमाम्यहं ॥

The second dhārāṇī (ff. 15—16) contains 21 verses in honour of Vajra-yoginī beginning:

एवं कारसमासीने सहजानन्दरूपिणी । प्रज्ञाज्ञाने च देहाये
नमस्ते वज्रयोगिनी ॥ १ ॥

Ending:

इति वज्रयोगिनीप्रणामैकविंशतिका स्तोत्रास्तु समाप्तः ॥
सम्बत् ५८३ जेष्ठ वधि १३ श्री विष्णुनिच्छं वाहारे योगिता-
ज्ञस्यचोता ॥

V. and VI. Palm-leaf; 21 leaves, 7—8 lines, 13 × 2 in.; Bengali hand of xv—xvith cent.

The two MSS. are apparently by one scribe.

The writing is faint, somewhat careless, and very indistinct.

The first work (1697. 5) appears to be a treatise on letters and their mystical value (cf. 1699. 1, etc.). The opening words can now hardly be deciphered, but in the first line the book seems to be described as गुह्यानुक्रमणि.

The work appears to consist of 4 leaves, (3 being numbered), with some kind of table or diagram on the last page. No colophon or title of any sort remains.

The next work (1697. 6) seems to be on astrology, astronomy or the like.

It appears to begin at leaf 1b; while 1a seems to have something in common with both treatises, being both on letters and auspicious days.

The work begins thus (f. 1b):

शङ्करादित्यशुभ्रांशुपरां भार्यान्मरस्वतीं ।

नवा प्रत्यूहशान्तर्यं वक्ष्यामि करणीत्तमं ॥

विवाहे जातकादौ संचेपात्...

The end is almost obliterated.

VII. Palm-leaf; 4 leaves, 5 lines, $12\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; xv—xvith cent.

CAKRASAMBARADAṆḌAKĀSTUTI and other STOTRAS.

The first stotra is in 4 numbered sections, the last of which ends :
चैकहृत्यो (?) स्तुति शेषत सर्वदा । ४ । श्रीचक्रसम्बरदण्डकस्तुति समाप्त ॥

The next stotra, which seems to be unfinished, begins :

माया चक्रीस्थिताया ज्वलदनलसिखाविद्युताकाररूप ।...

VIII. Palm-leaf; 4 leaves and covers, 12×2 in.; dated N. S. 475 (A.D. 1355).

FRAGMENTS.

1. Leaf of the EKALLAVĪRA-TANTRA.

Contains the end of Ch. 23 (= Add. 1319, 67a—2b 4).

2. Leaf of a COMMENTARY.

Page-number 5.

Begins :

योचं । ते च क्रीधगणाः परमार्थतो अनन्याः । अत आह-
नन्तैर्वज्रपाणिभिरिति ॥

Ends :

तत आह । बुद्धकृत्यकरैरिति ॥ अत एव नाथाः शास्तारो

3. Two leaves of notes, etc., in various hands.

The first leaf consists of short prayers to Amoghasiddha; the second has only a few lines of writing in a vernacular.

Add. 1698.

Palm-leaf; 161 leaves, 5 lines, 13 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 506 (A.D. 1386).

AMARA-KOṢA, with Newāri commentary called VIVṚITI, by MĀṆIKYA.

Written at Bhatgāon in the reign of Jayasthiti Malla.

The first leaf, which contains some prefatory remarks (partly in the vernacular), is much mutilated.

The text स्वरव्ययं etc. begins 2b.

The colophon is in verse (161a):

श्रीश्रीजयस्थितीशस्य मल्लदेवस्य भूपतेः ।
अमात्य श्रीजय[]द्रुह्यास्वामिकार्यपरायणः ॥
स स्वपुत्राय विधिवदिमां टीकामचीकरत् ।

श्रीजयस्थितिभूपाले नेपालराष्ट्रशास्त्रि ।
श्रीमङ्गलपुरे देशे ग्रथित्वा लिखितं तदा ॥

After this comes a scribe's (benedictory) verse.

Then follows :

इति माणिक्यविरचितो ऽमरकोषस्य नेपालभाषाटिप्पणी

Add. 1699.

This number consists of three works and a fragment, written by one scribe, Kāçṛīgayaṅkara, in three successive years (1198—1200 A. D.) in the Bengali character, forming the earliest example of that writing at present found. See the Palæographical Introduction to the present work and my description in the Palæographical Society's Oriental Series, Plate 81. The leaves measure $11\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ inches, and are in remarkably fresh preservation. There are 6 to 8 lines on each page.

I. 5 leaves ; dated 38th year of Govindapāla (A.D. 1199).

On the king see the Historical Introduction.

Writing larger and generally fainter than in No. 1, but similar in all essential characteristics. Important words etc., are marked with a red smear; some corrections, stops, etc., with yellow.

The divisions (kalpa) and subdivisions (paṭala) of the work answer to those of the Hevajra (Add. 1340); the first kalpa ending at leaf 43. The text is given only in abbreviations.

IV. 2 leaves.

Fragment (unfinished) of the GUHYĀVALĪ-VIVṚITI.

The first leaf is numbered 9, the second has no number and is written on only one side.

The fragment contains section 17, with parts of 16 and 18, corresponding to leaves 12—13 of No. II. It is written in the same hand.

Add. 1701.

I. Palm-leaf; 154 leaves, 5 lines, 12 × 2 in.; dated N. S. 509 (A.D. 1389), see below.

PAÑCA-RAKSHĀ.

The date and name of the reigning king are written in a different, but apparently contemporary, hand.

There is another date, probably of recitation, but nearly obliterated, inside the cover.

As to the book, see Add. 1164, et al.

The colophon runs :

II. Palm-leaf; 5 lines, 12 × 2 in.; XIV—XVth cent.

First two leaves of the DHARMASAṄGRAHA.

The text differs somewhat from that of Add. 1422; after the mention of the 5 skandhas (2b, 3 = Add. 1422, 2b, 3), it passes directly to the pratityasamutpāda (ibid., 5a, 1).

The fragment ends in the enumeration of the seven bodhyāṅgas.

III. [Non-Buddhistie].

Add. 1702.

Palm-leaf; 144 remaining leaves, 6—8 lines, 12 × 2 in.; IXth cent.

BODHISATTVA-BHŪMI.

The MS. is imperfect and very shattered at the edges, in particular many of the leaf-numbers being broken off. The original order has been restored, as far as possible, from the writing and subject of the leaves. On the palæography and date see the excursus appended to the Palæographical Introduction. No other MS. or version of the work seems to exist.

The subject of the work is the mental and spiritual development of a bodhisattva. For the use of 'bhūmi' in the sense of 'stage of progress,' compare the Daṣabhūmi above; the stages, seven in this case, are enumerated at the beginning of Chapter 3, Part 3 (see below). Compare also M. Senart's Mahāvastu, p. xxxv, note.

The subjects of the various chapters may be seen from their titles, and may be gathered more explicitly from a statement, usually in a catechetical form, occurring at the beginning of each. These titles, etc., so far as they are at present discoverable, are given below. The main divisions of the work are three.

[The leaves are tentatively numbered, and are referred to on the same plan as in Add. 1049 above.]

I. ĀDHĀRA-YOGASTHĀNA.

Chap. 1 ends and chapter 2 begins :

बोधिसत्वभूमि[व]ाधारे योगस्थाने प्रथमे प्रथमं गोत्रपटलं समाप्तं॥ इह बोधिसत्वस्य प्रथमश्चित्तीत्यादः सर्वबोधिसत्वसम्यक्प्रणिधानानामाद्यन्तरस्य सम्यक्प्रणिधानसंग्राहकं तस्यात्मबोधि आदितः सम्यक्प्रणिधानस्वभाव स खलु बोधिसत्वो etc. एवं... भाषते "अहो वताहमनुत्तरां सम्यक्सम्बोधिमभिसंबुद्धीयं सर्वसत्त्वानां चार्थकारः स्यां..." 93b.

Chap. 2 ends: ब० आ० चित्तीत्यादः दि० । 100a.

Chap. 3 begins with an enumeration of the seven 'sthānas' of the bodhisattva.

These are svārtha, parārtha, tattvārtha, prabhāva, sattvapariṣkā (cf. chapters 3—6), ātmano buddhadharmapariṣkā and anuttarā samyaksambodhi. 'Svārtha' is then further explained.

Ends: ब० आ० स्वपरार्थपटलं तृतीयं 107b.

Chap. 4 (तत्त्वार्थपटलं) commences by declaring tattvārtha to be of two kinds, saṃanta and laukika (?). Ends 63b.

Chap. 5. On prabhāva, begins (63b, l. 3) with the curiously expressed declaration that the highest innate prabhāva of Buddhas and Bodhisattvas is the "Aṣṭatthādbhutadharmatā", doubtless an allusion to Ćākyamuni's tree.

Chap. 6 is on pariṣkā, which it commences (16a) by describing as षड्विंशकारैर्वेदितव्यः. These six are svabhāva, pudgala, prabhāva, upāya, and two others which are not legible. Ends 10b.

Chap. 7 (10b) treats apparently of bodhi. This is described as dvividha, but the further definition is nearly obliterated.

The final title is lost.

Chap. 8 ends व० आ० बलगोत्रपटलं । ४७b.

Then follows the introductory verse of ch. 9, which is on the first pāramitā, dāna :

उदानं* ॥ स्वभावं चैव सर्वं च दुष्करं सर्वतो मुखं [I]

स्यात्सात्पर्ययुक्तं च सत्त्वाकारं तथैव च [II]

विधाधिकतं† च इहामुत्र सुखं तथा

विशुद्धं बोधिसत्त्वानां दानमेतत्समासतः ॥

These, we are told, are the nine kinds of dāna (leaf ४७b).

The bodhisattva must practise this and the five other pāramitās. The chapter ends ५६a.

Chaps. 10—14 accordingly treat of the other pāramitās, the same uddāna being repeated or cited at the beginning of each.

Chap. 10 शीलपटलं, ends ६६b.

„ 11 ज्ञातिप० „ (82b).

„ 12 वीर्यप० „ ८२.

„ 13 ध्यानप० „ ८४b.

„ 14 प्रज्ञाप० „ ८६b.

Chap. 15, the title of which is lost, begins on the same leaf with the query कतमा बोधिसत्त्वानां प्रियावादितास्वभावः ?

Chap. 16 पूजासेवाप्रमाणपटलं ends ९७a.

Chap. 17 begins with an uddāna and a question, as follows, on shame or remorse :

ह्रीरत्यखेदना (?) चैव शास्त्रलोकज्ञता तथा

सम्यक् स्यात्प्रतिमाणं तथैव प्रतिसंविदः [I]

संभारो बोधिपक्ष्याश्च शमयश्च विपश्यता

उपायकुशलत्वं च धारणीप्रणिधानता

समाधयस्त्वयो ज्ञेया धर्मीदानचतुष्टयम् ॥

* For the form cf. B. and R. s.v. उदान.

† विद्यानार्थिक seems to be the right reading from what follows.

इति तत्र कतमद्बोधिसत्त्वानां द्वेयं तत्समाप्तौ द्विविधं
वेदितव्यं स्वभावतश्चाधिष्ठानतश्च अवद्यसमुदाचारे आत्मन एव
प्रतिज्ञायतां विदित्वा बोधिसत्त्वस्य लज्जा ह्रीः ।

Ends: ब० आ० सप्तद० बोधिपक्ष्यप० (१०६b).

Chap. 18 begins with the following uddāna :

आश्चर्यं चाप्यनाश्चर्यं समचित्तोपकारिता
प्रतिकारस्तथा शान्तः स्यादबंधप्रयोगता (?) ॥

The chapter and section end thus :

बोधिसत्त्वभूमावाधारयोगस्थाने बोधिसत्त्वगुणपटलमष्टादशमं
समाप्तं । समाप्तमाधारं योगस्थानं (११५) b.

II. ĀDHĀRA-DHARMA or ĀDHĀRĀNUDHARMA YOGASTHĀNA.

Chap. 1 begins with the uddāna :

स्वभाव अधिष्ठानं फलानुशंस अनुक्रमसंग्रहतश्च ॥

Ends :

बोधसं आधारे धर्मयोगस्थाने प्रथमं बोधिसत्त्वलिङ्गपटलं ॥
११६b.

Chap. 2. Uddāna :

सुकृतकर्मांतता कौशलपरिग्रहपरिणामनं (?) च पश्चिमं

Ends: ब० अ० द्वि० पक्ष्यप० ११७a.

Chap. 3. The uddāna (which is somewhat indistinct) and the opening sentences describe vātsalya in its seven forms.

These are: अभयं युक्तमखेदमयाचितं अनामिश्रं विस्तिणं (sic)
[i. e., from what follows, विस्तीर्णं].

Ends: ब० आधारानुधर्मं त्रि० अध्याशयप० १२०b.

Chap. 4. Uddāna :

गोत्रं तथाधिमुक्तिश्च प्रमुदितो ऽधिशीलाधिचित्तं त्रयः
प्रज्ञा द्वे आनिमित्तं (sic) साभोगश्च अनाभोगश्च प्रतिसंविदश्च
परमश्च स्यात्तथागतीत्तमो विहारः ॥

This summarises the twelve vihāras of the bodhisattva, which form the subject of the chapter.

The chapter and section end :

ब० आधारानुधर्मयोगस्थाने विहारपटलं चतुर्थं द्वितीयं योगस्थानं ॥ १३४b.

III. ĀDHĀRA-NISHṬHA YOGASTHĀNA.

Chap. 1 ends :

ब० आधारनिष्ठयोगस्थाने प्रथममुपपत्तिपटलं ॥ १३५b.

Chap. 2 briefly treats of parigraha, which is said to be six-fold : sakṛitsatvasatva-parigraha (?), ādhipatya-p°, udādāna-p°, dirghakālīka, adīrghakālīka, and carama.

Ends : ब० आ० द्वि० विहारप० : १३६.

Chap. 3.

एषु+यथावणितेषु+ [corr. °वर्ण०] त्रयोदशसु विहारेषु, अत्र गताः सप्त भूमयो वेदितव्याः षड् बोधिसत्वभूमयः, एकाञ्चामि-

चर्याप्रतिपत्तिभूमिः (and so on, through the vihāras and bhūmis).

Ends :

आधारयोगस्थाने तृतीयं भूमिप० 130a.

Chap. 4. On caryā ; begins with a division of the subject under four heads, pāramitā-caryā, bodhipakṣa-c°, abhiññā-c° and satvapari-pākac°.

The chapter ends :

आधारनिष्ठयागस्थाने चतुर्थं चर्याप० । १३८a.

Of chap. 5 the title is lost ; it commences with a brief reference to some of the chief categories : the 32 Mahāpurushalakṣaṇāni, etc.

Chap. 6 ends :

बोधि० आधारनिष्ठयोगस्थाने प्रतिष्ठापटलं समाप्तं । 44a.

Then follows a summary of the progress of the bodhisattva and of the work (the leaf is unfortunately much faded) :

तत्रायं बोधिसत्वभूमावनुत्तमः [1] गोत्रस्थो बोधिसत्त्वो
ऽनुत्तरायां सम्यक्संबोधिचित्तमुत्पादयति, उत्पादितचित्तः
स्वपरार्थं प्रयुज्यते [44b] प्रयुज्यमानः असंक्लेश... लभते, असंक्लिष्टः
अखेदीपायं लभते, अखिन्नः कुशलमूलं लभते, कुशलमूलै...
ानुत्तरां सम्यक्संबोधिमभिसंबुध्यते ।

The next two lines tell how he gains adhimukti and imparts it (saṃdādayati, sic) to others: he gains freedom from the sorrow of fresh births (saṃsāraduḥkhāparikheda), becomes skilled in the śāstras; then after completing the puṇyasambhāra and jñānasambhāra, धर्मभावनायां प्रयुज्यते (line 6), and thus महायानपरिनिर्वाणं परिणमयति। आवकप्रत्येकबुद्धयानपरिनिर्वाणेनाथोपायकुशलः सर्वबोधिसत्वभूमि...

What immediately follows is mostly obliterated, but in the last line of this page and the beginning of the first line of the next (the final) leaf, we read :

आत्मनः परेषां च विपर्ययाभाभिमानप्रहाणाय प्रतिपन्नो भवति ।

In line 3 we find :

प्रतिपत्तिगुणविशेषः तत्रानुशंसगुणविशेषः बोधिसदा(?) व्याकरणं लभते; below, सर्वसत्त्वाग्रप्रज्ञाप्तिषु प्रज्ञायते सर्वकृत्यानि च न परिहायति; by various forms of kuṣala one becomes finally महायानसंग्राहकः (line 6). Of the following lines little connected sense can be made.

The work ends as follows :

तथा पराक्तमणः निष्ठाप्रतिष्ठां प्रतिलभते यत उत्तरिभूयो(?) न पयेषते(?) अनुत्तर[र]यं प्राप्तः बो[धिसत्वभू]*मेरनुक्रमः प्राप्तः ॥ समाप्ता च बोधिसत्वभूमिः ॥

From this necessarily very imperfect outline it will appear that the work is important for the vinaya, and to some extent for the abhidharma, of the Northern School. Several, though by no means all, of the numerous categories appear in the Pali works as known to us through Childers and Dr Oldenberg.

* These letters I supply by conjecture, the leaf being broken.

Add. 1703.

Palm-leaf; 125 leaves, 6 lines, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.; dated N. S. 549 (A.D. 1429).

VAJRĀVALĪ by ABHAYĀKARAGUPTA.

Good Nepalese hand. Written by Jivayībhadrā.

The work is a treatise on magic and ritual, styling itself a "maṇḍalopāyikā" (see below), and divided into short "vidhis" e.g., प्रतिमाविधि: 6b, अर्थादिदानलक्षणविधि: 7b, पूर्वसेवाप्रयोजविधि: 8b.

Begins : नमः श्रीवज्रसत्त्वाय । वन्दे कुलिशेश्वरं

Ends : घण्टालक्षणादिविधिः followed by several verses beginning :

इति परममुनीनां वागुदन्वत्यगाधे ।

श्रुतमपि न परीयुः केपि केऽपि श्रवन्ते ॥

After which :

महापन्दिता (sic) अभयाकरगुप्त-विरचिता वज्रावली नाम मण्डलोपायिका समाप्तः । ये धर्म० । सं ५४७ भाद्रपद शुक्लः पञ्चम्याया (sic) तिथौ विशाषणक्षत्रे शनिचर वासरे राज० जयजन्मलदेवस्य विजयराज्ये लिखित श्री माणिकलकेः उत्रविहारे श्रीहर्षवर्णमहाविहारावस्थितभिक्षु श्रीजिवयीभद्रेण स्वहस्तेन लिखितं । जथा दृष्टं etc. ॥

Add. 1704.

Palm-leaf, with some paper supply; originally 83 leaves, 4—5 lines, 12×2 in.; Nepalese hand of the xith cent., with some later additions.

CATUHPIṬHA-TANTRA.

Leaves 81 and 82 are lost. 83 and part of 80 are xvith cent. paper supply. There are occasional corrections in the hooked-top hand of the xii—xiii cent.

The work is undoubtedly the original of that described by Csoma as existing in Rgyut iv. 6 (see now Ann. du Musée Guimet, ii. 297).

The first leaf is faded. The work consists of 5 prakaraṇas, subdivided into paṭalas, which end as follows (corresponding to the four pūthas together with an introduction):

इति प्रथमप्रकरण समाप्त ॥ 8b.

इति प्रकरण आत्मपीठ समाप्त ॥ 17.

इति प्रकरण परपीठ समाप्त ॥ 39.

इ० प्र० योगपीठ स० ॥ 59b.

The final title is nearly obliterated, but we find from the subordinate paṭalas that the title of the last prakaraṇa was गुह्यपीठ, whence the supposed title of the whole work as given in Dr D. Wright's list. The real title (see also the Tibetan) may be just discerned on the back of leaf 1.

At the end is a leaf containing, on one side only, 4½ lines of Nepalese writing of the XIII—XIVth cent. The title is ज्ञानवाग (?) - सेकप्रक्रिया. The fragment is in *śloka*s, and apparently discusses the relations of impregnation and hereditary knowledge. It begins:

...दि बुद्धे ।

कामकी ऽपि विरागन्न कामशास्त्रं समीक्षते ॥

Ends: सुखतिच्च (?) तथा चित्तं दुःखत्वं नानुगच्छति ।

Add. 1705.

Palm-leaf; 35 leaves, 8 lines, 12 × 2 in.; XIIIth cent.

ANANDADATTA'S Commentary on part of the CĀNDRAVYĀKARAṆA (II. i).

For the text, which is here given only in abbreviations, see Add. MS. 1691. 4, leaves 9—11.

Add. MS. 1657. 2 (q. v.) is a fragment of this same portion of commentary. There are numerous citations from Jayāditya, the compiler of the Kāṣika-vṛitti; v. 7b, 8a, 10a, 11b ("Jayādityādih"). Jinendra is cited 10a, l. 3; and 'Bhāṣhyakāra' (Patañjali?), 9a, 18b: also 'Ācārya' Pāṇini, 26a, 28b fin.

The commentary on the first sūtra, which extends over seven leaves, begins thus (after invocation to Buddha):

स्त्री ॥ स्वादि सनदायः प्रथमात्तं पदां षष्ठ्यात्तु स्वा । प्रति
त्रिकं वा प्रथमात्तं पदमित (1. ति०) त्रयः यक्षाः संभवन्ति ।
तत्र विभक्तिरत एव निर्देशप्रमाण्यात् । न त्वेवानेनैव स्वतः
प्रकृतिविधिभावादित्यर्थः ।

A comparison of Add. 1657. 2 shows that a line or two is missing at the end.

Add. 1706.

A collection of palm-leaf fragments and volumes of works chiefly on ritual, the construction of images, etc. All originally about $11\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ in.

I. 4 leaves, 5 lines, $7 \times 1\frac{1}{2}$ in.; dated N. S. 381, middle figure doubtful (A. D. 1261).

KHAṬGA-PŪJĀVIDHI.

A short treatise in verse on the use of arms, etc. Tantric or Ćivaic.

Begins :

नमः श्रीत्रैलोक्यविजयाय ॥

यो जन्तुं स्थानभावात्प्रबलरिपुगणग्रामणी वीरलक्ष्मीं घण्टा-
ब्जासिं त्रिसूलाशनिशरधनुचापखड्गपाशं दधानं । चन्द्रापी-
डेश्वरत्वं प्रमदगिरिसुतामर्दयत्पादलीलः पापात्रैलोक्य[वीरो]- विजयगुणकलासि द्विपूर्णा भवन्तं ॥

The same metre seems to be continued throughout the work.

Ends :

खड्गपूजाविधि समाप्तः । समाप्तः ३८१ (?) अश्विनि [?] शम्यां
तिथौ अञ्जार (?) दिने लिखितमिति । राजाद्विराजप्रमेश्वर
(sic) श्री [?] ह मालदेवकारित । श्वके वेहारश्रीभिर्भु देव-
मना लिखित ।

II. PRATIMĀLAKṢHAṆAM, from VARĀHAMIHIRA'S

BṚHATSAMHITĀ.

[Non-Buddhistic].

III. 7 leaves, 5 lines, 8 × 2 in.; XIIIth cent.

BUDDHA-PRATIMĀLAKṢHAṆAM.

A short treatise in two parts on images of Buddha, probably more or less in imitation of Varāhamihira's work just noticed.

The work is in regular sūtra-form, beginning :

नमः सर्वज्ञाय ॥ एवं मया श्रुतं...

Çāriputra enquires thus of Bhagavān :

भगवन् भगवता विना आद्वैः कुलपुत्रैः कथं प्रतिपत्तव्यं ।

To which the reply is :

मयि गते परिनिवृत्ते वा । न्यग्रोधपरिमण्डलं यावत्कायं
तावत् व्योमं यावद्व्योमं तावत्कायं । पूजासत्कारार्थं प्रतिमा
कारयितव्या

The rest of the work discusses the dimensions, pose, etc., of the various members of the images, ending thus :

एतानि च समस्तानि लक्षणानि विचक्षणः ।

अत्यन्तशान्तकायार्थं यथाशौभं प्रकल्पयेत् ॥

इदमवीचत् etc. ... अभ्यनन्दन्निति ॥ सम्यक्सम्बुद्धभाषितं
बुद्धप्रतिमालक्षणं समाप्तं ॥

IV. Dimensions, writing, etc., same as No. III; originally 17 leaves.

PRATIMĀLAKṢHAṆAVIVARAṆAM.

A commentary on the last work.

Begins :

नमो बुद्धाय । कायद्वयानुजं जैनं कायं नत्वा ऽयं लिख्यते ।

विवरणं यथाशक्ति तत्प्रणीतात्मलक्षणे ॥

कथं प्रतिपत्तव्यमिति । भगवतो रूपं ॥ उपचरितावयवप्र-माणं ॥

Ends :

इति संबुद्धभाषितप्रतिमालक्षणविवरणं समाप्तं ॥ सम्वत्....
(f. 17 wanting).

V. Dimensions and writing as before ; 23 leaves.

Part of a COMMENTARY on a work similar to the two last.

Leaf 1 missing ; leaf 2 mutilated, and much obliterated on the outside. Leaf 19 is numbered 29 by mistake. Compare also No. VIII.

The Buddhistic character of the work is determined by several passages, e. g. 19a, l. 4 :

अतस्तावद्भगवतो बुद्धस्य श्रीसम्बरस्य लक्षणं ।

The main work ends thus :

सौम्येत्यादि । या देवता यद्रसप्रधाना सा तथैवालेख्या न तु विपर्यय इत्यभिप्रायः ॥ त्रिंशत्तपटलव्याख्या ॥ इति लक्षण-मिति ॥

After a break, there follows on the next leaf (23) a short appendix on the pinḍikā or pedestal of the image beginning : इदानीम्विण्डिकालक्षणमभिधीयते ॥ and ending (without colophon) शुभतिथि नक्षत्रवारवेलासु देवमनुष्ययोर्मध्ये पिण्डिका स्थापयेदिति ॥

VI. Dimensions and writing as above ; 13 leaves.

A work on the dimensions of CAITYAS and of IMAGES.

The first few leaves are mutilated on the right hand edges. Leaves 8 and 9 are wanting.

Text begins (without invocation) :

चैत्यस्य नवविभागिककोष्ठानि तथैव तत्र भागिकमानदीर्घ व्यायामकं तु ... [hiatus] ... विरसवाणार्द्धकाभागं व्यायाममथ यथाक्रमः । कृत्रावलीकरण्डावैद[ि] ... त्रिकोष्ठेन ॥

At 3a the second part of the work, on images, begins thus :

इदानीं प्रतिमास्थापनाय तल्लक्षणमुच्यते । तत्र सर्वा सा प्रतिमाणां द्वादशमात्रिकं मुखं तत्तुल्यं व्यायामं ।

Leaves 10—13 contain little but measurements, in figures, of various images, with subscriptions such as : इति बुद्धब्रह्मचर्चिका ऋषिब्रह्मराक्षसानां दशतालप्रमाण ॥ (11a) ; इति षट्ताल सेनापतिलक्षणम् (12) ॥ ;

The work ends :

इति चतुस्ताललक्षणं महाकालस्य ॥ मुखमात्रा १२ देहमा-
त्रा १२ ऊरुजानुजंघानां मात्रा १२ । इति ... ति ताललक्षण
विनायकस्य ॥

VII. 2 leaves, same size as the preceding; writing somewhat later and less accurate.

Fragment of a work on MEASUREMENTS, similar to the preceding.

Begins :

नमः सर्वज्ञाय ॥ धर्मधातूनां लक्षणमभिधीयते । तत्र ध्या-
न्याकृते द्वात्रिंशन्महापुरुषलक्षणविशुद्ध्या द्वात्रिंशतमात्रिकप्रमा- तो वेदिकायां विस्ताविस्तारः (sic) ।

As several abstract objects of veneration are mentioned in connection with measurements, we may possibly suppose the work to treat of temple-inscriptions or of personifications of these objects.

Thus at 2a we read विस्तारस्तु चतुरार्यसत्यविशुद्ध्या चतु[र्]- मात्रिक. Ends abruptly.

VIII. 22 leaves.

A somewhat later but complete copy of the work described under No. V.

Begins :

नमः श्रीचक्रसम्बराय । अथ पुण्यज्ञानसम्भारकारणं विपर्यये
दृष्टादृष्टदोषहेतुः यद्वक्ष्यति त्रीणि दीर्घित्यादि । अन्य चा-
पि । प्रतिमालक्षणे युक्ता शान्तादिर[स]संयुता ।

After the ending °लक्षणमिति, as in No. V., we find the verse :

सर्वज्ञज्ञानसन्दीह (?) जगदर्थः प्रसादकं ।
चिन्तामणिरिवोत[ा]भूत् श्रीशम्बर नमो ऽस्तु ते ॥

IX. 7 leaves, 5 lines; writing similar to that of No. I.

ÇAMBARA-PAÑJIKĀ.

A short manual on the ritual or worship of Çambara. It consists chiefly of invocations and the like.

Begins :

नमस्तारायै । ओं ह्रीः स्वाहा । हस्तादिप्रचालन । ऊ
ओः हं ।

Ends :

सम्बरा (sic) पञ्चिकेयं समाप्तं । सर्वज्ञमित्रपादानां य (?) गुरु
परंपरा ता । ममादि सर्वसत्त्वरासि निसामसत्त्व (?) ।

Add. 1708.

I. Palm-leaf; originally 115 leaves (see below), 5—7 lines, 12 × 2 in.; on the date see below.

NĀMA-SAṄGĪTĪ-TĪKĀ by VILĀSAVAJRA (?).

Leaves 4, 5, 8, 9, 19—22, 26, 42, 43, 47, 49, 50, 59, 63, 80, 91, 92, 94, 97, 99, 109, 110, 112—3 are missing.

The pages are numbered with figures only.

This is apparently a different commentary from R. A. S. Cat.,
No. 35, though several chapters partly correspond. It consists of 12 adhikāras. The number of sections in each is in several cases indicated by numerals, as shown below.

The work begins : आर्यमञ्जुश्रियन्त्रवा ...

Then, 3 lines lower, seems to follow a table or summary of contents :

अथेदानीमस्या नामसंगीतिः शरीरव्यवस्थापनमभिधीयते ॥
तद्यथा अध्येषणा प्रतिवचनं ... (see colophons of Add. 1323).

On 2a this summary is further explained; e.g. (l. 1) इति
षोडशभिर्गाथाभिरध्ये[ष]णा and (l. 3) इति तिसृभिर्गा- थाभिर्मायाजाला° (see Add. 1323).

(The end of Ch. 1 appears to be missing with the missing leaves.)

2 ends आर्यनामसङ्गीतिटीकायान्नाम मन्त्रार्थावलोकित्या- मप्रतिवचनाधिकारः द्वितीयः । 10b—11.

3. आर्यना° मन्त्र° न्यां षट्कुलावलोकनाधिकारस्तृतीयः । 11b.

4. (Title apparently missing.)

5. आ० म० बोधिचित्तवज्रस्य वज्रधातुमहामण्डलाधिकारः
पञ्चमः । 30b.

6 (?). ॥ १८१ ॥ आ० म० शु[ल. सु]विशुद्धधर्मधातुज्ञानसु-
त्यधिकार [षष्ट] (?) 54b.

7. ॥ ७१ ॥ आ० म० आदर्शज्ञानस्वभावसुतेरधिकारः

8. ॥ २१५ ॥ आर्य म० प्रत्यवेक्षणाज्ञानमुखेन सुत्यधिकारो

9. आ० म० समताज्ञानस्वभावेन सुत्यधि० नवमः । 95b.

11. आ० म० उपसंहारसुत्यधिकार एकदशतमः परिसमा-
प्तः । 102b—103.

The last leaf but one (114) is mutilated ; what remains of the colophon runs as follows :

आर्यनामसङ्गीतिटीकायां नाम मन्त्रार्थावलीकिन्यामुपसंहा-
राधिका समाप्तः ॥

Then a verse in praise of the study of the work ; after which :

आर्यनाम[सङ्गी]तिटीका समाप्ता । ग्रन्थप्रमाणमस्याः

सिनः । श्रीमद्य ाग्निनेयस्य प्र.... ि.... श्वरूपाभिधानस्य ॥

सुविपुलं श्रीसर्वमित्रेण तु पत्य-.... ार्जितं च निखिलो लोको
ऽस्तु बुद्धसुतः ॥

If the first member of the partly mutilated compound word expressing the figures of the year stands for açva, the date is N. S.
5 (ishu) 7 (mahādhara) 7 (açva) or A. D. 1457.

II. Palm-leaf ; 2 leaves, 6 lines, 12 × 2 in.

Fragment of the NĀMA-SAṄGĪTĪ (text).

A different hand from the last, perhaps slightly earlier. The pages are numbered with letters and figures.

Begins as Add. 1323.

III. Palm-leaf; 4 leaves, 5 lines, 12×2 in.; xv-xvith cent.

Fragment of a BUDDHIST TANTRA.

The leaves are numbered 2, 4, 6, 7.

There are no regular titles or subscriptions. On 2a, l. 4, we find :

वज्रसव नमोऽस्तु ते। इति पठित्वा घण्टा वादयेत्।

On 6b something is said on the favourite tantric subject of the mystical value of the letters.

The fragment ends abruptly with the words :

दृशानकोष्ठे चन्द्रमण्डली परिताकारबीजेन नीलीत्यलं
तत परिण

Add. 1952.

Paper; 184 leaves, 9 lines, $11 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.; recent Devanāgarī hand.

VAMÇĀVALĪ (PARBATIYĀ).

Translated by Dr D. Wright and munshī Shew Shunker Singh, and published at Cambridge, 1877.

Begins :

। नमो रत्नत्रयाय ।

ज्योतीरूपं महाबुद्धं गुह्यदेवीं निरञ्जनीं ।

ज्योतीरूपं महादेवं श्रीगणेशं नमाम्यहं ॥

अनेकपूर्ववृत्तांतं श्रुत्वा दृष्ट्वा यथाक्रमं ।

नेपालिकानां भूपानां वंशावली प्रलिख्यते (i.e. °ख्यते) ॥

Then the Parbatīyā text :

आदिप्रकाशभयाकाजोसच्चित्तरूपबुद्धवाट उत्पत्तिभयाका °

SUPPLEMENTARY NOTE TO ADD. 1586.

As this work seems to have gained some note in its various redactions and versions in the several parts of the Buddhist world, the following additional notice may be of interest. After a long description of the scenery of the dialogue, followed (2b-3b) by gāthās and expressions of homage addressed by Rāshṭrapāla to the Buddha, at 3b, line 8, the following question is reached:

कतमैर्भगवन् धर्मैः समन्वागतो बोधिसत्त्वो महासत्त्वो गुण-
विशेषतामनुप्राप्नोति। पराधीनधर्मतां च प्रतिलभते आशुप्र-
ज्ञतां चानुप्राप्नोति विनिश्चयप्रतिभानतां च प्रतिलभते सर्वज्ञता-
प्रवेशं सत्त्वपरिपाकं विमतिप्रहाणं कांचप्रहाणं सर्वज्ञताविनिश्चयं
प्रतिलभते।

In the pages following, several categories of dharmas occur, which may be compared with those referred to in the index to Burnouf's Lotus, s. v. quatre.

अभयाध्याशयप्रतिपत्त्या सर्वसत्त्वसमचित्ततया शून्यताभा-
वनतया यथावादितयाकारितया। एभी राष्ट्रपाल चतुर्भिर्धर्मैः
समन्वागतो बोधिसत्त्वो महासत्त्वलतां परिशुद्धिं प्रतिलभते। 4a.

The four açvāsapratilābhā dharmāḥ are dhāraṇī-pratilābha, kalyāṇamītrapr°, gambhīradharmakshāntipr°, pariçuddhaçīlasamā-cāratā (4b, l. 5). Similarly we have, at line 10, the four prītikaraṇā dharmāḥ; and (5a) ananutāpakaraṇā dh° (buddhadarçanaṃ, anuloma-dharmaçravaṇaṃ, sarvasvaparityāgaḥ, anupalambhadharmakshāntiḥ).

Next follow the various groups of hindrances to the bodhisattva. The four kinds of prapāta, (apparently = 'moral declension,' though the word is not found in this sense) viz., agauravatā, akṛitajñatā *çathiyasevanatā, lābhasatkarādhyavasānaṃ, kuhanalapanatayā lābha-satkarānutpādanaṃ (6a).

The four bodhiparipanthakārakā dharmāḥ are açradadhānatā, kausīdyaṃ, mānaḥ, parapushṭeṣhyā mātsaryaṃ (6b).

At 7a, l. 2, we find :

पापमित्रं ... उपलभ्यदृष्टकः ... सद्धर्मप्रतिक्षेपकः आमिष-

* From the form of the passage these two seem to count as one quality, though the reason is not clear to me.

लोलुपः ... इमे राष्ट्रपाल चत्वारः पुङ्गला बोधिसत्वेन न सेवि-
तव्याः; and ibid. l. 9: ज्ञानेनाभिमन्युतया ईर्ष्या मात्सर्यचित्तं
अनधिमुक्तिः अपरिशुद्धज्ञानज्ञान्तिसंभोगपर्यष्टिः ... इमे बो-
धिसं च° दुःखविपाका धर्माः ।

Finally, the four bandhanāni are parātimanyutā, laukikenopāyena bhāvanatā prayoganimittasamjñā, anigrihitacittasya jñānavirahitasya pramādasevanatā, and pratibaddhacittasya kulasaṁstavah.

At 11a, l. 2, occurs the subscription निदानपरिवर्त्तः समाप्तः ॥

The second division of the work then begins :

यद्भूयसा राष्ट्रपाल बोधिसत्त्वयानीयानां पुङ्गलानामिमे दोषा
भविष्यन्ति ।

The book concludes with a tale about a bodhisattva, the hero being a certain Puṇyaraçmi, which ends at 19b, where the Buddha thus sums up :

अहं स तेन कालेन तेन समयेन पुण्यरश्मिर्नाम राजकुमारो
ऽभूत् ॥

On the last page Rāṣṭrapāla enquires :

किं नाम भगवन् धर्मपर्यायः कथं चैनं धारयामि ?

To which the Buddha replies :

अमोघप्रतिज्ञाविशुद्धमिति धारय । सत्पुरुषविकीर्तितमिति
धारय अर्थपारिपरीं च नाम धारय ॥ ।

GENERAL INDEX.

The spaced type and thick figures denote references already given in Index I. This Index does not include the names of those kings of Nepal and Bengal that are given in the Tables at pp. xii—xvi. Sanskrit words, used in a technical sense or otherwise of interest or importance, are given in italics, where these occur as chapter titles, (t) has been added. To obviate the necessity of separate indices, several general headings have been made, the chief of which are : Avadānas, Dhāraṇīs, Inscriptions, Jātakas, Kathās (tales), Scribes (and their patrons), and Vihāras.
